By ARTHUR BRISBANE

[The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.]

SWEDISH and Dutch companies will work iron mines in north Africa, containing marvelously pure iron, and a low percentage of phosphorous.

Plenty of water power goes to waste in Africa, and electric power, according to a recent announcement, can now be carried one thousand miles. If the Swedes and Dutchmen can connect their African iron mines with cheap electric power and manufacture it by the new electric process, they may cause those learned gentlemen, Gary, Farrell, Schwab and Grace, to think hard and ask for a higher tariff.

However, American steel concerns are already buying iron in Brazil and many other places, and "sewing up" electric power. They will probably manage to keep ahead.

The common stock of the big steel company is declared by experts to have a book value of $219 a share and to be earning above 12 per cent net. That's the stock that the hasty Mr. Carnegie called "pure air, not even water, and one that will never be worth anything," when he refused to take a lot of it for nothing. You never can tell about values in the United States.

"O a gathering of New England business men, Secretary Hoover gave a clear, convincing outline of the St. Lawrence shipway project.

A comparatively simple engineering plan, it will have greater importance than the construction of the Panama canal. The only difficulties in the way are political difficulties the necessity of a working arrangement between Canada and the United States, territory of both nations being used in the canal work.

The building of the canal would create five million horsepower, which would be fairly divided among Canada, New York state and New England, and, in the long run, pay for the canal many times.

It would be an interesting comment on our home methods, and senatorial dignity if Canada and the United States should manage to build the St. Lawrence shipway, opening the lakes to the ocean, while the United States still talks about developing its own Colorado river power.

IN CANADA, E. V. Sterry, an Englishman, is sentenced to 60 days in jail for blasphemy.

ADMITS QUARREL

Victim, Philadelphian, Was Burlesque Show Member.

ERIE, Pa., March 18.—Virginia Gibney, Philadelphia chorus girl in a [illegible] by [illegible] which closed in [illegible] here last night, was found strangled to death in her room in a hotel here early today, police reported.

Police arrested K. H. Bechtel, 25, of Buffalo, and lodged him in jail on a murder charge in connection with the case.

Death Follows Party.

Police said Bechtel admitted having quarreled with the actress after their return from a party late last night. Both were guests of the same hotel, where Bechtel was arrested shortly after the actress' body was found, scantily clad, in her room.

Bechtel said he came to Erie from Buffalo on business, according to police, and met the actress through a bell boy at the hotel.

Two Others Held.

Coroner John Hanley ordered D. J. O'Donnell, Pittsburgh steel salesman who was in the party, to be held at 10 a. m.

Kenneth Gamble, bell boy in the hotel where the quarrel took place, was also arrested and is held on an open charge.

Police said there were several persons at the party which started after the show closed last night, and that the alleged quarrel came after the party disbanded, each going to his room in the hotel.

The chorus girl, who joined the company in Philadelphia, was found lying across the bed in her room, and shortly after Bechtel was arrested in his room, adjoining. Theatre attaches gave the victim's age as 40.

J. A. Hendrickson, 72, Potter, Dies In Salem Hospital

John A. Hendrickson, 72, potter, former resident of East Liverpool, died yesterday afternoon in the Salem hospital.

He is survived by two sons and three daughters: S. E. Hendrickson, Beaver, Pa.; John Hendrickson, Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. C. M. Humason, Beaver, Pa.; Mrs. A. E. Stahl and Mrs. T. J. Pugh, Chester, and the following brothers and sisters: Edward Hendrickson, Columbus; William Hendrickson, East Liverpool; Mrs. Melvin Click, Detroit; Mrs. Robert McElravey, Coraopolis, Pa., and Mrs. Arthur Graham, Chester.

Funeral services will be held at 3:30 tomorrow afternoon in the Miller funeral home, West Sixth street, in charge of Rev. A. E. Sims, pastor of the Chester Christian church. Burial will be made in Spring Grove cemetery.

Friends may view the body tonight from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Mount Vesuvius, in Eruption, Shoots Fountains of Liquid Fire

Frequent Explosions, Believed Due to Sinking of Crater, Occur, But Observatory Says There is no Danger.

NAPLES, March 18.—Mount Vesuvius is in eruption today.

Frequent explosions accompanied the belching of flames.

The officials of the observatory state there is no danger to either tourists or inhabitants of the slopes of Vesuvius, but the peasant folk are apprehensive as they always are when the volcano is in eruption.

U. S. Board Hits Ford's Railroad Merger Proposal

WASHINGTON, March 18. — Henry Ford lost a case before the interstate commerce commission today.

The automobile magnate's plans for a consolidation of his railroad, the Detroit & Ironton, with the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton, through acquisition of stock, were rejected by the commission as being "not compatible with the public interest."

AUTO AND TRUCK REPORTED STOLEN

Two motor vehicles—a pleasure car and a truck—were stolen from their parking places on the streets, police were advised today.

The truck, a Ford, was the property of Vance Andrews, Bradshaw avenue. The machine, which carried license number T-94-493, had been parked in front of the Andrews home at 610 Jefferson street.

An Overland touring car, owned by Ray Henderson, Palissey street, was taken while parked in Jackson street between Fifth and Sixth streets. The license number was 387-287.

Canton Attorneys Appointed to Defend Former Detective

CANTON, O., March 18.—Judge A. W. Agler today appointed Attorneys J. H. Robertson and Frank T. Bow, both of Canton, to represent Floyd Streitenberger, former Canton detective, awaiting arraignment here on a first degree murder charge in connection with the killing of Don R. Mellett, Canton publisher, July 16, last.

Streitenberger will probably be arraigned next Monday, it was stated

Gov. H. L. Whitfield Of Mississippi Dies in Jackson

'SAFE AND SANE' FOURTH PLAN IS APPROVED BY 4 TO 3 VOTE

TEST SENTIMENT

Future Action Dependent Upon Attitude of Public.

By a vote of 4 to 3, city council, last night, placed on first reading an ordinance prohibiting the sale and use of fireworks in East Liverpool. Solons Thomas Farrall, Charles Hayes, W. H. Kelly and L. M. Poole supported the measure, while George Hughes, Clyde Goodballet and Otto Kommel voted against it.

The proposal, which was tabled two weeks ago, was revived by Farrall, who charged that fellow members failed to show him courtesy to have the measure read at the previous session.

"Let's place this measure on first reading to ascertain sentiment," Farrall urged. "In two weeks we can then pass it on second or third readings or reject it. The people should be permitted to express themselves on the question of a 'safe and sane' Fourth."

O. K. Annexation.

Goodballet charged that "previous administrations" had made a "fizzle" out of efforts to stop the sale and use of fireworks and that the matter should [illegible] 30 days passed to the next administration [illegible] Farrall denied that legislation [illegible] to stop the sale and use of pyro[illegible]ics had ever been considered by council. Hayes also expressed the opinion that the people should be given an opportunity to say whether they wanted this measure enacted.

A motion to suspend the rules in order to pass it on second reading was lost for the lack of the necessary two-thirds vote, the line-up being the same as for consideration.

An ordinance approving the annexation of [illegible] approximately 560 acres of land north [illegible] the municipality, approved by the city commissioners and common [illegible]urt was passed on three readings under suspension of the rules [illegible]pt of the court's decision [illegible] a part of the records.

Ordinance Enacted.

Twelve other ordinances had resolutions were enacted. They were:

Ordinance establishing the grade lines on Perry avenue, Belmar street, Idaho and Sanford streets; resolution adjusting special assessments for sewer improvements against certain East End property; ordinance determining to proceed with improvement of Spring Grove avenue; resolution authorizing the service director to seek bids for purchase of motor truck for water works department; ordinance declaring it necessary to grade and pave Thompson avenue through Watson avenue to Vine street; ordinance declaring it necessary to sewer Sutton alley; ordinance authorizing the service director to pay approximately $3,173.47 in debts alleged to have been contracted by a former administration; ordinance to sewer Erie and Dewey streets, East End; resolution declaring it necessary to transfer $200 from the maintenance and repair fund to the street repair fund to meet the city's share in teh Middle alley improvement.

Another resolution declaring the city's intention to start condemnation proceedings against property owned by John Brookes, Dresden avenue florist, needed in the Dresden avenue improvement, was unanimously rejected on third reading after being passed on first and second readings. Councilman Hayes reported that Brookes had priced .88 of an acre at $3,500. This land, he claimed, was on the tax duplicate at $600 per acre.

Another resolution prohibiting the parking of vehicles in Crook alley,

FALL OF SHANGHAI LOOMS AS CANTONESE CAPTURE WUKIANG AND LISHUI AND CLOSE IN UPON NANKING WHEN FOE LEADERS DESERT

LONDON, March 18.—The Cantonese have captured Wukiang and Lishui and are now closing in upon Nanking, according to dispatches received here today.

The Daily Telegraph correspondent declares that the Northerners have already begun the evacuation of Nanking.

Nationalists on Verge of Victory.

SHANGHAI, March 18.—The war fortunes of northern China are at a low ebb today and the southern Nationalists appear on the verge of important victories.

Although General Chang Tsung has messaged that he is sending reinforcements to Nanking, the fall of that important center to the Cantonese is imminent as fighting proceeds on all sides. Already there are frequent reports that it has fallen or that it has been cut off from communication.

The Cantonese meanwhile are advancing on Chang-Chow and Sunkiang is in danger of being entirely isolated.

The cost of the Cantonese advance in life is not great, as defections in the Northern troops have resulted in minor resistance in many battles.

HELEN CASH, 15.
MR. AND MRS. JOHN BUCKALEW, of Point View.

The body of little Inez Smith was not found until this morning. She had been missing since her mother and little brother were found crushed to death. Her tiny body was found in the debris of the Smith home.

The death list was swollen when the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Buckalew were brought to Benton from Point View. Five injured were taken to a Benton hospital from the same town.

Several persons were still unaccounted for and the death toll may grow. More than 20 homes were blown away, trees uprooted, houses unroofed.

Klondyke, Mountain View, Collegeville, Wills, Benton and Alexander were struck by the storm, which originated in the south.

All the towns struck are located within a radius of 40 miles of Little Rock. Benton's only damage was a brisk wind and a rain which continued all night.

FALL OF SHANGHAI LOOMS AS CANTONESE CAPTURE WUKIANG AND LISHUI AND CLOSE IN UPON NANKING WHEN FOE LEADERS DESERT

LONDON, March 18.—The Cantonese have captured Wukiang and Lishui and are now closing in upon Nanking, according to dispatches received here today.

The Daily Telegraph correspondent declares that the Northerners have already begun the evacuation of Nanking.

Nationalists on Verge of Victory.

SHANGHAI, March 18.—The war fortunes of northern China are at a low ebb today and the southern Nationalists appear on the verge of important victories.

Although General Chang Tsung has messaged that he is sending reinforcements to Nanking, the fall of that important center to the Cantonese is imminent as fighting proceeds on all sides. Already there are frequent reports that it has fallen or that it has been cut off from communication.

The Cantonese meanwhile are advancing on Chang-Chow and Sunkiang, is in danger of being entirely isolated.

The cost of the Cantonese advance in life is not great, as defections in the Northern troops have resulted in minor resistance in many battles.

10 DEAD, 20 HURT IN TORNADO

CHORUS GIRL IS STRANGLED TO DEATH

Today

New Iron—New Method.
The St. Lawrence Shipway.
Two Good Decisions.
Mad Dogs—Mad Wolves.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

[The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.]

SWEDISH and Dutch companies will work iron mines in north Africa, containing marvelously pure iron, and a low percentage of phosphorous.

Plenty of water power goes to waste in Africa, and electric power, according to a recent announcement, can now be carried one thousand miles. If the Swedes and Dutchmen can connect their African iron mines with cheap electric power and manufacture it by the new electric process, they may cause those learned gentlemen, Gary, Farrell, Schwab and Grace, to think hard and ask for a higher tariff.

However, American steel concerns are already buying iron in Brazil and many other places, and "sewing up" electric power. They will probably manage to keep ahead.

The common stock of the big steel company is declared by experts to have a book value of $219 a share and to be earning above 12 per cent net. That's the stock that the hasty Mr. Carnegie called "pure air, not even water, and one that will never be worth anything," when he refused to take a lot of it for nothing. You never can tell about values in the United States.

To a gathering of New England business men, Secretary Hoover gave a clear, convincing outline of the St. Lawrence shipway project.

A comparatively simple engineering plan, it will have greater importance than the construction of the Panama canal. The only difficulties in the way are political difficulties the necessity of a working arrangement between Canada and the United States, territory of both nations being used in the canal work.

The building of the canal would create five million horsepower, which would be fairly divided among Canada, New York state and New England, and, in the long run, pay for the canal many times.

It would be an interesting comment on our home methods, and senatorial dignity if Canada and the United States should manage to build the St. Lawrence shipway, opening the lakes to the ocean, while the United States still talks about developing its own Colorado river power.

IN CANADA, E. V. Sterry, an Englishman, is sentenced to 60 days in jail for blasphemy.

ADMITS QUARREL

Victim, Philadelphian, Was Burlesque Show Member.

ERIE, Pa., March 18.—Virginia Gibney, Philadelphia chorus girl in a [illegible] which closed in [illegible] here last night, was found strangled to death in her room in a hotel here early today, police reported.

Police arrested K. H. Bechtel, 25, of Buffalo, and lodged him in jail on a murder charge in connection with the case.

Death Follows Party.

Police said Bechtel admitted having quarreled with the actress after their return from a party late last night. Both were guests of the same hotel, where Bechtel was arrested shortly after the actress' body was found, scantily clad, in her room.

Bechtel said he came to Erie from Buffalo on business, according to police, and met the actress through a bell boy at the hotel.

Two Others Held.

Coroner John Hanley ordered D. J. O'Donnell, Pittspurgh steel salesman who was in the party, to be held at 10 a. m.

Kenneth Gamble, bell boy in the hotel where the quarrel took place, was also arrested and is held on an open charge.

Police said there were several persons at the party which started after the show closed last night, and that the alleged quarrel came after the party disbanded, each going to his room in the hotel.

The chorus girl, who joined the company in Philadelphia, was found lying across the bed in her room, and shortly after Bechtel was arrested in his room, adjoining. Theatre attaches gave the victim's age as 40.

J. A. Hendrickson, 72, Potter, Dies In Salem Hospital

John A. Hendrickson, 72, potter, former resident of East Liverpool, died yesterday afternoon in the Salem hospital.

He is survived by two sons and three daughters: S. E. Hendrickson, Beaver, Pa.; John Hendrickson, Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. C. M. Humason, Beaver, Pa.; Mrs. A. E. Stahl and Mrs. T. J. Pugh, Chester, and the following brothers and sisters: Edward Hendrickson, Columbus; William Hendrickson, East Liverpool; Mrs. Melvin Click, Detroit; Mrs. Robert McElravey, Coraopolis, Pa., and Mrs. Arthur Graham, Chester.

Funeral services will be held at 3:30 tomorrow afternoon in the Miller funeral home, West Sixth street, in charge of Rev. A. E. Sims, pastor of the Chester Christian church. Burial will be made in Spring Grove cemetery.

Friends may view the body tonight from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Mount Vesuvius, in Eruption, Shoots Fountains of Liquid Fire

Frequent Explosions, Believed Due to Sinking of Crater, Occur, But Observatory Says There is no Danger.

Frequent explosions accompanied the belching of flames.

The officials of the observatory state there is no danger to either tourists or inhabitants of the slopes of Vesuvius, but the peasant folk are apprehensive as they always are when the volcano is in eruption.

U. S. Board Hits Ford's Railroad Merger Proposal

The automobile magnate's plans for a consolidation of his railroad, the Detroit & Ironton, with the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton, through acquisition of stock, were rejected by the commission as being "not compatible with the public interest."

AUTO AND TRUCK REPORTED STOLEN

Two motor vehicles—a pleasure car and a truck—were stolen from their parking places on the streets, police were advised today.

The truck, a Ford, was the property of Vance Andrews, Bradshaw avenue. The machine, which carried license number T-94-493, had been parked in front of the Andrews home at 610 Jefferson street.

An Overland touring car, owned by Ray Henderson, Palissey street, was taken while parked in Jackson street between Fifth and Sixth streets. The license number was 387-287.

Canton Attorneys Appointed to Defend Former Detective

CANTON, O., March 18.—Judge A. W. Agler today appointed Attorneys J. H. Robertson and Frank T. JACKSON, Miss., March 18.—Governor Henry L. Whitfield, of Mississippi died early today after a long illness.

'SAFE AND SANE' FOURTH PLAN IS APPROVED BY 4 TO 3 VOTE

Measure Prohibits Sale and Discharge of Pyrotechnics.

TEST SENTIMENT

Future Action Dependent Upon Attitude of Public.

By a vote of 4 to 3, city council, last night, placed on first reading an ordinance prohibiting the sale and use of fireworks in East Liverpool. Solons Thomas Farrall, Charles Hayes, W. H. Kelly and L. M. Poole supported the measure, while George Hughes, Clyde Goodballet and Otto Kommel voted against it.

The proposal, which was tabled two weeks ago, was revived by Farrall, who charged that fellow members failed to show him courtesy to have the measure read at the previous session.

"Let's place this measure on first reading to ascertain sentiment," Farrall urged. "In two weeks we can then pass it on second or third readings or reject it. The people should be permitted to express themselves on the question of a 'safe and sane' Fourth."

O. K. Annexation.

Goodballet charged that "previous administrations" had made a "fizzle" out of efforts to stop the sale and use of fireworks and that the matter should be passed to the next administration only. Farrall denied that legislation [illegible] to stop the sale and use of pyrotechnics had ever been considered by council. Hayes also expressed the opinion that the people should be given an opportunity to say whether they wanted this measure enacted.

A motion to suspend the rules in order to pass it on second reading was lost for the lack of the necessary two-thirds vote, the line-up being the same as for consideration.

An ordinance approving the annexation of [illegible] approximately 560 acres of land not [illegible] the municipality, approved by [illegible] commissioners and common [illegible] was passed on three [illegible] under suspension of the rule [illegible] of the court's decision [illegible] a part of the records.

Ordinance Enacted.

Twelve other ordinances nad resolutions were enacted. They were:

Ordinance establishing the grade lines on Perry avenue, Belmar street, Idaho and Sanford streets; resolution adjusting special assessments for sewer improvements against certain East End property; ordinance determining to proceed with improvement of Spring Grove avenue; resolution authorizing the service director to seek bids for purchase of motor truck for water works department; ordinance declaring it necessary to grade and pave Thompson avenue through Watson avenue to Vine street; ordinance declaring it necessary to sewer Sutton alley; ordinance authorizing the service director to pay approximately $3,173.47 in debts alleged to have been contracted by a former administration; ordinance to sewer Erie and Dewey streets, East End; resolution declaring it necessary to transfer $200 from the maintenance and repair fund to the street repair fund to meet the city's share in teh Middle alley improvement.

Another resolution declaring the city's intention to start condemnation proceedings against property owned by John Brookes, Dresden avenue florist, needed in the Dresden avenue improvement, was unanimously rejected on third reading after being passed on first and second readings. Councilman Hayes reported that Brookes had priced .88 of an acre at $3,500. This land, he claimed, was on the tax duplicate at $600 per acre.

Another resolution prohibiting the parking of vehicles in Crook alley,

Spring is Almost Here, and the Whole Store is Astir With Spring Activity

"Yes, Most of Our State

—along the railroad, does look uninviting. But you ought to see the rest of it!"

True enough, if you happen to be familiar with the really prosperous state our friend hails from. But wouldn't it be worth while to put some of the smiling evidence of progress where the casual traveler could see it?

A bleak aspect on the highways of a commonwealth or of everyday human intercourse often creates a wrong impression.

The New Under-Girdle Corselette.

Most women prefer the corselette — the one-piece corset garment which affords comfort and confers the straight line so necessary to present day modes.

The slender figure is the silhouette of the day and even in summer you may wear a corselette without feeling it.

That comfort and fashion may travel together is evident in these new corselettes that give one the feeling of wearing no corset at all, yet restrains he figure sufficiently to be in accord with the straight silhouette.

Among the new and perfect fitting foundations designed for women are corselettes with the special under-girdle features, to give smoother, smarter lines to those whose figures need added restraint.

Developed of fancy brocades, satins or silk brassiere with brocade body. In flesh only. Sizes 32 to 50.

Priced from $3.00 to $10.00.

FASHIONGRAMS

Latest news of the world of Fashion condensed for quick reading.

Jacquette dresses, though they be silken, simulate a three-piece tailleur most convincingly.

Now that tailleurs are in a position of prominence, fur scarfs become a smart necessity. Foxes "light complexioned"—silver or pointed — take a fashionable lead.

Nothing is so chic as a small black felt hat—brimless or with a bit of brim.

Georgettes and chiffons have developed a new-found fondness for taffeta ruchings.

Favoring bright colors and two piece effects, the Sports frock takes an all important place in Spring calculations.

Woolens as light as sheer silk—first introduced by Rodier—are sailing high in the sky of French fashions just now.

Much is being said of tailleurs, and rightly, for they are so characteristic of the season with their youthful chic and debonair.

Now that everything is so "sporty," sports coats are naturally the smartest for general wear.

Not a sign of a collar is allowed if you are going to be extremely smart this season.

Three is not necessarily a crowd when it comes to the newest compose.

"Pour le sport," whether you take an active part or not, you may be sure you are smart if your blouse is of wool, crepella, or jersey, and your skirt is of crepe de chine.

Again we hear the old story of Satin and its importance among Spring frocks, and as trimming on coats and sports costumes.

Spring is Almost Here, and the Whole Store is Astir With Spring Activity

"Yes, Most of Our State

—along the railroad, does look uninviting. But you ought to see the rest of it!"

True enough, if you happen to be familiar with the really prosperous state our friend hails from. But wouldn't it be worth while to put some of the smiling evidence of progress where the casual traveler could see it?

A bleak aspect on the highways of a commonwealth or of everyday human intercourse often creates a wrong impression.

Nothing like showing our best side to the world—is there?

D. M. Ogilvie & Co.

The New Under-Girdle Corselette.

Most women prefer the corselette — the one-piece corset garment which affords comfort and confers the straight line so necessary to present day modes.

The slender figure is the silhouette of the day and even in summer you may wear a corselette without feeling it.

That comfort and fashion may travel together is evident in these new corselettes that give one the feeling of wearing no corset at all, yet restrains he figure sufficiently to be in accord with the straight silhouette.

Among the new and perfect fitting foundations designed for women are corselettes with the special under-girdle features, to give smoother, smarter lines to those whose figures need added restraint.

Developed of fancy brocades, satins or silk brassiere with brocade body. In flesh only. Sizes 32 to 50.

Priced from $3.00 to $10.00.

—Second Floor, Main Store.

FASHIONGRAMS

Latest news of the world of Fashion condensed for quick reading.

Jacquette dresses, though they be silken, simulate a three-piece tailleur most convincingly.

Now that tailleurs are in a position of prominence, fur scarfs become a smart necessity. Foxes "light complexioned"—silver or pointed — take a fashionable lead.

Nothing is so chic as a small black felt hat—brimless or with a bit of brim.

Georgettes and chiffons have developed a new-found fondness for taffeta ruchings.

Favoring bright colors and two piece effects, the Sports frock takes an all important place in Spring calculations.

Woolens as light as sheer silk—first introduced by Rodier—are sailing high in the sky of French fashions just now.

Much is being said of tailleurs, and rightly, for they are so characteristic of the season with their youthful chic and debonair.

Now that everything is so "sporty," sports coats are naturally the smartest for general wear.

Not a sign of a collar is allowed if you are going to be extremely smart this season.

Three is not necessarily a crowd when it comes to the newest compose.

"Pour le sport," whether you take an active part or not, you may be sure you are smart if your blouse is of wool, crepella, or jersey, and your skirt is of crepe de chine.

Again we hear the old story of Satin and its importance among Spring frocks, and as trimming on coats and sports costumes.

CHAPTER SIXTY-SEVEN.

"Quick," I said, and we sped through the door and down the stairs into the hall of the house. There I paused.

"I don't remember exactly where the room is from here," I said. "I only saw it once and that was at night, but I think it must be over here."

Claypole had quite recovered and was now all action.

We separated, the gendarme following me. I passed through the room of my first interview with the Center and through the room with the black velvet curtains. It was empty and beyond it was a small door.

I tore it open and, rushing through found myself in a small passage. At the end was a staircase, narrow and winding, connecting the servants' quarters with their bedrooms.

To the right of it, at the end of the passage, was a door which I recognized. It was of oak and heavily studded with nails. I remembered how, as they dragged me out of the room on my way to be drugged, I had mechanically noticed the pattern. I shouted to Claypole and started towards the door with the gendarme.

It was locked and bolted and heavy enough to resist the onslaughts of a dozen men. We beat upon it and the gendarms fired into the lock without avail. So thick and massive was it that the heavy bullets form the Mauser pistol could not penetrate.

Soon we were joined by Claypole, the Commissioner and several gendarmes.

"It would take half a dozen crowbars or a battering ram to get that door down," said the Commissioner.

"Window," said Claypole.

We returned along the corridor, followed by the others, and came again to the room with the black velvet curtains. Two long windows gave on to the gravel drive outside the house. We opened them and ran out, turning to the left.

"That must be the window," cried Claypole, pointing.

I looked in the direction indicated and saw, about ten feet up the wall, which was discolored and ivy-grown—showing that that part of the house in which the Center had his sanctum was far older than the rest—a small window crossed with iron bars.

"That's the place. I remember now. The window is fairly high up."

"Find a ladder," shouted the Commissioner to the two gendarmes who were nearest.

The men turned obediently and went off. The Commissioner, Claypole and myself approached the window.

"No need for ladders," said Claypole. "These will do."

Lying in a heap in an angle of the wall were several large packing cases. We seized them and stood two of them on end. They were quite strong cases six foot by four. We all three jumped on them and clustered around the window.

It was, as I have said, small and barred, and our heads came just above the sill, so that we were able to see right into the room.

The Center was bending over the hearth, apparently quite unconscious of the frantic efforts which were being made to get to him. Presently he straightened himself and moved to the middle of teh room. On the hearth I saw a great mass of papers burning.

"There goes our evidence," cried Claypole. "Curse it!"

The Center glanced in our direction. His eyebrows lifted slightly, but otherwise he gave no sign that he had noticed our presence.

We were helpless to intervene and stood there motionless, watching what he would do next. Was theer another passage from the room, and would he make another effort to escape?

We thought at first that this was his intention, for he turned towards the wall, on which was hanging the old tapestry of Aeneas and Anchises. He pulled back the hanging and disclosed a picture. I could not see at first what it was. Then I heard a soft whistle from Claypole.

"My God!" he whispered.

After he had exposed the painting, the Center stepped backwards and bowed towards it three times, very solemnly, bending his knees. Then he turned once more to the middle of the room and sat down in Japanese fashion on his heels, his knees pressed outwards and his body bent slightly forward. This done, he removed from his girdle a small Japanese dagger, the wakizashi, some nine inches long, and laid it beside him at his left haud. He was in profile to us, the picture opposite to him on the wall. His next action was to unfasten his haori, or overtunic, which he discarded altogether, putting it behind him. Then, slipping his arms from his kimono, he tucked the sleeves carefully under his knees, thus slightly increasing the forward slant of his body. He was now naked to the waist save for his Japanese underclothing.

Soon we were joined by Claypole, the Commissioner and several gendarmes.

"It would take half a dozen crowbars or a battering ram to get that door down," said the Commissioner.

"Window," said Claypole.

We returned along the corridor, followed by the others, and came again to the room with the black velvet curtains. Two long windows gave on to the gravel drive outside the house. We opened them and ran out, turning to the left.

"That must be the window," cried Claypole, pointing.

I looked in the direction indicated and saw, about ten feet up the wall, which was discolored and ivy-grown—showing that that part of the house in which the Center had his sanctum was far older than the rest—a small window crossed with iron bars.

"That's the place. I remember now. The window is fairly high up."

"Find a ladder," shouted the Commissioner to the two gendarmes who were nearest.

The men turned obediently and went off. The Commissioner, Claypole and myself approached the window.

"No need for ladders," said Claypole. "These will do."

Lying in a heap in an angle of the wall were several large packing cases. We seized them and stood two of them on end. They were quite strong cases six foot by four. We all three jumped on them and clustered around the window.

It was, as I have said, small and barred, and our heads came just above the sill, so that we were able to see right into the room.

The Center was bending over the hearth, apparently quite unconscious of the frantic efforts which were being made to get to him. Presently he straightened himself and moved to the middle of teh room. On the hearth I saw a great mass of papers burning.

"There goes our evidence," cried Claypole. "Curse it!"

The Center glanced in our direction. His eyebrows lifted slightly, but otherwise he gave no sign that he had noticed our presence.

We were helpless to intervene and stood there motionless, watching what he would do next. Was theer another passage from the room, and would he make another effort to escape?

We thought at first that this was his intention, for he turned towards the wall, on which was hanging the old tapestry of Aeneas and Anchises. He pulled back the hanging and disclosed a picture. I could not see at first what it was. Then I heard a soft whistle from Claypole.

"My God!" he whispered.

After he had exposed the painting, the Center stepped backwards and bowed towards it three times, very solemnly, bending his knees. Then he turned once more to the middle of the room and sat down in Japanese fashion on his heels, his knees pressed outwards and his body bent slightly forward. This done, he removed from his girdle a small Japanese dagger, the wakizashi, some nine inches long, and laid it beside him at his left hand. He was in profile to us, the picture opposite to him on the wall. His next action was to unfasten his haori, or overtunic, which he discarded altogether, putting it behind him. Then, slipping his arms from his kimono, he tucked the sleeves carefully under his knees, thus slightly increasing the forward slant of his body. He was now naked to the waist save for his Japanese underclothing.

FRIDAY, MARCH 18, 1927.

Suicidal Youth

Much has been said lately about the "wave of student suicides." The newspapers have carried accounts of many such tragedies, and it has been generally accepted that there are far more of them than usual. So everyone has been seeking for explanations and remedies.

Now the New York World, after looking into the records, declares that there is really no such "wave." Lamentable cases there are, indeed, of boys and girls in high school and college giving way to despair and choosing death as the only solution for the ills they see in life. But figures submitted by the World make it doubtful that the situation is so bad as represented.

Mortality statistics show that more than 1,200 young people, from 15 to 24, take their own lives in this country every year, according to government reports. This means more than three a day. Naturally, considering our large high school and college population, a good many of these are students.

The current misapprehension is attributed to the fact that, early this year, several rather prominent students happened to make away with themselves, thus attracting widespread attention, and "after that, the newspapers began to count." Abnormal attention had been attracted to a situation that may not have been really abnormal in itself.

The evil is still great enough to merit all that can be done by way of alleviation, especially greater sympathy and understanding for youth. But it is well not to exaggerate the evil and thereby give it still greater power over the minds of boys and girls of morbid tendency.

Air Pirates

When Major Larre-Borgen, the Uruguay aviator, got lost in Morocco on his flying trip home from Europe, there was method in it. Not method on his part, but on the part of the Moroccans. Native bandits there calmly held him for ransom when he made a forced landing. It cost him and his three companions their plane, their ready cash and $4,250 besides, to win their freedom.

It was a good haul for the bandits, but not a wise one. The Moors could make more money in other ways if they had good business sense.

They are playing air pirates, just as the tribesmen of northern Africa have always played sea pirates when they were allowed to get away with it. Air piracy is the safer of the two, because lone aviators cannot defend themselves. But there is not so much profit in it, because aviators, being warned, will stay away.

The Moors should invite fliers to their country, treat them courteously, show them the sights, sell them supplies and souvenirs—and charge them well for everything. The tourist traffic everywhere is a modern form of the bandit traffic, far more efficient than the old. Europe does that sort of thing better than Africa. And possibly America, we blush to say, does it still better.

The Walking Infant

The five-week-old son of a Chicago doctor is reported to have walked unaided across a room in the family home, before an astonished and admiring group of newspaper men and the proud father.

The doctor explains that he has developed this unusual strength in his infant son by the use of artificial sunlight. Every day the baby is given a fifteen-minute bath of ultra-violet rays. Every day, too, the child is put through a series of exercises designed to strengthen his muscles. He sleeps on a bread board with a pad and pillow.

Just what is gained by speeding up the baby's development in this way is not explained in the news story. Whether this unusual strength at five weeks will be of benefit to the later health and happiness of the boy and man remains to be seen. Perhaps it is a very fine thing and quite in line with scientific progress. But somehow it seems like fictitious progress. One can't help feeling sorry for the forced baby.

Mr. Borah's Raise

Senator Borah, it seems, has not accepted the raise in pay of senators voted a couple of years ago. He turned back the additional $2,500 into the treasury on the ground that his constituents elected him at $7,500, and he ought not to take $10,000 until after he has been elected again.

Whatever one may think of Mr. Borah along other lines, this is certainly a decent and honest thing to do, though it will hardly be questioned that the senator has earned the extra pay, and the country pays little enough at best to its public servants. Congressman Tucker of Virginia has also refused to accept the raise this term. Possibly there are a few others not known to fame.

When Experts Agree

Hoover says the United States is in the infancy of its greatness. Education is in its beginnings. Our economic stability has hardly begun. In every respect the nation marches onward. But with all his forward looking, with all his optimism, he stresses the danger and foolishness of waste.

Prof. B. H. Barrows of the University of Chicago is depressed and pessimistic about our growth of population. He also urges us to look to our waste.

When two people differing so strongly in point of view see so plainly the same evil, the ordinary fellow might well take a look at his day, his health, his back yard and his budget.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, March 18.—Thoughts while strolling: Men's hats with Tyrolean feathers in the back. A new one—an Eskimo band. Fans with concealed powder puffs and lip sticks. Chaise longue operating tables in beauty parlors.

Larger symphony orchestras to keep your mind off the movies. Former dive singers with their names in lights. Ben Roberts, the Palace orchestra leader. A genial foil for a thousand vaudevillians. Those crawling things in the sea food cafe windows. Ugh!

A raccoon in a drug store window cage. Probably the lone survivor. A soccer shop. Isaac Marcosson with an orchid-hued shirt. A new bank opens with orchestral music. Still no word of Michael Arlen. Ben Bernie and his boutonniere.

Those perky saxophone players with mufflers and nickel mustaches. Blue seems a prevailing color. Beauty Institute sign: "Legs scientifically reduced." Whatever became of plumes for hearse horses? Billy DeBeck the cartoonist.

A nickel drink stand features a harpist. Steak-and-kidney pudding has become a popular Brordway dish. Those winkling mashers around dance hall entrances. Slim, eager girls with heavy silent men. A $50,000 a year electric sign ballyhooing peanuts. Paul Whiteman is much thinner.

Those lonely men who sit at cafe windows reading newspapers. Outstretched greasy hats with lead pencils. Stage stars flashing briefly across the void. Dry cleaning shop sign: "We live to dye." Hard boiled virgins with gold-toothed smiles.

The healty, rosy and cheerful look of bus tourists. Glittering night gyms. Acrid odors from subway gratings. An old organ grinder napping on an elevated stairway. A priest passes. And drops a coin in the cup.

Tin Pan Alley is alert to opportunity. Two hours after Valentino passed away a music publisher's press was grinding out "There's a New Star in Heaven Tonight," and next morning it was on sale.

There are many eccentricities among novelities. Theodore Dreiser talks best rocking away in a rocking chair and rolling his handkerchief into a sort of anguished ball. Arthur Somers Roche sits at his typewriter tugging away at a green eye shade. Albert Payson Terhune writes easier with one of his collies stretched at his feet. Irvin Cobb tilts his cigar at a Joe Cannon angle. Meredith Nicholson uses a dilapidated old double keyboard typewriter. The late David Graham Phillips stood at a desk and wrote by hand. H. C. Witwer works only at night. Edna Ferber takes a long walk before sitting at her typewriter. Chas. G. Norris works only when he feels like it. That is a dandy system.

It was La Rochefoucauld who said substantially that most of us secretly were pleased a little at the adversity of our dearest friends. Sometimes I think many gloat. I have noted that when great adversity strikes some prominent figure in the town there is that same night extra activity in the cafes—a sort of celebration. The attitude is: "They caught him—we escape."

A man caught in the backwash of a great scandal said to a reporter: "What hurt me most was the secret sort of satisfaction I felt existed among those closest to me."

Harlem is to have a tony hotel for colored people. It will have 150 rooms and single rooms will be $8 a day and suites $14. The cafe menus are to be in French. Which is reminded of the colored soldier who when asked a direction in Paris during the war replied: "Two rues and a champ down the street."

THE LANGUAGE OF THE CRADLE

Booth Tarkington has immortalized the young lady who talked baby-talk. His characterization of her is one of the enduring creations of our native fiction. In real life, though, there sometimes bobs up an instance of this failing on the part of a fond parent.

Here is a case in point: According to Montague Glass, a tired business man of the New York variety returned from lunch looking more tired than usual. To an associate in his office he said wearily:

"Ferguson's getting worse and worse."

"How do you mean—getting worse and worse?" inquired the partner. "Is he telling stories to prove that new baby of his is the most wonderful child ever was born in the world?"

"No, he's reached the secondary stage now," said the first speaker. "I judge from something that happened just now over at the restaurant that the infant must have arrived at the conversational age."

"What happened?"

"Here's what happened: I heard Ferguson say to the waitress, who came to take his order: "Poor Da-da thirsty. P'ease give Da-da a jinky water!"

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Bird Allies.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 18.—The realization that certain species of birds have a decided economic value to the farmer has become so general that increased protection has been provided in all sections of the country. The usual method of increasing the bird population is by the establishment of bird reservations. Since 1903, 70 of these have been designated by the Federal Government, the first being Pelican Island, Florida, and the latest in the Mississippi and Columbia rivers.

The Bureau of Biological Survey is authority for the statement that birds save the American farmer at least $400,000,000 a year in damage to crops. Farmers' natural enemies are birds' natural food, and it has been found that most birds eat such a variety of bugs and worms, often in such enormous quantities, that in localities where bird life is varied, protection is assured against practically every sort of insect. A count was taken on one farm of 200 acres in a southern state which showed that birds were destroying a million green bugs a day. In some cases birds have even been known to rid an entire grove of trees, a garden plot, or a field from insect pests.

Researches of the Biological Survey show that the alfalfa weevil has 45 different bird enemies, the army worm 43, bill bugs 67, cotton boll weevils 66, potato beetles 25, horseflies 49, 17-year locusts 38, and the leaf-hoppers as high as 120. These are only a few of the insect pests which are known to have many enemies among the various birds.

The latest bird censes of the United States shows that there are about two birds on the average to every acre. In the northeastern part of the country they are most numerous and here robins are found most abundantly, while English sparrows, song sparrows, chipping sparrows, meadow larks, and catbirds come next in number. As one goes west the bird population becomes more sparse until there are wide stretches where the average is only one bird or less to an acre. Efforts to encourage the propagation of birds, however, has met with such success that in some instances as many as 59 pairs have been attracted to a single refuge.

Bird Refuges.

In addition to the Federal bird reservations 30 have been set apart, principally along the Atlantic seaboard, by the National Association of Audubon Societies. In Florida alone there are now 20 bird reservations, 10 in Maine, nine in Alaska, eight in Louisiana, and seven in Washington. Five years ago bird refuges were created by executive order on the lands within the National Bison Range, Montana, Sully Hill Game Preserve, North Dakota, and the Elk Refuge, Wyoming. Two hundred acres of the Tompkins Memorial Tract has been set aside by the Yale Corporation as a native plant and wild life region.

In some states the cooperative bird preserve has been found particularly satisfactory. Under this plan the farmer agrees to the use of his land and promises to act as warden, while the state game commission, bird clubs, schools or Audubon societies undertake to post "no shooting" signs, to place houses and feeding stations and sometimes even to stock the refuge. In the State of Oregon all public parks and school grounds have been declared bird and game sanctuaries.

Larger symphony orchestras to keep your mind off the movies. Former dive singers with their names in lights. Ben Roberts, the Palace orchestra leader. A genial foil for a thousand vaudevillians. Those crawling things in the sea food cafe windows. Ugh!

A raccoon in a drug store window cage. Probably the lone survivor. A soccer shop. Isaac Marcosson with an orchid-hued shirt. A new bank opens with orchestral music. Still no word of Michael Arlen. Ben Bernie and his boutonniere.

Those perky saxophone players with mufflers and nickel mustaches. Blue seems a prevailing color. Beauty Institute sign: "Legs scientifically reduced." Whatever became of plumes for hearse horses? Billy DeBeck the cartoonist.

A nickel drink stand features a harpist. Steak-and-kidney pudding has become a popular Brordway dish. Those winkling mashers around dance hall entrances. Slim, eager girls with heavy silent men. A $50,000 a year electric sign ballyhooing peanuts. Paul Whiteman is much thinner.

Those lonely men who sit at cafe windows reading newspapers. Outstretched greasy hats with lead pencils. Stage stars flashing briefly across the void. Dry cleaning shop sign: "We live to dye." Hard boiled virgins with gold-toothed smiles.

The healty, rosy and cheerful look of bus tourists. Glittering night gyms. Acrid odors from subway gratings. An old organ grinder napping on an elevated stairway. A priest passes. And drops a coin in the cup.

Tin Pan Alley is alert to opportunity. Two hours after Valentino passed away a music publisher's press was grinding out "There's a New Star in Heaven Tonight," and next morning it was on sale.

There are many eccentricities among novelities.. Theodore Dreiser talks best rocking away in a rocking chair and rolling his handkerchief into a sort of anguished ball. Arthur Somers Roche sits at his typewriter tugging away at a green eye shade. Albert Payson Terhune writes easier with one of his collies stretched at his feet. Irvin Cobb tilts his cigar at a Joe Cannon angle. Meredith Nicholson uses a dilapidated old double keyboard typewriter. The late David Graham Phillips stood at a desk and wrote by hand. H. C. Witwer works only at night. Edna Ferber takes a long walk before sitting at her typewriter. Chas. G. Norris works only when he feels like it. That is a dandy system.

It was La Rochefoucauld who said substantially that most of us secretly were pleased a little at the adversity of our dearest friends. Sometimes I think many gloat. I have noted that when great adversity strikes some prominent figure in the town there is that same night extra activity in the cafes—a sort of celebration. The attitude is: "They caught him—we escape."

A man caught in the backwash of a great scandal said to a reporter: "What hurt me most was the secret sort of satisfaction I felt existed among those closest to me."

Harlem is to have a tony hotel for colored people. It will have 150 rooms and single rooms will be $8 a day and suites $14. The cafe menus are to be in French. Which is reminding of the colored soldier who when asked a direction in Paris during the war replied: "Two rues and a champ down the street."

THE LANGUAGE OF THE CRADLE

Booth Tarkington has immortalized the young lady who talked baby-talk. His characterization of her is one of the enduring creations of our native fiction. In real life, though, there sometimes bobs up an instance of this failing on the part of a fond parent.

Here is a case in point: According to Montague Glass, a tired business man of the New York variety returned from lunch looking more tired than usual. To an associate in his office he said wearily:

"Ferguson's getting worse and worse."

"How do you mean—getting worse and worse?" inquired the partner. "Is he telling stories to prove that new baby of his is the most wonderful child ever was born in the world?"

"No, he's reached the secondary stage now," said the first speaker. "I judge from something that happened just now over at the restaurant that the infant must have arrived at the conversational age."

"What happened?"

"Here's what happened: I heard Ferguson say to the waitress, who came to take his order: "Poor Da-da thirsty. P'ease give Da-da a jinky water!"

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Bird Allies.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 18.—The realization that certain species of birds have a decided economic value to the farmer has become so general that increased protection has been provided in all sections of the country. The usual method of increasing the bird population is by the establishment of bird reservations. Since 1903, 70 of these have been designated by the Federal Government, the first being Pelican Island, Florida, and the latest in the Mississippi and Columbia rivers.

The Bureau of Biological Survey is authority for the statement that birds save the American farmer at least $400,000,000 a year in damage to crops. Farmers' natural enemies are birds' natural food, and it has been found that most birds eat such a variety of bugs and worms, often in such enormous quantities, that in localities where bird life is varied, protection is assured against practically every sort of insect. A count was taken on one farm of 200 acres in a southern state which showed that birds were destroying a million green bugs a day. In some cases birds have even been known to rid an entire grove of trees, a garden plot, or a field from insect pests.

Researches of the Biological Survey show that the alfalfa weevil has 45 different bird enemies, the army worm 43, bill bugs 67, cotton boll weevils 66, potato beetles 25, horseflies 49, 17-year locusts 38, and the leaf-hoppers as high as 120. These are only a few of the insect pests which are known to have many enemies among the various birds.

The latest bird census of the United States shows that there are about two birds on the average to every acre. In the northeastern part of the country they are most numerous and here robins are found most abundantly, while English sparrows, song sparrows, chipping sparrows, meadow larks, and catbirds come next in number. As one goes west the bird population becomes more sparse until there are wide stretches where the average is only one bird or less to an acre. Efforts to encourage the propagation of birds, however, has met with such success that in some instances as many as 59 pairs have been attracted to a single refuge.

Bird Refuges.

In addition to the Federal bird reservations 30 have been set apart, principally along the Atlantic seaboard, by the National Association of Audubon Societies. In Florida alone there are now 20 bird reservations, 10 in Maine, nine in Alaska, eight in Louisiana, and seven in Washington. Five years ago bird refuges were created by executive order on the lands within the National Bison Range, Montana, Sully Hill Game Preserve, North Dakota, and the Elk Refuge, Wyoming. Two hundred acres of the Tompkins Memorial Tract has been set aside by the Yale Corporation as a native plant and wild life region.

In some states the cooperative bird preserve has been found particularly satisfactory. Under this plan the farmer agrees to the use of his land and promises to act as warden, while the state game commission, bird clubs, schools or Audubon societies undertake to post "no shooting" signs, to place houses and feeding stations and sometimes even to stock the refuge. In the State of Oregon all public parks and school grounds have been declared bird and game sanctuaries.

BRITISH TRADE OUTLOOK SAID TO BE BRIGHT

Leadership and Good Will Needed, Says Government.

BUSINESS GROWS

Capital is Increasing, Committee Reports in Review.

LONDON.—"It cannot be doubted that in British industry there lies latent a great power of energetic cooperation and response to changing conditions.

"But it needs the exercise of the highest qualities of imaginative leadership and of loyal goodwill to evoke and mobilize this reserve power and direct it to the common benefit.

These are the salient passages in the interim report the British government committee on trade and industry, presided over by Sir Arthur Balfour.

But throughout, the report refers to many cheering points in regard to British trade. It points out the marked growth in the size of businesses, the increase in the number of "joint stock" companies, and the widening distribution of working capital.

Analysis of Business.

There is an analysis of the holdings of capital in the five great banks and in 18 large manufacturing, trading, shipping and insurance concerns

The total capital of these concerns —$1,060,000,000—is distributed over 3,895,000 holdings, the average being only $1,360. Nearly 86 per cent of the capital in the 18 large undertakings are of $2,500 or less. In the four great railroad companies 56 per cent of the holdings do not exceed $2,500.

Recent industrial depression, according to the Committee, account for a reduction in national savings. In 1925 these were, in the year, $750,000,000 less than in 1913.

On the other side of the account, there is the great increase in all kinds of taxation. But while direct taxation and municipal assessments have risen about $1,655,000,000, about $1,500,000,000 in interest on internal debt is returned to members of approximately the same classes which pay income tax.

Savings Decrease.

The general conclusion is that it is the middle class which are saving less. There is no sign that wage-earners' investments have decreased. Post Office, and trustee savings bank deposits have steadily increased since the war.

Figures are given to rebut the talk about the growth of working class extravagance and self-indulgence. The total expenditure on amusements is not much over $250,000,000 a year; and, as against that, the consumption of alcoholic liquors in 1924 was 40 per cent less than in 1913. Membership of cooperative trading societies has more than doubled between 1914 and 1924.

In spite of long-continued trade depression the committee strikes an optimistic note in regard to the future "But," says the report, "there is pressing need to cultivate initiative and flexibility of temperament, lack of which will mean 'increasing rigidity and ossification.'"

Analysis of Business.

There is an analysis of the holdings of capital in the five great banks and in 18 large manufacturing, trading, shipping and insurance concerns

The total capital of these concerns —$1,060,000,000—is distributed over 3,895,000 holdings, the average being only $1,360. Nearly 86 per cent of the capital in the 18 large undertakings are of $2,500 or less. In the four great railroad companies 56 per cent of the holdings do not exceed $2,500.

Recent industrial depression, according to the Committee, account for a reduction in national savings. In 1925 these were, in the year, $750,000,000 less than in 1913.

On the other side of the account, there is the great increase in all kinds of taxation. But while direct taxation and municipal assessments have risen about $1,655,000,000, about $1,500,000,000 in interest on internal debt is returned to members of approximately the same classes which pay income tax.

Savings Decrease.

The general conclusion is that it is the middle class which are saving less. There is no sign that wage-earners' investments have decreased. Post Office, and trustee savings bank deposits have steadily increased since the war.

Figures are given to rebut the talk about the growth of working class extravagance and self-indulgence. The total expenditure on amusements is not much over $250,000,000 a year, and, as against that, the consumption of alcoholic liquors in 1924 was 40 per cent less than in 1913. Membership of cooperative trading societies has more than doubled between 1914 and 1924.

In spite of long-continued trade depression the committee strikes an optimistic note in regard to the future "But," says the report, "there is pressing need to cultivate initiative and flexibility of temperament, lack of which will mean 'increasing rigidity and ossification.'"

France Claims Record Plane.

What is claimed to be the biggest hydroairplane in the world is being constructed in secret by the French government. It is a monoplane built on the thick-wing principle and adapted for all-metal aircraft and is powered with five air-cooled motors.

PICK DELEGATES TO D. A. R. MEET

Will Attend 36th Annual Session in National Capital.

Delegates who will represent Bethia Southwick chapter, Daughters of America, at the thirty-sixth national congress of the organization, to be held from April 18 to 24 in Washington, D. C., were selected at a meeting of members last evening in the home of Mrs. Frank Magill, Riverside avenue.

The following were named: Chapter Regent Mrs. W. F. Lones, Miss Carrie Southwick, Mrs. William Ward, Mrs. E. F. Swift, of Wellsville; Mrs. G. W. Moore, Mrs. Mary Hanley, Mrs. Bruce Kirby and Mrs. William Wilson, of East Liverpool, and Miss Alice Brown, of Cleveland.

Devotionals were conducted by Mrs. William Wilson, followed by the salute to the flag and the song, "America."

During the business session, the wheel and distaff department, a fancy work organization, was formed with Mrs. J. E. Simpson as chairman.

Mrs. F. F. Davis, of East Liverpool, was named local chairman of the committee for the preservation of historic spots and Revolutionary soldiers' graves. Her position qualifies her for membership on the state committee. The chapter, in this connection, discussed plans for marking historical spots and soldiers' graves in Columbiana county.

Four new members were elected during the session, including Mrs. Virginia Welch and Mrs. F. A. Dean, of East Liverpool; Mrs. Ila F. Mohler, of Youngstown, and Miss Bessie Johnston, of Congo.

The following program was given at the close of the business meeting:

Reading, "Selling Eggs"—Miss Esther Frances Swift.
Paper, "Alexander and McGuffy" —Mrs. William Wilson. Mrs. Wilson read "Chatham, on the American War," and a poem, "Landing of the Pilgrim Fathers."
Reading, "The Scoffer," and "St. Patrick's Birthday," by Edgar Guest —Miss Marion Wolgamott.

Mrs. W. F. Lones read a list of recent gifts of Revolutionary relics to the national museum at Washington.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. William Wilson, the third week in April.

W. C. T. U. MEET AT COOPER HOME

Mrs. Helen Cooper entertained members of the W. C. T. U. Tuesday evening at her home in Broadway.

Song, "America"—By the Union.
Psalm—Mrs. Eva Briggle.
Paper, "New Book on Prohibition" —Mrs. Wilkinson.
Duet—Misses Ina and Esther Zachman.
Paper, "Combatting the Drug Evil" —Mrs. Helen Cooper.

Six tables of bridge were in play, the award for high score being made to Miss Nan Stevenson.

Refreshments were served at the close of the evening. St. Patrick's day suggestions were used in the favors and decorations.

EAST END P. T. A. PROGRAM MONDAY

The East End building Parent-Teachers' association will meet on Monday night at 7:30 o'clock in the school building, Wells avenue.

An address by S. E. Daw, superintendent of schools, special music and a playlet by school children will be features of the program.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, March 18.—The vigorous forward movement in the industrial and specialty stocks was promptly resumed in early trading today. The weekly reserve bank reports showed a further broadening of the credit base of the country. Gold holdings of the system were reported at $4,023,741,000, the highest since 1924, and reserve ratios showed little or no effect of the big money market operations of the last few weeks.

Freeport Texas was the sensation of the low-priced specialties. Directors of the company increased the dividend from $2 to $4 a year after the close of yesterday's market, and made strong refutation of the reports of exhaustion of the sulphur deposits of the company. The stock jumped seven points to 54 in a heavy turnover, while Texas Guly Sulphur, a companion sulphur producer, sold at the year's high price of 60 1-2.

General Motors touched 180 in its steady forward march. The stock is up 96 points since the famous "Cochran statement" of last year, which forecasted a price of 100 points above that prevailing at the time. Baldwin and DuPont were strong. As a rule, however, stocks were freely offered at today's prices and the market was unable to continue its advance. Weekend profit taking held the move in railroad and specialty stocks. Call money 4 per cent.

During the business session, the wheel and distaff department, a fancy work organization, was formed with Mrs. J. E. Simpson as chairman.

Mrs. F. F. Davis, of East Liverpool, was named local chairman of the committee for the preservation of historic spots and Revolutionary soldiers' graves. Her position qualifies her for membership on the state committee. The chapter, in this connection, discussed plans for marking historical spots and soldiers' graves in Columbiana county.

Four new members were elected during the session, including Mrs. Virginia Welch and Mrs. F. A. Dean, of East Liverpool; Mrs. Ila F. Mohler, of Youngstown, and Miss Bessie Johnston, of Congo.

The following program was given at the close of the business meeting:

Reading, "Selling Eggs"—Miss Esther Frances Swift.
Paper, "Alexander and McGuffy" — Mrs. William Wilson. Mrs. Wilson read "Chatham, on the American War," and a poem, "Landing of the Pilgrim Fathers."
Reading, "The Scoffer," and "St. Patrick's Birthday," by Edgar Guest —Miss Marion Wolgamott.

Mrs. W. F. Lones read a list of recent gifts of Revolutionary relics to the national museum at Washington.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. William Wilson, the third week in April.

W. C. T. U. MEET AT COOPER HOME

Mrs. Helen Cooper entertained members of the W. C. T. U. Tuesday evening at her home in Broadway.

Psalm—Mrs. Eva Briggle.
Paper, "New Book on Prohibition" —Mrs. Wilkinson.
Duet—Misses Ina and Esther Zachman.

BRIDGE PARTY AT MAPLE VILLA

Mrs. M. R. Shingler and Miss Ethel Butler entertained 24 guests at Maple Villa last evening.

Six tables of bridge were in play, the award for high score being made to Miss Nan Stevenson.

Refreshments were served at the close of the evening. St. Patrick's day suggestions were used in the favors and decorations.

EAST END P. T. A. PROGRAM MONDAY

The East End building Parent-Teachers' association will meet on Monday night at 7:30 o'clock in the school building, Wells avenue.

An address by S. E. Daw, superintendent of schools, special music and a playlet by school children will be features of the program.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, March 18.—The vigorous forward movement in the industrial and specialty stocks was promptly resumed in early trading today. The weekly reserve bank reports showed a further broadening of the credit base of the country. Gold holdings of the system were reported at $3,023,741,000, the highest since 1924, and reserve ratios showed little or no effect of the big money market operations of the last few weeks.

Freeport Texas was the sensation of the low-priced specialties. Directors of the company increased the dividend from $2 to $4 a year after the close of yesterday's market, and made strong refutation of the reports of exhaustion of the sulphur deposits of the company. The stock jumped seven points to 54 in a heavy turnover, while Texas Guly Sulphur, a companion sulphur producer, sold at the year's high price of 60 1-2.

General Motors touched 180 in its steady forward march. The stock is up 96 points since the famous "Cochran statement" of last year, which forecasted a price of 100 points above that prevailing at the time. Baldwin and DuPont were strong. As a rule, however, stocks were freely offered at today's prices and the market was unable to continue its advance. Week-end profit taking held the move in railroad and specialty stocks. Call money 4 per cent.

North Carolina Peach Crop Suffering From Recent Heavy Snows

RALEIGH, N. C.—The Sandhill late peach crop will be slashed considerably on account of recent heavy snows in North Carolina, according to agricultural experts here.

The Elbertas, a late variety, are reported a total loss in the Sandhill section following North Carolina's record-smashing snow, which reached a depth of 30 inches.

This variety was reported an 80 per cent loss in some places. The early varieties are believed to have escaped serious injury.

Suicides, Murder Cases Hit Record Mark in London

LONDON.—Six-hundred Londoners ended their lives by suicide during 1926, an increase of 85, according to statistics issued by London coroners.

The same statistics show that 6,934 inquests were held in the capital during the year, an increase of 176. In 22 cases verdicts of wilful murder were returned, an increase of 7.

Sea grass gathered and prepared in Canada as a stuffing for mattresses in the last year was valued at nearly $30,000.

FORD'S LAWYER TURNS GUNS ON "WHEAT KING"

Pictures Chicagoan as Exploiter of Farmers.

FIERY SPEECH

Court Rules Missourian's Opening Address Was in Order.

FEDERAL BUILDING, DETROIT, March 18.—An amazing story of frenzied finance, by which Aaron Sapiro so-called "wheat king" exploited American farmers for his own profit, was told the jury today in the million-dollar Ford-Sapiro libel suit by Senator James A. Reed (D) of Missouri, while outlining Henry Ford's defense.

Defending the attacks on Sapiro, published by Ford's Dearborn Independent, Reed declared the wheat king had gone far and wide through the country organizing farmers and charging them tremendous fees for his services.

A fortune rolled into Sapiro's hands, Reed showed, by listing fees in nine states alone that totalled more than $300,000.

FEDERAL BUILDING, DETROIT, March 18.—Hurdling a series of legal obstacles, Senator James A. Reed (D) of Missouri, today pictured Aaron Sapiro, so-called "wheat king" to the Ford-Sapiro libel jury as an exploiter of American farmers and wrecker of farm associations.

This scathing attack on Sapiro came only after Federal Judge Fred S. Raymond ruled that Reed's opening speech to the jury was in order. Counsel for Sapiro vigorously protested and noted an exception to the ruling to be used as the basis for an appeal to higher courts if the verdict untimately goes to Ford.

After this technical victory, Reed declared that one after another of Sapiro's cooperatives failed, causing great losses to the farmer members. In each instance, Reed insisted, Sapiro first got his tremendous fees for having organized the association. The court's decision came when W. H. Gallagher, chief of Sapiro's attorneys, objected to Reed's attack on the handling of the Burley leaf tobacco association in Kentucky. Reed charged Sapiro got $48,500 out of this association and it's subsidiaries.

Sapiro's Attorney Objects.

"This association was under the influence of Mr. Sapiro," said Reed. "It will be shown that Mr. Sapiro was paid a fee of $100,000 for just organizing the association, and a further fee of $12,5000 for organizing the subsidiary warehouse association. It will further appear from the evidence that Judge Bingham and Ralph Barker (warehouse owner) tried to get him a $100,000 fee but they found there was some objection so they agreed on $36,000 and they put it over at the meeting of directors."

Gallagher objected to the words "put it over." He argued that Reed was stating an argument to the jury and not outlining what Ford expected to prove. The court upheld him. A moment later Reed attempted to read a statement attributed to a George C. Jewett of Spokane and Gallagher again objected. Again the court upheld him, Reed saying he would waive it.

Gallagher Reads Opinion.

Gallagher read to the court a lengthy opinion by the Michigan supreme court setting forth the limits of an opening statement. The opinion declared the reading of letters or speeches was out of order.

"The court has frequently called the attention of counsel that they must not state arguments to the jury," Judg Raymond said.

"The opening statement should state only the substance of what will be proved. I hoped to get counsel to agree to eliminate all other matters. Counsel for the plaintiff, however, opened the door in his statement for the defendant's counsel to violate the rule. In a spirit of fairness I think I'll let counsel proceed with the understanding that the rule will be borne in mind."

"I note an exception," said Gallagher.

In rapid order, Reed pictured Sapiro's activities among the tobacco growers in Kentucky, potato growers in Minnesota and Idaho, wool growers in the northwest, tomato, prune and citrus growers in California.

In Minnesota, said Reed, the cooperative failed "in less than a year," but Sapiro got a fee of $7,500. He had asked for $17,000, Reed added.

In Idaho, when the association failed, Reed said, Sapiro assigned his claim for fees to his law partner, who "sued the farmers and collected in the courts." In California, the tomato association "lived less than one year."

Reed also declared Sapiro forced the payment of huge salaries to the employes in the associations. In the California Prune Growers' association, Reed said, a $65 a month employe was paid $6,000 a year as soon as Sapiro took charge.

All these statements were interspersed with objections from Gallagher. The court frequently admonished the jury to disregard words or sentences in Reed's speech.

Judge Raymond finally told the jury that counsel was "trespassing on the usual functions of an opening statement." He warned the jury that Reed's statement should only be regarded as an announcement of what he would prove by witnesses.

Reed declared that when farmers were slow in joining the Sapiro associations, a "high pressure force" was sent to drive them into line. Again and again Gallagher objected.

DEATH ROLL

Joseph Zettle.

Joseph Zettle, 73 years old, of East End, died last night in the City hospital, after an illness of heart disease. He was employed by the Mining and Milling company. He is survived by one daughter in Germany.

29 ABSENTEES AS OHIO HOUSE OPENS SESSION

During Call Demand is Made That Fines be Assessed.

MANY EXCUSED

Six Bills Passed Before Recess is Voted.

COLUMBUS, March 18.—Efforts to fine absent members enlivened today's session of the Ohio house of representatives. The senate recessed over the week-end late Thursday.

When the house reconvened shortly after 9 o'clock this morning, Rep. Frank H. Ward, Monroe county, Democratic floor leader, demanded a call of the house. Roll call disclosed that 29 of the 136 members of the house were absent, 111 being recorded present.

When Representative Martin Dodd, Toledo, Republican floor leader, moved that further proceedings under the call be dispensed with, Minority Floor Leader Ward demanded a roll call, which resulted in the defeat of the motion, by a vote of 44 to 67.

During the roll call, quite a number of the house members indicated their desire that the house proceed immediately to fine each absent member $10, as provided for by the Ohio constitution.

"Proper Reprimand" Urged.

After a number of absentees had been excused by the house because of "illness" and "important business," Representative Perry L. Green, Portage county, moved that the house excuse all absentees but that the speaker administer "proper reprimand." Green's motion was not acted pon.

Taking the house members to task for alleged failure to "get down to business," Ward urged the house to proceed to fine absentees.

The house, however, disposed of the situation by adopting a motion by Representative Dodd postponing further consideration of the matter until next Tuesday.

After passing six house bills, all of which will be messaged over to the senate, the house recessed over the week-end.

The house and senate will reconvene at 7:30 p. m., Monday.

Bills Passed by House.

Bills passed today by the house include:

By Representative C. E. Black, Adams county, requiring that, before a woman shall be eligible for a mother's pension, she must have legal residence in the county four years, if she moves from another state, or one year, if she moves from another county in Ohio.

By Representative T. R. Stevens, Dayton, providing for sale to the city of Dayton of the abandoned Mad river feeder canal.

By Representative C. J. Fitton, Butler county, decreeing that, when the owner of property seriously delays proceedings involving foreclosure of a mortgage, a receiver may be apopinted.

By Representative D. S. Ingalls, Cleveland, providing for construction and repair of bridges by county commissioners.

By Representative Harry Ball, Scioto county, providing for certification of probate court judgments to the common pleas and be placed on the term docket before becoming a lien on property.

By Representative F. A. Brown, Ross county, authorizing the governor to convey to the city of Chillicothe certain real property owend by the state in that city.

Narrows Resolution.

Representative J. H. Anderson, Belmont county, offered a resolution memorializing congress to provide for federal financial aid in the construction of a section of the Ohio river road in Belmont and Jefferson counties, the resolution was similar to one offered in the senate this week by Senator Harry Carpenter, Steubenville.

HORACE S. KERR HONOR GUEST AT LIONS' MEET

Ohio Organization Chief Speaks at Dinner.

LADIES ATTEND

District Convention Will be Held in Toledo.

Horace S. Kerr, Columbus attorney and president of the Ohio Lions, was the honor guest at a ladies' night dinner of the East Liverpool club in the banquet hall of the Y. M. C. A. last evening.

Kerr, who is making a swing through the eastern part of the state, came here from Warren. He was introduced by Attorney Harry Brokaw, president of the club, who, with his brother G. L. Brokaw, were his classmates at the University of Cincinnati law school.

He likened the model service club member to the player on the defeated football team, who never loses heart but is willing to go into the game again full of confidence that his team will win.

He also discussed the Clovernook farm, an institution for blind children near Cincinnati, founded by a sister of Helen Keller. The Braille mazazine which has been adopted by the Lions organization, is published by the inmates of this institution.

Kerr called attention to the district convention which will be held at Toledo, May 26 and 27, at which William A. Westfall, Mason City, Iowa, international president, will be the principal speaker. He also urged members of the club to observe Lent.

Two dance numbers were rendered by Miss Mae Joseph. A violin solo was given by Kenneth Martin, with Miss Gladys Larkins as accompanist. Music was rendered by a panatrope furnished by the Smith-Phillips Music company. Thirty-five members of the club and their wives attended the meeting.

Kerr went to Youngstown where he will be the guest of the Lions' club tonight.

FLOOD SWEEPS MICHIGAN TOWN

Pickford Isolated as Snow and Rains Cause Damage.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., March 18.—Several streams swollen by melting snow and recent rains have isolated the village of Pickford, 25 miles south of here. Bridges today are five feet under water and are being threatened with destruction by floating ice.

Residents of the north side of Pickford today were unable to reach their business places and high school. Automobiles became stalled in water as they were driven across bridges. Horses working up to their shoulders in water were used in extricating the cars. Others are hopelessly mired in mud.

There is no indication that the flood is subsiding.

Blame Handshaking For Straining of President's Wrist

WASHINGTON, March 18.—An X-ray examination showed that President Coolidge strained a tendon in his right wrist, Dr. James F. Coupal, White House physician, declared today.

The picture also revealed the presence of a fluid and it is necessary to keep the wrist bandaged tightly to force down the swelling.

Colonel Roberts, Of Salvation Army, Here Over Sunday

Colonel and Mrs. Herbert Roberts and Ensign Samuel Hepburn, of the Cleveland Salvation Army headquarters, will conduct services at the Salvation Army over Sunday.

HONEYMOON AS QUEEN'S GUEST

The marriage of Mrs. Edward Russell Thomas, above, widow of wealthy New York publisher, to Colonel L. G. Ament, former chief of investigation for the U. S. Veterans' bureau, has been announced. Colonel and Mrs. Ament are now honeymooning in Roumania as the guests of Queen Marie, with whom Colonel Ament became well acquainted while in charge of the Hoover relief work in that country shortly after the World war.

from Fifth to Sixth street, was laid over for two weeks.

Street Improvements Asked.

A petition from property holders in Crook alley from Fifth to Sixth street and Diamond alley from Market to Washington streets, asking for the improvement of the thoroughfares with reinforced concrete, was referred to the ordinance committee. Another petition seeking the improvement of Orchard Grove avenue west of Smithfield street was turned back when Service-Safety Director Moore stated that two petitions must be prepared, one for grading and another for surfacing.

The ordinance committee was instructed to prepare legislation granting permission to the Potters' Supply company to enlarge its ware house in First street. Attorney R. G. Thompson, who filed the request for a long term lease, said that the company employs from 100 to 140 workers and that additional factory space is needed to keep the plant in operation.

Spokesman for the Litten Motor Sales company requested the sewering of Tanyard run along West Eighth street near its filling station. The company offered to pay one-half the cost. Council will view the place before the next meeting when action will be taken on this request.

Dr. Joseph T. Williamson appeared in behalf of a movement for the widening and resurfacing of Vine street. He was advised to bring in a petition.

West Sixth Street Paving.

Farrall reported that the request for hospital treatment for city employes had been rejected by the hospital trustees. Council's committee, made up of Farrall, Kelly and Hughes, will meet with hospital officials to hear an explanation of the finances of the institution.

Another committee consisting of Hayes, Hughes and Goodballet will meet with Henry Goodwin to discuss the improvement of West Sixth street between Monroe street and the street car viaduct.

The ordinance committee was ordered to prepare an ordinance accepting an East End plat of ground for street purposes offered without cost by the Supplee Land company.

Councilman Kelly called council's attention to the need of a dog catcher to round up stray canines, which, he claimed, were ruining lawns, flower beds and gardens. The clerk was instructed to communicate with a Steubenville man experienced in this line of work.

A letter was read from J. T. Croxall, chairman of the board of health, explaining the board's stand in the food handlers' examinations for restaurant, bakery and candy shop workers. On motion of Kelly, the clerk was instructed to request representatives of the health board to attend the next meeting of council to discuss the ordinance.

Request of Howard Scott, city hall janitor, for an increase in salary was tabled without a dissenting vote. Scott's present salary is $120 per month.

"Scurrilous and opprobrious, indecent and libelous criticism of God, the Scriptures and the Christian religion," was the charge against him. If he was guilty, the punishment is deserved. You have no more right to hurt the religious feelings of others than you have to hurt their bodies.

The United States postoffice definitely forbids sending the "Decameron," by Boccaccio, through the mails. That is another wise decision which should not have been postponed so long. Mailing or selling that book should carry with it a sentence to prison.

WESTFIELD, N. J., will handle a mad dog scare by shooting all unmuzzled animals anywhere they may be found. That will hurt the feelings of those that love "man's best friend," the dog; but in Westfield three animals have died of rabies in a week, seven children have been bitten, and that, presumably, hurts the feelings of parents.

In Russia rabies spread by dogs among packs of wolves is spreading so rapidly that the Pasteur institute cannot treat one-half the patients. Within a year, it is said, 342,000 persons have developed hydrophobia.

Great Britain solves the problem by first wiping out hydrophobia at home; then allowing no dog to come in without thorough quarantine.

THIS world will be better off, a safer place for human beings and the animals will be happier when all life except human life shall have vanished, from the elephant in the jungle to the typhoid germs in drinking water.

If there were no crocodiles there would be no sleeping sickness. If there were no mosquitoes, there would be no yellow fever, no malaria. If there were no cats or dogs, many diseases would disappear. Children get them from the fur of "pets." If there were no rats or ground squirrels to feed fleas, no fleas to bite humans, there would be no bubonic plague, and if there were no vermin spread by lack of human cleanliness, there would be no deadly typhus.

DR. A. A. BRILL, studying strange suicides and other queer actions of young people, says the trouble is "the mystery of adolescence." Dr. Brill, who is a disciple of Freud, says parents should help their children through the storms and stress of youth "with understanding and advice."

The trouble is that many parents have children that they don't in the least understand, and many children of the modern day have parents in whose understanding they have small confidence.

The trouble with American children is lack of discipline and a good example in early youth: not discipline with a beating one day and foolish indulgence the next, but the steady discipline of a regular life, regular duties and a consistent example.

Two More Names Listed as So-called Student Suicides

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 18.—The student suicide wave struck New Orleans today, when Harold P. Bergeret, 27, a student at Tulane university, arose from his bed and shot himself to death.

The student's body was found in a bathroom, a pistol gripped in his right hand and a bullet hole through his head.

E. J. Bergeret, brother of the student, said he believed the suicide was caused from a nervous breakdown, the result of overstudy.

GALESBURG, Ill., March 18.—The name of Earl Main, 17, Williamsfield High school junior, today was added by authorities to the list of student suicides.

Main, who was said to have been moody at times, was found shot to death, a .22 calibre rifle beside his body.

DR. COOK MAY FACE FEDERAL COURT IN OHIO

Cleveland District Attorney Will Press Old Indictment.

OIL DEAL COUNT

E. Liverpool Residents Alleged to Have Been Victimized.

CLEVELAND, Mar. 18—U. S. District Attorney A. E. Bernsteen today sent a telegram to the warden of the Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, federal prison, requesting that Dr. Frederick A. Cook be held for federal authorities here, on an indictment returned in 1923, charging Cook with using the mails to defraud.

Cook and twenty-three associates are charged with alleged mail frauds perpetrated in the sale of stocks in Cook's Petroleum Producers' association, to residents of East Liverpool.

At Fort Worth he was sentenced to serve 14 years and nine months in the federal penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth. He is now eligible for parole and official announcement of this was made yesterday at Fort Worth, though he was not immediately released.

Bernsteen plans to have Cook brought back here upon his release from the Kansas prison.

Oberlin's Cagers Defeat Toronto in Class B Tourney

COLISEUM, COLUMBUS, O., March 18.—Oberlin's rangy team romped in with the first victory in the Class B Ohio basketball tournament semi-finals here this afternoon when they allowed the Toronto team but two field goals and marked up a score of 25 while the eastern boys scored 12.

The Toronto team seemed overawed from the start, and did not score a field goal until the third quarter. Gaines, the giant Negro of the Lorain county team, scored six field goals and three fouls for a total of 15 points.

HIGH SCHOOL TO BE CROWDED HERE IN FALL

TO EQUIP SEVEN

Additional Accommodation for Elementary Pupils Required.

Enrollment in the high school will pass the 1,000 mark when the schools reopen next September, Superintendent C. S. McVay told members of the board of education last evening.

The high school enrollment now is 784. Of this number approximately 140 will be lost by graduation. The incoming freshman class numbers 366, making a total of 1,010 which does not include those entering from the parochial schools or tuition pupils from outside the school district.

In order to make room for the increased enrollment, four more rooms must be equipped in the Central building. Three rooms are now being used in this building for high school purposes but next year seven rooms will be occupied.

Additional rooms for the elementary schools will be opened at the Sixth street, Washington and West End buildings. Two more rooms for seventh and eighth grade pupils must be furnished to relieve the congestion in the East End schools, McVay said.

The board selected Rev. B R. Johnson as the baccalaureate speaker. The service will be held in the high school auditorium on the afternoon of Sunday, May 29. The commencement speaker has not been chosen.

EAST END MAN IS FINED $25

James Davis, who resides in Railroad street near Ralston's Crossing, was fined $25 and costs by Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley today when he pleaded guilty to a charge of being drunk and disorderly.

He was arrested by Patrolman James Haley, while, it is alleged, he was demolishing furniture and dishes in his home.

The defection of three Sun Chuan-Fang generals from the cause of the northerns caused the severest reverse the An Kuo-Chun forces have suffered in some time. By virtue o fthese defections the nationalists were able, virtually without the loss of a man, to push on to within gun range of Chang-Chow, where they are threatening to cut the communications of the northern armies.

The Shantungites, sensing the treachery of the Sun generals on Thursday, evacuated the rail point, retreating toward Nanking.

The Nationalists this morning were within cannon range of Chang-Chow, an important strategic base where approximately 1,500 rebellious soldiers have been quartered since the retreat from Yishing.

Labor terrorists in Shanghai today killed their twenty-ninth and thirtieth victims, both employes of the Tobacco Production corporation, an American company.

LONDON, March 18. — The victorious Cantonese armies have captured Ihsing, on the west side of lake Taihu, and are now pressing on toward Chang-Chow, according to a Central News dispatch today from Shanghai. District Convention Will be Held in Toledo.

Horace S. Kerr, Columbus attorney and president of the Ohio Lions, was the honor guest at a ladies' night dinner of the East Liverpool club in the banquet hall of the Y. M. C. A. last evening.

Kerr, who is making a swing through the eastern part of the state, came here from Warren. He was introduced by Attorney Harry Brokaw, president of the club, who, with his brother G. L. Brokaw, were his classmates at the University of Cincinnati law school.

He likened the model service club member to the player on the defeated football team, who never loses heart but is willing to go into the game again full of confidence that his team will win.

He also discussed the Clovernook farm, an institution for blind children near Cincinnati, founded by a sister of Helen Keller. The Braille mazazine which has been adopted by the Lions organization, is published by the inmates of this institution.

Kerr called attention to the district convention which will be held at Toledo, May 26 and 27, at which William A. Westfall, Mason City, Iowa, international president, will be the principal speaker. He also urged members of the club to observe Lent.

Two dance numbers were rendered by Miss Mae Joseph. A violin solo was given by Kenneth Martin, with Miss Gladys Larkins as accompanist. Music was rendered by a panatrope furnished by the Smith-Phillips Music company. Thirty-five members of the club and their wives attended the meeting.

Kerr went to Youngstown where he will be the guest of the Lions' club tonight.

FLOOD SWEEPS MICHIGAN TOWN

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., March 18.—Several streams swollen by melting snow and recent rains have isolated the village of Pickford, 25 miles south of here. Bridges today are five feet under water and are being threatened with destruction by floating ice.

Residents of the north side of Pickford today were unable to reach their business places and high school. Automobiles became stalled in water as they were driven across bridges. Horses working up to their shoulders in water were used in extricating the cars. Others are hopelessly mired in mud.

There is no indication that the flood is subsiding.

Blame Handshaking For Straining of President's Wrist

WASHINGTON, March 18.—An X-ray examination showed that President Coolidge strained a tendon in his right wrist, Dr. James F. Coupal, White House physician, declared today.

The picture also revealed the presence of a fluid and it is necessary to keep the wrist bandaged tightly to force down the swelling.

Colonel Roberts, Of Salvation Army, Here Over Sunday

Colonel and Mrs. Herbert Roberts and Ensign Samuel Hepburn, of the Cleveland Salvation Army headquarters, will conduct services at the Salvation Army over Sunday.

HONEYMOON AS QUEEN'S GUEST

The marriage of Mrs. Edward Russell Thomas, above, widow of wealthy New York publisher, to Colonel L. G. Ament, former chief of investigation for the U. S. Veterans' bureau, has been announced. Colonel and Mrs. Ament are now honeymooning in Roumania as the guests of Queen Marie, with whom Colonel Ament became well acquainted while in charge of the Hoover relief work in that country shortly after the World war.

from Fifth to Sixth street, was laid over for two weeks.

Street Improvements Asked.

A petition from property holders in Crook alley from Fifth to Sixth street and Diamond alley from Market to Washington streets, asking for the improvement of the thoroughfares with reinforced concrete, was referred to the ordinance committee. Another petition seeking the improvement of Orchard Grove avenue west of Smithfield street was turned back when Service-Safety Director Moore stated that two petitions must be prepared, one for grading and another for surfacing.

The ordinance committee was instructed to prepare legislation granting permission to the Potters' Supply company to enlarge its ware house in First street. Attorney R. G. Thompson, who filed the request for a long term lease, said that the company employs from 100 to 140 workers and that additional factory space is needed to keep the plant in operation.

Spokesman for the Litten Motor Sales company requested the sewering of Tanyard run along West Eighth street near its filling station. The company offered to pay one-half the cost. Council will view the place before the next meeting when action will be taken on this request.

Dr. Joseph T. Williamson appeared in behalf of a movement for the widening and resurfacing of Vine street. He was advised to bring in a petition.

West Sixth Street Paving.

Farrall reported that the request for hospital treatment for city employes had been rejected by the hospital trustees. Council's committee, made up of Farrall, Kelly and Hughes, will meet with hospital officials to hear an explanation of the finances of the institution.

Another committee consisting of Hayes, Hughes and Goodballet will meet with Henry Goodwin to discuss the improvement of West Sixth street between Monroe street and the street car viaduct.

The ordinance committee was ordered to prepare an ordinance accepting an East End plat of ground for street purposes offered without cost by the Supplee Land company.

Councilman Kelly called council's attention to the need of a dog catcher to round up stray canines, which, he claimed, were ruining lawns, flower beds and gardens. The clerk was instructed to communicate with a Steubenville man experienced in this line of work.

A letter was read from J. T. Croxall, chairman of the board of health, explaining the board's stand in the food handlers' examinations for restaurant, bakery and candy shop workers. On motion of Kelly, the clerk was instructed to request representatives of the health board to attend the next meeting of council to discuss the ordinance.

Request of Howard Scott, city hall janitor, for an increase in salary was tabled without a dissenting vote. Scott's present salary is $120 per month.

"Scurrilous and opprobrious, indecent and libelous criticism of God, the Scriptures and the Christian religion," was the charge against him. If he was guilty, the punishment is deserved. You have no more right to hurt the religious feelings of others than you have to hurt their bodies.

The United States postoffice definitely forbids sending the "Decameron," by Boccaccio, through the mails. That is another wise decision which should not have been postponed so long. Mailing or selling that book should carry with it a sentence to prison.

WESTFIELD, N. J., will handle a mad dog scare by shooting all unmuzzled animals anywhere they may be found. That will hurt the feelings of those that love "man's best friend," the dog; but in Westfield three animals have died of rabies in a week, seven children have been bitten, and that, presumably, hurts the feelings of parents.

In Russia rabies spread by dogs among packs of wolves is spreading so rapidly that the Pasteur institute cannot treat one-half the patients. Within a year, it is said, 342,000 persons have developed hydrophobia.

Great Britain solves the problem by first wiping out hydrophobia at home; then allowing no dog to come in without thorough quarantine.

THIS world will be better off, a safer place for human beings and the animals will be happier when all life except human life shall have vanished, from the elephant in the jungle to the typhoid germs in drinking water.

If there were no crocodiles there would be no sleeping sickness. If there were no mosquitoes, there would be no yellow fever, no malaria. If there were no cats or dogs, many diseases would disappear. Children get them from the fur of "pets." If there were no rats or ground squirrels to feed fleas, no fleas to bite humans, there would be no bubonic plague, and if there were no vermin spread by lack of human cleanliness, there would be no deadly typhus.

DR. A. A. BRILL, studying strange suicides and other queer actions of young people, says the trouble is "the mystery of adolescence." Dr. Brill, who is a disciple of Freud, says parents should help their children through the storms and stress of youth "with understanding and advice."

The trouble is that many parents have children that they don't in the least understand, and many children of the modern day have parents in whose understanding they have small confidence.

The trouble with American children is lack of discipline and a good example in early youth: not discipline with a beating one day and foolish indulgence the next, but the steady discipline of a regular life, regular duties and a consistent example.

Two More Names Listed as So-called Student Suicides

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 18.—The student suicide wave struck New Orleans today, when Harold P. Bergeret, 27, a student at Tulane university, arose from his bed and shot himself to death.

The student's body was found in a bathroom, a pistol gripped in his right hand and a bullet hole through his head.

E. J. Bergeret, brother of the student, said he believed the suicide was caused from a nervous breakdown, the result of overstudy.

GALESBURG, Ill., March 18.—The name of Earl Main, 17, Williamsfield High school junior, today was added by authorities to the list of student suicides.

Main, who was said to have been moody at times, was found shot to death, a .22 calibre rifle beside his body.

DR. COOK MAY FACE FEDERAL COURT IN OHIO

OIL DEAL COUNT

E. Liverpool Residents Alleged to Have Been Victimized.

CLEVELAND, Mar. 18—U. S. District Attorney A. E. Bernsteen today sent a telegram to the warden of the Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, federal prison, requesting that Dr. Frederick A. Cook be held for federal authorities here, on an indictment returned in 1923, charging Cook with using the mails to defraud.

Cook and twenty-three associates are charged with alleged mail frauds perpetrated in the sale of stocks in Cook's Petroleum Producers' association, to residents of East Liverpool.

At Fort Worth he was sentenced to serve 14 years and nine months in the federal penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth. He is now eligible for parole and official announcement of this was made yesterday at Fort Worth, though he was not immediately released.

Bernsteen plans to have Cook brought back here upon his release from the Kansas prison.

Oberlin's Cagers Defeat Toronto in Class B Tourney

COLISEUM, COLUMBUS, O., March 18.—Oberlin's rangy team romped in with the first victory in the Class B Ohio basketball tournament semi-finals here this afternoon when they allowed the Toronto team but two field goals and marked up a score of 25 while the eastern boys scored 12.

The Toronto team seemed overawed from the start, and did not score a field goal until the third quarter. Gaines, the giant Negro of the Lorain county team, scored six field goals and three fouls for a total of 15 points.

Rev. Bona Fleming Concludes Campaign Here Sunday Night

Rev. Bona Fleming, Ashland, Ky., evangelist will conclude a two weeks' evangelistic campaign at the Church of the Nazarene, Sunday evening. He will tell the story of his conversion Saturday night.

George Ward rendered a 15-minute piano program preceding last night's meeting. He and E. B. Marsh rendered a vocal duet, 'You Must Walk With Him Here If You Walk With Him There."

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our many friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy manifested during the recent bereavement of our dear husband and brother, J. Barney Bricelin. Especially do we thank Rev. Father Walsh and singers, the B. P. O. E. and those who so kindly donated their cars, floral and spiritual offerings.

HIGH SCHOOL TO BE CROWDED HERE IN FALL

TO EQUIP SEVEN

Additional Accommodation for Elementary Pupils Required.

Enrollment in the high school will pass the 1,000 mark when the schools reopen next September, Superintendent C. S. McVay told members of the board of education last evening.

The high school enrollment now is 784. Of this number approximately 140 will be lost by graduation. The incoming freshman class numbers 366, making a total of 1,010 which does not include those entering from the parochial schools or tuition pupils from outside the school district.

In order to make room for the increased enrollment, four more rooms must be equipped in the Central building. Three rooms are now being used in this building for high school purposes but next year seven rooms will be occupied.

Additional rooms for the elementary schools will be opened at the Sixth street, Washington and West End buildings. Two more rooms for seventh and eighth grade pupils must be furnished to relieve the congestion in the East End schools, McVay said.

The board selected Rev. B R. Johnson as the baccalaureate speaker. The service will be held in the high school auditorium on the afternoon of Sunday, May 29. The commencement speaker has not been chosen.

EAST END MAN IS FINED $25

James Davis, who resides in Railroad street near Ralston's Crossing, was fined $25 and costs by Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley today when he pleaded guilty to a charge of being drunk and disorderly.

He was arrested by Patrolman James Haley, while, it is alleged, he was demolishing furniture and dishes in his home.

the Cantonese may take weeks.

The defection of three Sun Chuan-Fang generals from the cause of the northerns caused the severest reverse the An Kuo-Chun forces have suffered in some time. By virtue o fthese defections the nationalists were able, virtually without the loss of a man, to push on to within gun range of Chang-Chow, where they are threatening to cut the communications of the northern armies.

The Shantungites, sensing the treachery of the Sun generals on Thursday, evacuated the rail point, retreating toward Nanking.

The Nationalists this morning were within cannon range of Chang-Chow, an important strategic base where approximately 1,500 rebellious soldiers have been quartered since the retreat from Yishing.

Labor Terrorists Kill Two.

General Chang Tsung-Chang, commander of al the northern forces, today wired from Tsinan to Pi Shou-Chen, his field commander, that adequate reinforcements are being rushed to Nanking.

Neverthless, the officials at Shanghai and Nanking are facing the greatest crisis of recent months, on account of the imminent collapse of the resistance to the Cantonese.

Labor terrorists in Shanghai today killed their twenty-ninth and thirtieth victims, both employes of the Tobacco Production corporation, an American company.

LONDON, March 18. — The victorious Cantonese armies have captured Ihsing, on the west side of lake Taihu, and are now pressing on toward Chang-Chow, according to a Central News dispatch today from Shanghai. The northern army under Chang-Tsung-Chang is reported to be in full retreat toward Chang-Chow and Wusib.

All telegraphic communication west of Nanking has been suspended.

DAD IS BLAMED FOR WILDNESS OF YOUTH BY HARVARD LECTURER

BOSTON.—If there is any tendency to wildness upon the part of the modern youth it is nothing more than something that has been handed down from generation to generation, says Dr. Abraham Myerson, lecturer on neurology at Harvard university.

Dr. Myerson has made a close study of the ills of youth and is emphatic in his denial that the youth of today is to blame for any shortcomings. He places the major portion of the blame for such conditions upon the parent.

The research conducted by Dr. Myerson into the life of youth of today has been far-reaching. The adolescent of today will refuse to be bound, he finds. They will choose their own way in life and the only things that the patient should do is guide them into the proper channels not by bossing but by self explanatory methods. The youth of today who refuses to be bound is no different from the youth of our forefathers.

Dr. Myerson believes that parents are unwise to cling to the primitive, for by the time the adolescent stage has come their power over their children has gone. Children should not be compelled to read none but books such as "Pilgrim's Progress" while the parent sits by with a magazine containing stories of real interest to youth.

In commenting on the situation Dr. Myerson says: "In the long run the apple doesn't differ from the tree that bore it.

"Adults are strictly responsible for the doings of the youth of today, and not the adolescents themselves between prejudices and morals.

"The parent of today should not try to find out how nearly his child will resemble him but how the child's mind runs. With that knowledge the course in which to guide the youth into maturity will be comparatively free from the evils of the world, regardless of the age."

Baby on World Bicycle Trip.

With their two-year-old baby, Herr and Frau Adolf Herr of Germany are making a trp around the world. They are traveling by bicycle as far as possible, but recently in Austria they were compelled to haul baby, baggage and bicycle over the snow in a sled. They left Germany last July.

Many students are being sent from South Africa to this country for special study and preparation for undertaking government work.

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia to Overcome Trouble Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by that full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and bloat right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

To Those Who Have Indigestion

Druggist Makes This Offer.

Your Money Cheerfully Refunded if One Bottle of Dare's Mentha Pepsin Doesn't Do You More Good Than Anything You Ever Used.

OHIO TO HAVE LARGEST ELECTRIC GENERATOR IN WORLD AT PHILO

Ohio is to have the largest electric generator in the world. When completed, it will be more than twice as powerful as any other electrical machine now in operation. This huge unit it to be located at the Philo plant of the Ohio Power company, and will have a capacity of 165,000 kilowatts, the equivalent of nearly a quarter of a million horsepower. The largest electric generator now in operation is of 80,000 kiowatts. The erection of this generator at Philo means the bringing to Ohio of a $17,000,000 industrial improvement and will result in the employment of hundreds of men for two years or more, besides the permanent employment of the additional operating staff required.

The new generator at Philo will use as much water in an hour as is used by the combined population of Bucyrus, East Liverpool, Tiffin, Fostoria, Newark, and Steubenville in a day.

Philo gets its coal supply within a radius of 25 miles, but distributes electric power over a system embracing more than 6,000 miles of transmission lines. Using the coal near the mines will save the transportation of over 125,000 cars of coal annually to distant points.

Suitable foundations must be found to carry the tremendously heavy machinery involved. The new 165,000 kilowatt generator with its condensers will weigh over 3,000,000 pounds, concentrated in an area of about fifty feet square.

This turbo-generator, which, with its housing and auxiliaries, costs $17,000,000, is half again as costly as the great Woolworth building. Its cost is approximately the same as the total cost of the great Whit Star liner, the Majestic, the largest ship in the world.

Some idea of its capacity may be gained from the fact that this one electrical generator, located in the centre of Ohio, will have a capacity greater than the present firm power available at Muscle Shoals. This one generator will develop more power than the total installed capacity of the great Keokuk Dam across the Mississippi river.

It will supply power to transmission lines reaching the states of Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia, Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee over the American Gas and Electric company's own lines, and through interconnections will be able to supply power to Milwaukee, Boston, Birmingham or Florida.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

All roads lead to Mecca—and the New York Giants. Since time began it has been the desire of the average ball player to wear the uniform of McGraw's men. It is but a natural result therefore, that the aggregation that has trekked in along the byways and highway should present an interesting array.

Of course Rogers Hornsby, because of his greatness as a batter, his feat in leading the Cardinals to their first pennant and then the manner of his coming to the Giants, is the star attraction.

But there is a measure of romance in the careers of most every other member of the team.

For instance there is Burleigh Grimes, great as a spitball pitcher and the hardest working pitcher in the game, a man who spent years of his baseball life in the service of the Dodgers. He finds himself in the baseball sanctum at the sunset of his career.

Roaming the outfield behind im at times is "Bevo" Le Bourveau, newcomer to the big time, whose very name has a romantic tingle to it—or at least the rythm of a college yell. He was the hardest hitter in the American association last season—and to date is the leading home run hitter of these Giants.

At short is Travis Jackson, young in years but claimant of a world's series record hundreds of veterans would envy. His meteoric rise to fame is readily recalled. Sent in to fill the yawning gap for the Giants in the heat of a pennant race when Davey Bancroft was injured, Jackson startled the world with his playing.

Alongside of him today is Freddy Lindstrom, at third, who jumped from Toledo to the Giants as a mere schoolboy of 17 and proceeded to emulate Jackson.

There is Al Tyson, pride of Louisville, who won a fairly regular berth in center field his first year up. And now the Gods of fate may leave him in possession of that berth.

There is George Harper, who wasn't considered good enough to carry an outfield post all season for the lowly Phile and who has been shunted about the big time before that.

And Jack Bentley, he of the sharp shooting lefthand and the deadly pinch hitting eye, who came up from the famous Baltimore Orioles as a pitcher, became the team's star pinch hitter, drifted away as a discard, and now comes back to be a southpaw pitcher once more with an uncertain mound staff.

Promotion hadn't always passed by

HE COULD remember when the whole office had called him "the coming man." . . . What a difference now! He was barely getting along! His pep, his energy, all his old-time fight were gone. His prospects shattered! What had happened?

Constipation is the cause of much unhappiness and ill-health. It wrecks strength. It saps vitality. It sickens the mind and body! Yet, it can be relieved—yes, prevented! Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to bring safe relief—prompt prevention!

Why doctors recommend ALL-BRAN

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN absorbs moisture and carries it throughout the intestines—at the same time it gently distends them, purifying, removing wastes and poisons. In a part-bran product the quantity of bulk is usually too small to be effective. That is why doctors recommend ALL-BRAN—because it is 100% bran.

No need to risk habit-forming drugs!

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is sold with this definite guarantee: Eat it according to directions. If it does not relieve constipation safely, we will refund the purchase price.

How different is ALL-BRAN from drugs and pills—whose dose must be constantly increased to remain effective! ALL-BRAN is delicious with milk or cream—and add fruits or honey. Let it soak a few moments to bring out its full crisp flavor. Mix it with other cereals. In soups. Try the recipes on every package.

Don't risk part-bran substitutes. Insist on genuine Kellogg's — the original ALL-BRAN. Sold by all grocers. Served at hotels, cafeterias. On diners. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

HAITI IS LAND OF PEACEFUL, HAPPY AND PROSPEROUS PEASANTS, SAYS AMERICAN HIGH COMMISSIONER IN HIS REPORT TO KELLOGG

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Haiti—the land of peaceful, happy and prosperous peasants.

Thus the little Caribbean republic is pictured by John H. Russell, American high commissioner and lately brigadier-general of the marines, in his annual report to the secretary of state today.

The report contains nothing to indicate that the natives are downtrodden, as has been alleged by Senator King (D) Utah, and others. Moreover, references to charges that officials of the American occupation exercise undue influence over the Haitian government are studiously avoided.

An abundant coffee crop, the land's principal product and exceptionally high prices have brought prosperity to the people, the report asserts, adding that "the favorable year just closed has materially benefited the Haitian people, who are better fed, better clothed, and better housed than ever before."

Prospects for the present year, however, are not so bright, and this, the report declares, "is due to the poor coffee crop expected and the extremely low price for cotton." Moreover, the economic position has not only been improved sufficiently "to permit a high scale of wages for common labor, or, in fact, to utilize all the available labor."

President Borno, who recently barred Senator King from the island because of his criticisms, is commended by Russell who said Borno "has made the marked improvement of the last year possible."

"The reelection of President Borno," according to the commissioner, "was unquestionably a wise step on the part of the national assembly as his record for the past four years has been such as to merit the strongest commendation from all who had the interests of Haiti at heart. To abruptly change, or temporarily stop, the policy which he was pursuing, by the introduction of a new president unfamiliar with the many proolems of the Haitian state, would have materially slowed down, if not obstructed, that development and progress, so essential to the welfare of the Haitian people, which is now being successfully pursued."

Receipts for the year reached the unprecedented total of $9,072,929.62, including the customs revenues which increased 122.86 per cent. Of this sum, $1,384,836,90 was applied to reduction of the national debt; $2,156,349.78 to public works, and $536,516.55 was expended by the service technique, which supervises agricultural and industrial education. How the remaining $4,995,226.39 was disposed of is not revealed, although that is probably shown in the supplementary report of the financial adviser-general receiver, which has not been made public.

Only brief mention is made of the fact that the national government was forced to suspend local elections in certain places and appoint local governing bodies of its own, and of changes in stations of the marines for purposes not disclosed.

Russell's only major criticism is directed against the judiciary, virtually the only governmental institution not yet taken over by officials of the American occupation. The judiciary, he says, is notoriously inefficient and incompetent.

APPROVED FOR THREE GENERATIONS

HAITI IS LAND OF PEACEFUL, HAPPY AND PROSPEROUS PEASANTS, SAYS AMERICAN HIGH COMMISSIONER IN HIS REPORT TO KELLOGG

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Haiti—the land of peaceful, happy and prosperous peasants.

Thus the little Caribbean republic is pictured by John H. Russell, American high commissioner and lately brigadier-general of the marines, in his annual report to the secretary of state today.

The report contains nothing to indicate that the natives are downtrodden, as has been alleged by Senator King (D) Utah, and others. Moreover, references to charges that officials of the American occupation exercise undue influence over the Haitian government are studiously avoided.

An abundant coffee crop, the land's principal product and exceptionally high prices have brought prosperity to the people, the report asserts, adding that "the favorable year just closed has materially benefited the Haitian people, who are better fed, better clothed, and better housed than ever before."

Prospects for the present year, however, are not so bright, and this, the report declares, "is due to the poor coffee crop expected and the extremely low price for cotton." Moreover, the economic position has not only been improved sufficiently to permit a high scale of wages for common labor, or, in fact, to utilize all the available labor."

President Borno, who recently barred Senator King from the island because of his criticisms, is commended by Russell who said Borno "has made the marked improvement of the last year possible."

"The reelection of President Borno," according to the commissioner, "was unquestionably a wise step on the part of the national assembly as his record for the past four years has been such as to merit the strongest commendation from all who had the interests of Haiti at heart. To abruptly change, or temporarily stop, the policy which he was pursuing, by the introduction of a new president unfamiliar with the many proolems of the Haitian state, would have materially slowed down, if not obstructed, that development and progress, so essential to the welfare of the Haitian people, which is now being successfully pursued."

Receipts for the year reached the unprecedented total of $9,072,929.62, including the customs revenues which increased 122.86 per cent. Of this sum, $1,384,836.90 was applied to reduction of the national debt; $2,156,349.78 to public works, and $536,516.55 was expended by the service technique, which supervises agricultural and industrial education. How the remaining $4,995,226.39 was disposed of is not revealed, although that is probably shown in the supplementary report of the financial adviser-general receiver, which has not been made public.

Only brief mention is made of the fact that the national government was forced to suspend local elections in certain places and appoint local governing bodies of its own, and of changes in stations of the marines for purposes not disclosed.

Russell's only major criticism is directed against the judiciary, virtually the only governmental institution not yet taken over by officials of the American occupation. The judiciary, he says, is notoriously inefficient and incompetent.

SNOW FENCES BEING REMOVED

State Highway Superintendent Kiltner and a force of men are now engaged in the removal of all snow fences erected along main highways by that highway division last year. These portable fences are being returned to Lisbon and placed in storage, and will be erected again next November.

The fences proved of advantage, according to Kiltner, and many drifts were avoided during the last season at open spots on highways that in former years were clogging the roads.

VILLAGE MAYOR GETS $200 JOB

Bootleggers' Nemesis is Put on Salary Basis.

HAMILTON, Ohio, March 18.—Morris Y. Shuler, mayor of Seven Mile, near here, and known for his activities in prosecuting liquor and traffic law violators today began conducting his office on a salary of $200 a month.

The town council voted the mayor this salary after the U. S. supreme court decided it was unconstitutional for an inferior court to accept fees.

Under this arrangement the mayor will pay all collected fines into the village treasury instead of splitting them with his raiders, and so conform to the supreme court decision.

LEGAL NOTICE.
Sealed proposals will be received at the Office of the Auditor of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, until twelve (12) o'clock noon, Eastern Standard Time on Tuesday, March 22nd, 1927, for the purchase of bonds of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, in the aggregate sum of Nine Thousand Five Hundred Forty Dollars ($9,540.00), dated May 1st, 1927. Said bonds will be ten (10) in number and numbered from one to ten, both inclusive; the first of said bonds shall be of the denomination of Nine Hundred Ninety Dollars $(950.90) and the balance of said bonds shall be of the denomination of Nine Hundred Fifty Dollars ($950.00) and all will draw interest at the rate of five (5) per cent per annum, payable semi-annually on the first days of March and September of each year upon presentation and surrender of the interest coupons to be attached to said bonds. Said bonds shall be due and payable as follows:

Date of Maturity	Number	Amount
September 1, 1928	1 and 2	$1,940.00
September 1, 1929	3 and 4	1,900.00
September 1, 1930	5 and 6	1,900.00
September 1, 1931	7 and 8	1,900.00
September 1, 1932	9 and 10	1,900.00

Said bonds shall be issued to pay the City's Portion of the cost of the following named improvements:
Sewer District Number Three and part of Pennsylvania Avenue Sanitary Sewer Improvement;
Sewer District Number Three and parts of Harker Avenue, Central Street, Cuba Alley, Chambers Street, Dewey Street and Vinton Alley Sanitary Sewer Improvements;
Sewer District Number Three and parts of Pennsylvania Avenue, Martin Street and Ridge Alley Sanitary Sewer Improvement; Sewer District Number Three and parts of Belleck Street, Kent Street, Maple Street, Mulberry Street, Locust Street, Locust Alley, First Street, Long Alley, Virginia Avenue, Fox Alley, Mapletree Street, Elmwood Street and Boyce Street Sanitary Sewer Improvement.
Said bonds shall be issued under authority of the laws of the State of Ohio and of Section 3939 of the General Code of Ohio and under authority and in accordance with a certain Ordinance of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, entitled: "An Ordinance to provide for the issue of Bonds to pay the City's portion of the cost of the following named improvements: Sewer District Number Three and Pennsylvania Avenue between the intersection of Pennsylvania Avenue and Mulberry Street and intersection of Boyce Street and Pennsylvania Avenue, to connect with the main line sewer from the intersection of Pennsylvania Avenue to the Ohio River; Sewer District Number Three beginning at the trunk sewer at Boyce Street and Pennsylvania Avenue; thence as follows: Harker Avenue between Pennsylvania Avenue and Cuba Alley; Central Street between Pennsylvania Avenue and Vinton Alley; Cuba Alley between Vinton Alley and Chambers Street; Chambers Street between Cuba Alley and Dewey Street; Dewey Street between Harker Street and Vinton Alley; Vinton Alley between Central Street and Cuba Alley; Sewer District Number Three commencing at the southerly line of Boyce Street, thence extending in a northeasterly direction along Pennsylvania Avenue to manhole at Martin Street and extending from manhole at Martin Street and Pennsylvania Avenue to manhole at Martin Street and Ridge Alley, thence along Ridge Alley to the flush tank near Wedgewood Street; Sewer District Number Three beginning at a manhole on the trunk sewer at the intersection of State Street and Belleck Street; thence as follows: Belleck Street between State Street and Kent Street; Kent Street between Belleck Street and Maple Street; Maple Street between Pennsylvania Avenue and Cleveland Alley; Long Alley between Pennsylvania Avenue and a point on Cleveland Alley; Mulberry Street between Pennsylvania Avenue and Cleveland Alley; Locust Street between Pennsylvania Avenue and Cleveland Alley; Locust Alley between Locust Street and Mulberry Street; First Street between Pennsylvania Avenue and Cleveland Alley; Long Alley between Pennsylvania Avenue and Cleveland Alley; Virginia Avenue between Mapletree Street and Fox Alley; Fox Alley between Long Alley and Virginia Avenue; Mapletree Street between Virginia Avenue and Boyce Street; Elmwood Street between Virginia Avenue and Boyce Street; Boyce Street between Knox Street and Sylvan Street; by installing a sanitary sewer improvement in each of the above named street;"; said Ordinance was passed on the 17th day of February, 1927; said bonds will be sold to the highest and best bidder, at not less than par and accrued interest.
All bids must state the number of bonds bid for and gross amount of bid and accrued interest to date of delivery and all bids to be accompanied by a certified check payable to the Treasurer of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, for two per cent of the amount of bonds bid for, upon condition that if the bid is accepted the bidder will receive and pay for such bonds as may be issued as before set forth within ten days from the time of award; said check to be retained by the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, if said condition is not fulfilled.
Said City of East Liverpool, Ohio, reserves the right to reject any and all bids. Bids should be sealed and endorsed "Sewer District Number Three and part of Pennsylvania Avenue Sanitary Sewer Improvement Bonds"; "Sewer District Number Three and parts of Harker Avenue, Central Street, Cuba Alley, Chambers Street, Dewey Street and Vinton Alley Sanitary Sewer Improvement Bonds"; "Sewer District Number Three and parts of Pennsylvania Avenue, Martin Street and Ridge Alley Sanitary Improvement Bonds;" "Sewer District Number Three and parts of Belleck Street, Kent Street; Maple Street, Mulberry Street, Locust Street, Locust Alley, First Street, Long Alley, Virginia Avenue, Fox Alley, Mapletree Street, Elmwood Street and Boyce Street Sanitary Sewer Improvement Bonds" of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio."
Dated February 23, 1927.
W. M. McGRAW,
City Auditor.

VILLAGE MAYOR GETS $200 JOB

Bootleggers' Nemesis is Put on Salary Basis.

HAMILTON, Ohio, March 18.—Morris Y. Shuler, mayor of Seven Mile, near here, and known for his activities in prosecuting liquor and traffic law violators today began conducting his office on a salary of $200 a month.

The town council voted the mayor this salary after the U. S. supreme court decided it was unconstitutional for an inferior court to accept fees.

Under this arrangement the mayor will pay all collected fines into the village treasury instead of splitting them with his raiders, and so conform to the supreme court decision.

High Passers To Face County League Leaders Tomorrow

Elks to Use First String Cagers In Exhibition Battle

Captain Jim Hamilton and his schoolboy basketeers will take a fling at county league basketball tomorrow night on the high school court when they take on Coach Bill Powell's Elks club five, champions of the second half of the county loop season. The game has been arranged to aid the high school teams in the purchase of sweaters.

And the affair probably won't be such a walkaway as it might seem on first glance, despite the fact that the lodgemen will likely have their strongest lineup out for the occasion, with the exception of Nate Lippe, forward.

Lippe was injured in a recent contest and probably won't be able to play basketball for a week or so.

However, the Antlers will have Dave Shupe at a forward post, along with Tom Pusey, former schoolboy performer, Ray Wilde at center and McConville and Anderson at guards.

The guard selections will present a brother-against-brother combination, with "Franner" McConville, high school defense star, on one side and Charles "Chuck" McConville performing for the Antlers.

Guard Dick Larkins, one of the best efficient defense men turned out in high school ranks in recent years, should give the Elks, scorers something to worry about. "Elmo" English will jump center and Bill McKeever probably will handle the other forward job, along with Hamilton.

There are plenty of expert shots in these two aggregations and a battle of field goals should be the result.

A couple of Sunday school league teams will be assigned to work in the preliminary.

Robins Win One.

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 18.—The Brooklyn Robins have at last won a ball game. They defeated Columbus, 8 to 2. Willie Doak, who is the latest addition to the fold, pitched part of the game.

PAIR JUNIOR TOURNEY TEAMS

First three games of the Y. M. C. A. junior boys' basketball tournament will be staged on next Monday night, beginning at 8 o'clock, in the "Y" gym, it was announced today following the drawings for the first round of play.

Sixteen teams will compete for the junior championship of the district, including representatives from this city, Wellsville and Newell.

The first round pairings follow:

Silents vs. Roamers; Newell Juniors vs. Wellsville Hoot Mons; "Y" Juniors vs. All Stars; Dinosaurs vs. Roselawns; Bulgers vs. Celtics; West End Rinkeydinks vs. Buckeyes; Five Horsemen vs. Buccaneers; Hilltops vs. McKinley Rinkeydinks.

JUNIORS DEFEAT M. E. SCOUT FIVE

The "Y" Juniors defeated the M. E. Scouts last night on the M. E. floor by a score of 33 to 30.

The game was uninteresting until the last period of play when the Scouts almost overcome a 14 point lead.

The Juniors led, 4-3, at the quarter, and 12 to 3 at the half. They outscored the Scouts again in the third period which ended with the tally 21 to 11.

With three minutes to go and the count 27 to 13, the Scouts sent Wright to center and Altman to forward and proceeded to score nine points on tip-off plays. Wright with 15 points and Altman with 13 were high scorers for the Scouts, while Beatty, Morgan and Evans starred for the winners.

NEW YORK ICERS LOSE TITLE HOPE

NEW YORK, March 18.—The New York Americans have lost their chance to participate in the National Hockey league playoff as a result of their 2 to 1 defeat by the Montreal Maroons in Montreal last night.

With Bill Cook shooting both goals, the New York Rangers whitewashed Detroit, 2 to 0, at Windsor and increased their lead over Boston, runner-up in the American section of the league. The Bruins lost to Ottawa, 1 to 0.

INTERCLASS CAGERS PLAY

In the opening games of the interclass basketball tournament the Seniors floored the Juniors, 18 to 12, the Sophomores easily knocked off the Freshmen, 24-11, while the Sophomore girls emerged with a victory over the Freshmen lassies by the score of 14 to 10.

The contest between the Juniors and the Seniors was nip and tuck for the first three quarters. The teams were deadlocked at 5-all when the first period was over. They were still en even terms at the end of the first half, the score being 9 to 9. During the third period the teams continued to fight an even battle the score board showing a 12 to 12 score when the third period was finished. In the finale period the Seniors went out and won the battle, Irwin, Maley and McVey registering field goals.

The Sophomores were entirely too fast for the Freshies, the Sophs leading all the way. The Sophomores used two teams in downing the Freshies. They used Feit, Small, Dyke, Anderson and Menge for the first and third periods, and Small, Witherow, Blazer, Skidmore, and Greenwood in the second and last quarters.

All the Sophomores performed in a clever manner, while McConville, Cook, and Graff were the best performers for the Freshies.

The girls' fray was a hard fought battle, the Freshies leading their opponents by a score of 9 to 3 for the first three quarters. In the last period the Sophomores won the game, Huss, Allison and Cockrane tossing in field goals.

Cochrane, Huss and Nicolin were the main cogs in the Sophomore triumph, while Goodballet, Grumet and Moon did well for the Freshies.

Antlers Negotiating For Midland Games

Manager Ray Adam of the Elks club basketball team, winners in the second half of the Columbiana county league season, today announced he will open negotiations immediately with the Midland Collegians for a series of games for the Tri-State championship as a result of the failure of negotiations with the Damascus county league team for the season's play-off.

The Elks, it was pointed out, have their team ready to play the title series, and would play the series with Damascus, but as a result of the refusal of the Quakers to go through with the series because of their eligibility protests, will claim the championship for the season.

The Quakers, it is understood are protesting Shupe and Lippe, and refuse to play if the Elks use both players at once. The Elks club acceded to their requests in the middle of the last half and played only one of the men in each game, but reserved the right to play both in the title series.

Manager Adam believes that his club did all that was possible in the interest of sportsmanship by playing one man in regular games, when both were eligible, but asserts he does not feel that any other club has the right to say what men the Elks will play and what men they won't play in the wind-up series.

A conference with the Midland management probably will be held sometime during the day.

SALEM AT HIGH SCHOOL FINALS

COLISEUM, COLUMBUS, March 18.—With seventeen Ohio high school basketball teams primed for the two championship finals and the weatherman turning the sod of the Ohio State fairgrounds soggy with torrents, the first clash of the semi-finals was to begin here today at 12:30 p. m., Eastern Standard time, with Oberlin favorite over Toronto, and choice to come through victors in the class B finals.

Experts willing to talk believe that the class A finals will settle down to a battle between Salem and Stivers, Dayton, with Dover rated as a dangerous dark horse.

Midland Trimmed By All-Star Quint

Midland Collegians, without the services of Benedict at center, lost to the Homestead All-Stars, a selection of the best players of the Homestead Carnegie Library league, last night at Midland, 24 to 12.

Sixteen teams will compete for the junior championship of the district, including representatives from this city, Wellsville and Newell.

The first round pairings follow:

JUNIORS DEFEAT M. E. SCOUT FIVE

The "Y" Juniors defeated the M. E. Scouts last night on the M. E. floor by a score of 33 to 30.

The game was uninteresting until the last period of play when the Scouts almost overcome a 14 point lead.

The Juniors led, 4-3, at the quarter, and 12 to 3 at the half. They out scored the Scouts again in the third period which ended with the tally 21 to 11.

With three minutes to go and the count 27 to 13, the Scouts sent Wright to center and Altman to forward and proceeded to score nine points on tip-off plays. Wright with 15 points and Altman with 13 were high scorers for the Scouts, while Beatty, Morgan and Evans starred for the winners.

NEW YORK ICERS LOSE TITLE HOPE

NEW YORK, March 18.—The New York Americans have lost their chance to participate in the National Hockey league playoff as a result of their 2 to 1 defeat by the Montreal Maroons in Montreal last night.

With Bill Cook shooting both goals, the New York Rangers whitewashed Detroit, 2 to 0, at Windsor and increased their lead over Boston, runner-up in the American section of the league. The Bruins lost to Ottawa, 1 to 0.

INTERCLASS CAGERS PLAY

In the opening games of the interclass basketball tournament the Seniors floored the Juniors, 18 to 12, the Sophomores easily knocked off the Freshmen, 24-11, while the Sophomore girls emerged with a victory over the Freshmen lassies by the score of 14 to 10.

The contest between the Juniors and the Seniors was nip and tuck for the first three quarters. The teams were deadlocked at 5-all when the first period was over. They were still en even terms at the end of the first half, the score being 9 to 9. During the third period the teams continued to fight an even battle the score board showing a 12 to 12 score when the third period was finished. In the finale period the Seniors went out and won the battle, Irwin, Maley and McVey registering field goals.

The Sophomores were entirely too fast for the Freshies, the Sophs leading all the way. The Sophomores used two teams in downing the Freshies. They used Feit, Small, Dyke, Anderson and Menge for the first and third periods, and Small, Witherow, Blazer, Skidmore, and Greenwood in the second and last quarters.

All the Sophomores performed in a clever manner, while McConville, Cook, and Graff were the best performers for the Freshies.

The girls' fray was a hard fought battle, the Freshies leading their opponents by a score of 9 to 3 for the first three quarters. In the last period the Sophomores won the game, Huss, Allison and Cockrane tossing in field goals.

Cochrane, Huss and Nicolin were the main cogs in the Sophomore triumph, while Goodballet, Grumet and Moon did well for the Freshies.

Antlers Negotiating For Midland Games

Manager Ray Adam of the Elks club basketball team, winners in the second half of the Columbiana county league season, today announced he will open negotiations immediately with the Midland Collegians for a series of games for the Tri-State championship as a result of the failure of negotiations with the Damascus county league team for the season's play-off.

The Elks, it was pointed out, have their team ready to play the title series, and would play the series with Damascus, but as a result of the refusal of the Quakers to go through with the series because of their eligibility protests, will claim the championship for the season.

The Quakers, it is understood are protesting Shupe and Lippe, and refuse to play if the Elks use both players at once. The Elks club acceded to their requests in the middle of the last half and played only one of the men in each game, but reserved the right to play both in the title series.

Manager Adam believes that his club did all that was possible in the interest of sportsmanship by playing one man in regular games, when both were eligible, but asserts he does not feel that any other club has the right to say what men the Elks will play and what men they won't play in the wind-up series.

A conference with the Midland management probably will be held sometime during the day.

SALEM AT HIGH SCHOOL FINALS

COLISEUM, COLUMBUS, March 18.—With seventeen Ohio high school basketball teams primed for the two championship finals and the weatherman turning the sod of the Ohio State fairgrounds soggy with torrents, the first clash of the semi-finals was to begin here today at 12:30 p. m., Eastern Standard time, with Oberlin favorite over Toronto, and choice to come through victors in the class B finals.

Experts willing to talk believe that the class A finals will settle down to a battle between Salem and Stivers, Dayton, with Dover rated as a dangerous dark horse.

Midland Trimmed By All-Star Quint

Midland Collegians, without the services of Benedict at center, lost to the Homestead All-Stars, a selection of the best players of the Homestead Carnegie Library league, last night at Midland, 24 to 12.

Cobb and Collins Must Produce or Warm Bench, Says Mack

Ty's Hitting Is Off; Eddie Fails To Show Old Speed At Second

By Davis J. Walsh.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 18.—Neither Ty Cobb nor Eddie Collins will start the season in regular positions with the Philadelphia Athletics unless they can prove they are better men than men now sitting on the bench, more or less by courtesy, Connie Mack intimated to the writer today. He made the inference by candidly admitting that to date "some of last year's team have looked better" than several of the human luxuries he acquired during the winter at hothouse prices.

Connie named no names but I was able to learn that one of the pick-me-ups who hasn't looked so good is Eddie Collins and that one of the hangovers who has startled the natives in Max Bishop. It is an excellent 3 to 1 bet that Bishop and not Collins will be the regular second baseman of the club before the campaign goes too far.

Hasn't Picked Lineup.

Collins, they say, can't cover a fraction of an inch around second base. Cobb hasn't been hitting. Neither has Dudley Branom, scion of wealth from Enid, Okla., via Kansas City, nor Joe Boley, the expensive young man from Baltimore. They still are on the line up but no one is guaranteeing how long, least of all Connie Mack.

"I haven't picked my club at all," he said today. "It is early to pass judgment and, therefore, I will content myself with saying that I had a good ball club last year and some of its members have looked better so far than several of the additions I made to the club during the winter.

"I paid a lot of money to build up the team this year but if my 1926 men prove to be better players, they will get the call, regardless of box office values. Fundamentally I am in the game to make money but in reality what I am trying to do is win the pennant. And, if I succeed the box office will take care of itself. All I want to say now is that I have reached no definite conclusions about the respective abilities of the men under me and that my lineup has not been picked in advance.'

Collins says that the leg injury which has threatened to send him into retirement has bothered him not at all this spring, yet Eddie simply can't seem to get around. Cobb has been troubled by a lame back, but, even so, his failure to hit is one of the abiding mysteries of the trip. He hit two yesterday, however, just before Wilson made him hit the air.

Top Heavy With Talent.

Both Cobb and Collins vow that they will be ready to start the season at top speed and then increase the pace.

The ball club is top heavy with talent and when you have too many good players around, you generally have too many problems. It is a club with two men for every position.

The second base duel seems to be all Bishop as against Collins. Mox, of Baltimore has been hitting and fielding like the greatest second baseman in the league.

At short stop, Chick Galloway, the Clinton, S. C., specimen, is said to have brought himself back to the speed he knew five years ago when some though him the best in baseball. Boley has done everything asked of him except to knock some ones cap off with an occasional base hit.

Sam Hale, Wheeler, Tex., and Jimmy Dykes, Upper Darby, Pa., both played last year at third base, so 1926 cannot go wrong here. Neither can Hale, they say. He is the regular third baseman at this writing although baseball men around the circuit think Dykes is the better bet.

Great Pitching Staff.

Al Simmons, of Milwaukee, will play centrefield all alone. In rightfield, Cobb's rival is Walter French, former West Point athlete and Walt, like Bishop and Galloway, is said to be going too well to be an acquiescent bench hand.

Happily, the catchers and pitchers are hangovers of standing. Gordon Cochrane, of Bridgewater, Mass., looks as good as he did in 1925, which was very superior, indeed. Ralph Perkins is another good one. They say Jimmy Fox is a third but James hasn't been able to prove it.

The pitchers are fool-proof. The regular staff will be Howard Ehmke, Sam Gray, Bob Grove, Joe Pate, Jack Quinn, Eddie Rommel, George Walberg and Charley Willis and I can't think of a better one. It is possible that either Ike Powers, Martinsburg, W. Va., or M. A. Hunter, up from Dallas, will be kept but no one regards this a dire necessity except Powers and Hunter.

Bill Shores, of Lawn, Texas, and Carroll Yorks, Philadelphia semi-pro, also are about but the matter will be attended to in due time.

Charley Bates, up from Martinsburg is the fourth catcher in camp but the Athletics will carry only three. Frank Sigafoos, Reading, Pa., infielder also is one of the temporary guests, the other including Dave Barbee, Greensboro, N. C., Alex Metzler, Fresno, Calif., Max West, Dallas, Tex., and Frank Wilson, Sumter, Wash., outfielders all.

A large guest hotel is to be erected at Marysville, a mountain resort at Melbourne, Australia, will have its own hydro-electric plant.

FIGHT FOR SHOT AT SAM'S CROWN

NEW YORK, March 18.—Sid Terris, East Side lightweight, meets Billy Wallace, of Cleveland, in a 10 round bout here tonight which may bring the winner a bout with the champion, Sammy Mandell.

Although Terris is favored to win because of his superior speed and boxing ability, Wallace is the hardest hitter in the lightweight division and has knocked out several good men including Kid Kaplan, the former featherweight champion.

Marquard Wants Job.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 18.—Rube Marquard, the famous southpaw who once burned up the National league while a member of the Giants, is dickering with Miller Huggins for a job on the Yankees. He is also negotiating with John McGraw of the Giants.

Sox in Exhibition.

SHREVEPORT, La., March 18.—The White Sox squad was pointing today for the exhibition game against Jake Atz's Texas leaguers at Fort Worth tomorrow. As a tuning up process the regulars and rookies played a practice tilt here yesterday and at the end of the five inning limit were deadlocked one and one.

We Want To Serve You--Always

And that's why we sell Miller tires. There couldn't be a better way of making you a steady customer—for we know from long experience what Miller tires will do—and why they'll do it.
—Why the flat-shaped Miller Balloons put an end to the chief cause of "spotty" wear in other low-pressure tires.
—Why the Uniflex principle of laying the cord web gives longer life by distributing road shocks uniformly.
And we know, too, that after you've bought your fist set of Millers you'll stop at our shop less frequently—but more regularly!

EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW-TRIBUNE

FINAL EDITION

VOL. XLVII. NO. 112. EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO, FRIDAY, MARCH 18, 1927. PAGE SEVENTEEN

What's What in Washington

BY CHARLES R STEWART

HAITIAN PRESIDENT'S SNUB OF KING SURPRISES CAPITAL

By Charles P. Stewart.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Senator William H. King of Utah, who was barred, as an undesirable alien, out of the brunet republic of Haiti, by President Louis Borno, a few days ago, doesn't class as a very radical member of the upper house of congress.

WM. H. KING

There are Democrats on whom the "old guard" Republicans count for help when they need it. King isn't that kind. He's in the "opposition," but only as a mild liberal. He isn't even faintly "pink," much less a "red."

IF Borno had barred some really turbulent senator, like Jim Reed or Borah or Shipstead, Washington might have seen some sense in it.

Yet Shipstead, about as unmanageable a solon as makes speeches on Capitol Hill, is on a West Indian tour, too. Haiti's said to be on his itinerary, and , from all the state department is able to find out, no objection's raised to him.

To strain at King and swallow Shipstead looks a good deal to Secretary Kellogg like gagging over a gnat and gulping a camel down whole.

The Utah senator has been extremely critical of the Washington government's policies in all parts of the world where the United States has dependencies or "spheres of influence."

He has accused the state department of setting up dummy native rulership in small countries where Americans have large interests—puppet administrations which wiggle as Washington pulls the strings.

In short, he says, we're traveling the path of imperialism, which he considers a mighty bad route to take.

Other senators have said the same thing, but where King probably penetrated Borno's epidermis was in holding the latter's regime up to public inspection as about the worst of the state department's creations.

IT isn't in human nature for a president to like being referred to as a "puppet," and to be referred to as a blamed poor speciment even of a dummy, and a usurper and tryant to boot, was enough to get any dusky chief executive's goat.

King hasn't scrupled to describe Borno in substantially this way.

It didn't particularly hurt the feelings of the state department, which is used to being bawled out by opposition senators, but evidently it left Louis Borno dead sore.

IT'S safe to say that the Haitian government head's order against Senator King took Secretary Kellogg, as well as the senator, considerably aback.

Borno visited Washington about a year ago.

He didn't give the impression then of having so much spunk.

As a guest of manifestly African descent, he was received in the semi-southern capital, politely indeed, but somewhat at arms'-length.

He speaks little English, which made him appear awkward. Obviously he was ill at ease, clearly knew who his bosses were, and generally was sized up as rather meek.

Now he doesn't hestitate to warn a United States senator off his front steps as unceremoniously as Ellis Island turns a European count or countess back from the port of New York.

ONLY, are they Borno's front steps?

Washington may have something to say about that.

King's an "opposition" senator, to be sure, but Ethiopian presidential snubs to United States senators, regardless of politics, don't "take" very well on Pennsylvania Avenue.

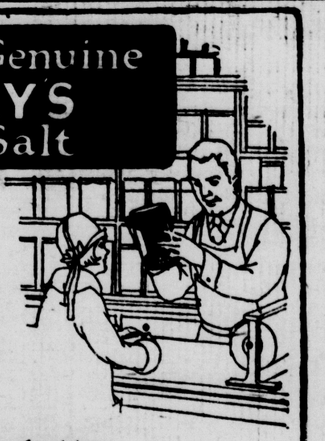
Baby Rides Caught in Auto.

While playing in New street of Abbeyfeale, Ireland, little Michael Lane, son of a shoemaker, was picked up by a passing automobile. When the startled driver stopped the speeding car after it had gone some distance he found the boy dangling to a spring where his cothers had been caught. The child's only injury was a slight bruise on one leg.

Mrs. Kathleen Glover, of England, recently caught a shark weighing 500 pounds off the coast of French Guinea.

Automobile accessories sent from this to other countries in the past year had a total value of more than $52,000,000.

Only ONE Genuine MULKEY'S Iodine Salt



When you ask for Mulkey's Iodine Salt, does the grocer ever offer you something "just as good" or "the same as Mulkey's!" Of course you do not want a substitute. You know that MULKEY'S is the original Iodine Salt sold at grocery stores and the first to be approved and distributed in co-operation with health authorities.

Only ONE genuine Mulkey's Iodine Salt—same quality as the popular "Jack Frost" free-running salt but with the right amount of Iodine to prevent Goiter.

BY CHARLES R STEWART

HAITIAN PRESIDENT'S SNUB OF KING SURPRISES CAPITAL

By Charles P. Stewart.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Senator William H. King of Utah, who was barred, as an undesirable alien, out of the brunet republic of Haiti, by President Louis Borno, a few days ago, doesn't class as a very radical member of the upper house of congress.

WM. H. KING

There are Democrats on whom the "old guard" Republicans count for help when they need it. King isn't that kind. He's in the "opposition," but only as a mild liberal. He isn't even faintly "pink," much less a "red."

IF Borno had barred some really turbulent senator, like Jim Reed or Borah or Shipstead, Washington might have seen some sense in it.

Yet Shipstead, about as unmanageable a solon as makes speeches on Capitol Hill, is on a West Indian tour, too. Haiti's said to be on his itinerary, and , from all the state department is able to find out, no objection's raised to him.

To strain at King and swallow Shipstead looks a good deal to Secretary Kellogg like gagging over a gnat and gulping a camel down whole.

The Utah senator has been extremely critical of the Washington government's policies in all parts of the world where the United States has dependencies or "spheres of influence."

He has accused the state department of setting up dummy native rulership in small countries where Americans have large interests—puppet administrations which wiggle as Washington pulls the strings.

In short, he says, we're traveling the path of imperialism, which he considers a mighty bad route to take.

Other senators have said the same thing, but where King probably penetrated Borno's epidermis was in holding the latter's regime up to public inspection as about the worst of the state department's creations.

IT isn't in human nature for a president to like being referred to as a "puppet," and to be referred to as a blamed poor speciment even of a dummy, and a usurper and tryant to boot. was enough to get any dusky chief executive's goat.

King hasn't scrupled to describe Borno in substantially this way.

It didn't particularly hurt the feelings of the state department, which is used to being bawled out by opposition senators, but evidently it left Louis Borno dead sore.

IT'S safe to say that the Haitian government head's order against Senator King took Secretary Kellogg, as well as the senator, considerably aback.

Borno visited Washington about a year ago.

He didn't give the impression then of having so much spunk.

As a guest of manifestly African descent, he was received in the semi-southern capital, politely indeed, but somewhat at arms'-length.

He speaks little English, which made him appear awkward. Obviously he was ill at ease, clearly knew who his bosses were, and generally was sized up as rather meek.

Now he doesn't hestitate to warn a United States senator off his front steps as unceremoniously as Ellis Island turns a European count or countess back from the port of New York.

ONLY, are they Borno's front steps?

Washington may have something to say about that.

King's an "opposition" senator, to be sure, but Ethiopian presidential snubs to United States senators, regardless of politics, don't "take" very well on Pennsylvania Avenue.

Baby Rides Caught in Auto.

While playing in New street of Abbeyfeale, Ireland, little Michael Lane, son of a shoemaker, was picked up by a passing automobile. When the startled driver stopped the speeding car after it had gone some distance he found the boy dangling to a spring where his cothers had been caught. The child's only injury was a slight bruise on one leg.

Mrs. Kathleen Glover, of England recently caught a shark weighing 500 pounds of the coast of French Guinea.

Automobile accessories sent from this to other countries in the past year had a total value of more than $52,000,000.

COLORADO MAN IS ADVISER OF CHINESE CHIEF

Dudley E. Swinehart Becomes Soldier of Fortune.

MANCHURIAN AIDE

Sudden Departure for America Frustrates Death Plot.

STEAMBOAT SPRINGS, Colo.—Steamboat Springs boasts one citizen who has thrown off the yoke of commercialism, chosen romance as his guiding star, and risen to fame as a soldier of fortune—General Dudley E. Swinehart, who at the age of 34 is chief military adviser of Marshall Chang Tso-Lin, the great baron of Manchuria.

General Swinehart has been in this country conferring with officials in Washington on secret matters pertaining to the Chinese situation.

Friends here received word that a plot to behead the youthful general was frustrated by his sudden departure for America.

General Swinehart came to Colorado with his parents when only 5, and lived on a ranch in Steamboat Springs. When Dudley was 14, his father, then superintendent of a state fish hatchery, and prominent in state affairs, started out on a hunting trip and was never heard of again. It is thought he was lost in a severe snow storm that swept the region.

A chance soon came to go to Panama to work on the canal, then building, and Dudley took it. His brother, Charles Swinehart, was boss of a large construction gang in the Zone and was killed in an accident soon after young Dudley arrived.

After working on the Canal, the call of Central America took Dudley to Nicaragua, where, at almost any time, a promising young American can find fighting and romance. Swinehart found the former in abundance, taking part in an uprising.

After the revolution, Swinehart finished his technical education, graduating in civil engineering from Clemson college, in South Carolina.

Returning to Latin America, he had charge of a railroad construction job in Peru, where he worked for two years, when the World war broke out. At Camp Sherman, Swinehart was commissioned a lieutenant, and later served in China.

It was there that acquaintance with a college classmate brought him into contact with the great war lord of north China, Chang Tso-Lin. Favorably impressed with the young engineering officer; Chang made him chief engineer of a Manchurian railroad.

Swinehart has lived with the famed baron ever since and during the recent disturbances, has been advanced to the rank of general, serving as chief military adviser to the great leader.

Boy's Leg Mangled By Train.

CINCINNATI, March 18.—Physicians today were forced to amputate the right foot of Edward Gerhardt, 5, in an effort to save his life. The boy's leg was badly mangled by a train which struck him while he was playing on the railroad tracks.

With the establishment of many more American firms in Germany, Americans and American goods are becoming much better known there.

Sponsor Wet Bill

Howard Ferguson, top, photo, premier of the province of Ontario, and Attorney General Col. William H. Price, below, are the sponsors of the bill which will give Ontario government control of the liquor industry early in May. They expect that thirsty United States tourists will spend $30,000,000 annually in the province for liquor, and that the bill will sound the death knell to the bootlegger and poison alcohol. Under the terms of the new law all liquor must be purchased at a government store and cannot be consumed in public

Spanish onions eaten in England each week would fill 50,000 cases.

Rigo's Gypsy Ensemble Comes To Ceramic For Two Days

Rigo's Gypsy Ensemble, famous Victor Record makers, will be the stage feature at the Ceramic theatre today and tomorrow in conjunction with the F. B. O. hit, "Rose of the Tenements," starring Shirley Mason and John Harron.

Rigo's Gypsies are instrumentalists who have appeared in every theatre of importance in this country and Europe.

The influence of a woman on the life of the man she loves is the theme of "Rose of the Tenements."

Shirley as Rose plays the part of a girl who is in love with an impetuous, restless but thoroughly lovable boy who is eternally championing various causes. She weathers him through the storms with courage and loyalty and when the war breaks out and the chap turns Bolshevist, Rose is put to the supreme test of love and devotion.

However, with the boy's honor at stake she spares nothing in order to inspire him to the right way of thinking and guide him to enlist for his country. After some tense moments and a smashing climax everything is worked out satisfactorily and both find that their roads lead to the same goal of happiness.

The boy's part is played by Johnny Harron who inbues the role with sympathy and poignant realism. Others in the cast are excellent. Each part is an outstanding interpretation and the picture, made under the peerless direction of Phil Rosen, will be remembered as a gem of a character delineation.

Rigo's Gypsy Ensemble Comes To Ceramic For Two Days

Rigo's Gypsy Ensemble, famous Victor Record makers, will be the stage feature at the Ceramic theatre today and tomorrow in conjunction with the P. B. O. hit, "Rose of the Tenements," starring Shirley Mason and John Harron.

Rigo's Gypsies are instrumentalists who have appeared in every theatre of importance in this country and Europe.

The influence of a woman on the life of the man she loves is the theme of "Rose of the Tenements."

Shirley as Rose plays the part of a girl who is in love with an impetuous, restless but thoroughly lovable boy who is eternally championing various causes. She weathers him through the storms with courage and loyalty and when the war breaks out and the chap turns Bolshevist, Rose is put to the supreme test of love and devotion.

However, with the boy's honor at stake she spares nothing in order to inspire him to the right way of thinking and guide him to enlist for his country. After some tense moments and a smashing climax everything is worked out satisfactorily and both find that their roads lead to the same goal of happiness.

The boy's part is played by Johnny Harron who inbues the role with sympathy and poignant realism. Others in the cast are excellent. Each part is an outstanding interpretation and the picture, made under the peerless direction of Phil Rosen, will be remembered as a gem of a character delineation.

Answers to Questions

By FREDERIC J HASKIN

Did you ever write a letter to Frederick J. Haskin? You can ask any question of fact and get the answer in a personal letter. Here is a great educational idea introduced into the lives of the most intelligent people in the world—American newspaper readers. It is a part of that best purpose of a newspaper—service. There is no charge except two cents in stamps for return postage. Address Frederic J. Haskin, Director, the East Liverpol Review-Tribune Information Bureau, Washington, D. C.

Q. What kind of front door has the White House? P. H. B.

A. The steps leading to the main entrance are stone. The main door is 5 ft. wide, 9 ft. 10 in. high and 2¼ in. thick, and is solid mahogany.

Q. Is the California violet the largest of the violet family? T. B. T.

A. With the exception of the pansy, the California violet is possibly the largest.

Q. How large will the battleships Rodney and Nelson be? A. P. S.

A. British ships Rodney and Nelson when completed will be the largest battleships in the world. They will have a displacement of 35,000 tons, a speed of 23 knots, main battery of 9-16 inch guns with a maximum range of 30,000 yards. They are expected to be completed this year.

Q. Which of the Central American states is the largest? A. C.

A. Nicaragua has the largest area, 49,200 square miles. Gutamala has the largest population, 2,119,165.

Q. Do the two satellites of Mars move around that planet in the same direction, or does one move one way, and on the other? W. A. E.

A. The Naval Observatory says that both satellites of Mars move around that planet in the same direction; but the inner satellite completes one revolution in less time than Mars makes one rotation and therefore, seen from Mars, it appears to move in the opposite direction to the outer satellite.

Q. How many Morris Plan banks are there? G. C.

A. There are now 112.

Q. What was Louisa Muhlbach's real name? E. J. H.

A. Louisa Muhlbach was the pseudonym of Frau Klara Muller Mundt, who died in 1873.

Q. Are there floating islands? L. T. G.

A. There are many floating islands. These are sometimes formed by the detachment of portions of the bank, in which roots form a strong enough network to hold the earth together. Others are formed by accumulation of driftwood in tropical rivers and bays. Many lakes in Prussia, France, and England are noted for their floating islands.

Q. What is the pole vault record? R. W. N.

A. A new record was recently made by Sabin Carr of Yale. He cleared the bar in an indoor meet at 13 feet 9¼ inches. This is an inch better than the record of Charlie Hoff of Norway.

Q. What are supers paid at the Metropolitan Opera House? W. E. S.

A. The girl super is paid $1 a performance. Men receive $1.50 for regular performances, $1.50 for regular rehearsals, and $1 for special rehearsals held immediately before performances. Children supers with small dancing parts receive $1.50. Negro supers receive the highest compensation of all, being paid $2 for ordinary performances and $2.50 for such operas as "L'Africaine."

Q. Has Uncle .Tom's Cabin been filmed? C. C. S.

A. Ten years or more ago "Uncle Tom's Cabin" was produced in the movies with Marguerite Clark playing the parts of both Eve and Topsy. We are informed that a new production of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" is being filmed at the present time in Hollywood, Calif.

Father John's Medicine
Gave This Boy Strength to Live in Spite of "Little Faith"

Mrs. I. R. Gisner, of Brightmoor, Mich, recently declared in a signed statement:

"I believe FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINE saved my boy's life. He is eight now and since he was two had persistent bronchial coughs. A friend advised me to try Father John's Medicine. I had little faith in any medicine then but now I tell everyone who has a bronchial cough to please try it. My boy has gained weight and the cough has left him completely."

FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINE, the great tonic food, puts strength into the system to resist the COUGHS, COLDS, and other ailments of childhood which so often end disastrously. Get it; give your child the same chance. No drugs or alcohol. Proven by over 70 years of health victories.

Answers to Questions

By FREDERIC J HASKIN

Did you ever write a letter to Frederick J. Haskin? You can ask any question of fact and get the answer in a personal letter. Here is a great educational idea introduced into the lives of the most intelligent people in the world—American newspaper readers. It is a part of that best purpose of a newspaper—service. There is no charge except two cents in stamps for return postage. Address Frederic J. Haskin, Director, the East Liverpol Review-Tribune Information Bureau, Washington, D. C.

Q. What kind of front door has the White House? P. H. B.

A. The steps leading to the main entrance are stone. The main door is 5 ft. wide, 9 ft. 10 in. high and 2¼ in. thick, and is solid mahogany.

Q. Is the California violet the largest of the violet family? T. B. T.

A. With the exception of the pansy, the California violet is possibly the largest.

Q. How large will the battleships Rodney and Nelson be? A. P. S.

A. British ships Rodney and Nelson when completed will be the largest battleships in the world. They will have a displacement of 35,000 tons, a speed of 23 knots, main battery of 9-16 inch guns with a maximum range of 30,000 yards. They are expected to be completed this year.

Q. Which of the Central American states is the largest? A. C.

A. Nicaragua has the largest area, 49,200 square miles. Gutamala has the largest population, 2,119,165.

Q. Do the two satellites of Mars move around that planet in the same direction, or does one move one way, and on the other? W. A. E.

A. The Naval Observatory says that both satellites of Mars move around that planet in the same direction; but the inner satellite completes one revolution in less time than Mars makes one rotation and therefore, seen from Mars, it appears to move in the opposite direction to the outer satellite.

Q. How many Morris Plan banks are there? G. C.

A. There are now 112.

Q. What was Louisa Muhlbach's real name? E. J. H.

A. Louisa Muhlbach was the pseudonym of Frau Klara Muller Mundt, who died in 1873.

Q. Are there floating islands? L. T. G.

A. There are many floating islands. These are sometimes formed by the detachment of portions of the bank, in which roots form a strong enough network to hold the earth together. Others are formed by accumulation of driftwood in tropical rivers and bays. Many lakes in Prussia, France, and England are noted for their floating islands.

Q. What is the pole vault record? R. W. N.

A. A new record was recently made by Sabin Carr of Yale. He cleared the bar in an indoor meet at 13 feet 9¼ inches. This is an inch better than the record of Charlie Hoff of Norway.

Q. What are supers paid at the Metropolitan Opera House? W. E. S.

A. The girl super is paid $1 a performance. Men receive $1.50 for regular performances, $1.50 for regular rehearsals, and $1 for special rehearsals held immediately before performances. Children supers with small dancing parts receive $1.50. Negro supers receive the highest compensation of all, being paid $2 for ordinary performances and $2.50 for such operas as "L'Africaine."

Q. Has Uncle .Tom's Cabin been filmed? C. C. S.

A. Ten years or more ago "Uncle Tom's Cabin" was produced in the movies with Marguerite Clark playing the parts of both Eve and Topsy. We are informed that a new production of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" is being filmed at the present time in Hollywood, Calif.

The only complete suit of chain mail known to exist, was recently completed by a Nottingham, England, man, and it has 47,520 links.

CHANGES SOUGHT IN GAME LAWS

Members of the Hancock County Fish and Game association which was recently organized here are interested in several bills now pending in the legislature making changes in the present game law.

Measure sponsored by Delegate O. O. Allison, of Hancock county, proposes among changes that a county game protector be employed for three months of each year. Provision is also made for the method of issuing licenses to hunters and fishermen.

SEEK LABEL ON CONVICT GOODS

Selling, shipping, or offering for sale or shipment, of any article manufactured, fabricated or processed in whole or in part, in the West Virginia penitentiary, or in any other prison or reformatory in the state, in which convict labor is employed, would be prohibited in a bill pending in the legislature unless labeled "convict made" and which will be considered at the present session of the legislature.

Provision calls for a penalty of a fine not less than $100 or more than $1,000, or to imprisonment for not more than one year or both if the measure is enacted.

Rev. Kell to Hold Meets.

Rev. Lulu Kell, former pastor of the Newell Nazarene church, will begin a series of evangelistic meetings in the Chester Nazarene church on Monday evening, March 28. She is now engaged in meetings at Barberton, O.

To Attend Lodge Meet.

Pastor to Give Address.

Rev. W. E. Dean, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, will speak at the thank offering services of the Women's Missionary society Sunday in Boyce Methodist church, East Liverpool.

To Improve Ball Field.

Work will shortly begin on improvements to the Homer Laughlin club ball diamond. It is planned to level up the outfield and have the entire playing field in perfect condition before the opening of the Industrial league season early in May.

STUDENTS WILL VISIT POTTERY

Collinwood School Group to Inspect Newell Plant.

Between 40 and 60 members of the Collinwood high school, Cleveland, will come to the East Liverpool district within the next two weeks or 10 days to inspect the No. 6 plant of the Homer Laughlin China company at Newell, as the result of arrangements which have been made by H. B. Barth, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

The trip was arranged at the request of Arnold Moore, tours manager, who will accompany the party.

The visitors will be entertained at luncheon, according to tentative plans. Arrangements for the affair are in charge of the chamber's entertainment committee made up of Harry Hoffman, W. O. Bloor, William Louthan, L. W. Smith, M. J. Newman and J. O. Anderson.

Nature Doesn't Punish Her Any Longer

Menstruation is Nature — but menstrual pain is NOT natural, and not necessary. Science has conquered the painful part. In a harmless—yes, healthful—little tablet called midol.

Midol is a more remarkable means of relieving such pain than even a habit forming drug. It acts directly on the organs affected by menstruation, and relief comes in five to seven minutes.

Don't have another day of forced quiet, of pain, low spirits or even discomfort! Midol is effective twelve hours or more. Yet it does not depress the heart, is not narcotic, and is utterly harmless. All druggists, 50 cents, in thin aluminum box that fits the smallest purse.

Only a few cereals come to you with all their original nourishment — often some of the valuable parts are milled away.

But the careful millers of Quick Mother's Oats realize the value of the natural whole grain. They remove none of the indispensable parts—and for the growth years, especially, this is of great importance.

The tender bran covering of the oat, vitamins, minerals, and a liberal contribution of tissue-building protein—these make a bowl of Quick Mother's Oats with milk one of the most nourishing and healthful breakfasts.

Give it to your growing children often. They will love its rich whole-grain flavor.

Two kinds—the kind you have always known or Quick (cooks in 2½ to 5 minutes). Both with coupons interchangeable with the Aunt Jemima coupons for which you receive so many lovely premiums: silverware, electrical conveniences, etc.

Quick Mother's Oats

TURK ANSWERS DAMAGE SUIT

Motorist Denies All Responsibility in Frank Spence Death.

Carl Turk of Erie street, defendant in a $20,000 damage suit filed in common pleas court at Lisbon following an automobile accident in which Frank Spence was killed in the Lincoln highway, June 28, last, has filed an answer in which he denies all responsibility.

Turk, who is represented by Attorney George T. Farrell, Lisbon, claims that a steep grade and a sharp curve exist in the highway near the Spence place, where the accident occurred. Turk, driver of a Cadillac car, says that he saw Spence in the road and that when he applied the brakes on his car, the machine skidded off the road into the yard in front of the Spence house.

Temporary increases in wages and a shortening of working hours has averted a threatened strike in the famous Limburg coal region of the Netherlands.

Night Coughs

Stopped in 15 Minutes.

Almost always coughing is caused by an irritated and inflamed throat or bronchial tubes, which cough syrups and patent medicines do not touch. But a famous physician's prescription recently discovered called Thoxine goes direct to the cause, relieves the inflamed membranes and stops the cough almost instantly, one swallow does the work and the remarkable thing about it is that it contains no dope, chloroform or harmful drugs. Once used you will never be without it. Pleasant taste. Safe for children. 35c., 60c. and $1.00. At all druggists.

Only a few cereals come to you with all their original nourishment — often some of the valuable parts are milled away.

But the careful millers of Quick Mother's Oats realize the value of the natural whole grain. They remove none of the indispensable parts—and for the growth years, especially, this is of great importance.

The tender bran covering of the oat, vitamins, minerals, and a liberal contribution of tissue-building protein—these make a bowl of Quick Mother's Oats with milk one of the most nourishing and healthful breakfasts.

Give it to your growing children often. They will love its rich whole-grain flavor.

Two kinds—the kind you have always known or Quick (cooks in 2½ to 5 minutes). Both with coupons interchangeable with the Aunt Jemima coupons for which you receive so many lovely premiums: silverware, electrical conveniences, etc.

Quick Mother's Oats

TURK ANSWERS DAMAGE SUIT

Carl Turk of Erie street, defendant in a $20,000 damage suit filed in common pleas court at Lisbon following an automobile accident in which Frank Spence was killed in the Lincoln highway, June 28, last, has filed an answer in which he denies all responsibility.

Turk, who is represented by Attorney George T. Farrell, Lisbon, claims that a steep grade and a sharp curve exist in the highway near the Spence place, where the accident occurred. Turk, driver of a Cadailac car, says that he saw Spence in the road and that when he applied the brakes on his car, the machine skidded off the road into the yard in front of the Spence house.

Temporary increases in wages and a shortening of working hours has averted a threatened strike in the famous Limburg coal region of the Netherlands.

Night Coughs

Stopped in 15 Minutes.

Almost always coughing is caused by an irritated and inflamed throat or bronchial tubes, which cough syrups and patent medicines do not touch. But a famous physician's prescription recently discovered called Thoxine goes direct to the cause, relieves the inflamed membranes and stops the cough almost instantly, one swallow does the work and the remarkable thing about it is that it contains no dope, chloroform or harmful drugs. Once used you will never be without it. Pleasant taste. Safe for children. 35c., 60c. and $1.00. At all druggists.

"HELL VALLEY" SCREEN WINNER

Francis McDonald, New Star, in Picture at American.

A dashing new mounted star is with us. Francis McDonald, in his first starring vehicle for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, "The Valley of Hell," easily earns the title. This romantic western drama, now the attraction at the American theatre, indeed offers something new and decidedly different in stories of the great out-of-doors.

The story, an original by Isidore Bernstein, who is also credited with the supervision of the production, treats of the adventures of a most likable young man who is called from college to check the depredations of a gang of outlaws near ranch property he has inherited.

Friendly Indians take the boy in hand and teach him all there is to know about "fanning" and other features of the gun-man's art. This all serves him in very good stead when a beautiful and innocent eastern miss arrives and is inveigled into the 'niquitous den managed by Buck Peters, the invisible brains of the wildest element of the most lawless community.

The resultant conflicts between the lad and the bully, culminating in one of the most spirited chases and fights witnessed on the screen for some time, keep the spectator in a perfect fever of thrilled anticipation.

Edna Murphy, beautiful blonde miss, already famous for her work in serials, ably plays Eileen Faire, the eastern girl. William Steele, as Buck Peters, the heavy, as an ideal villain, and Joe Bennett as her worthless brother, enacted well a difficult role. Anita Garvin played the role of the jealous dance hall favorite of the boss.

Uncle Sam Reports $500,000,000 Surplus For Fiscal Year

WASHINGTON, March 18. — The government will close its books for the fiscal year on June 30 with a treasury surplus of more than $500,000,000, it was announced today by Secretary Andrew W. Mellon.

The enormous surplus is accounted for in part by heavy payment of income taxes on March 15, which are now estimated roughly at $580,000,000, or about $80,000,000 more than for the same period a year ago.

While the general expectation prevails that the new congress meeting in December will write a new tax reduction bill, Secretary Mellon declined today to predict that the surplus will be used to lower taxes, intimating it could just as well be applied to reducing the public debt.

New Process Defies Moths.

A German has invented a process which is said to insure furs against damage by moths. To demonstrate he displays treated fur that had withstood the moths for a year, while an untreated fur that was kept next to it was almost eaten away. The process is secret, and is said to also be effective in protecting carpets and woolen clothing.

How to Look and Feel Younger

Scientific Stimulation Will Banish That Tired, Nervous Appearance.

Nothing detracts so much from the appearance of strength and success in a man as lack of plenty of firm, hard flesh on his bones. Thin, underweight men have no endurance, tire easily and have hard work to keep going—they are the ones who lose out in the race for success.

If you want the appearance and vitality of strong, successful, vigorous men, you should try a healthful and proven digestive stimulant. After the first few days you will note renewed energy, your food will taste better and you will experience an added snap and vigor. As you continue, you will find your weight increasing—in the place of worry lines and flabby muscles, there will be smooth, firm, solid flesh.

As you continue to get full nutriment out of your food as brought about by this scientific stimulant, the nerves become steadier and more controlled, the eyes brighter and there will be a determination and vigor in your actions that will surprise you as well as your friends. These facts may seem amazing to you, but results like these are happening every day to men all around you.

A remarkable stimulant-tonic has been devised for just such conditions. It is delightfully palatable and is prepared by an old Virginia concern in business for nearly a century. Druggists and physicians have come to know this stimulant as "Old Monticello Tonic." Get a bottle today from your druggist, take a small wineglass full before your next meal—see how much better you eat—feel the glow of stimulated functions throughout the body. A few days' treatment will bring a quick change in run-down conditions and overcome lack of energy.

BETTER HEALTH AND LONGER LIFE

To Be Healthy, Happy and Enjoy Life, Use "VINCO" as a Health Builder.

No man or woman can enjoy life with a sour, sick or bloated stomach, torpid liver or constipated bowels.

If you are sick, bilious, have indigestion, constipation or a bad liver, let "VINCO" make you healthy and happy again.

"VINCO" is especially recommended for elderly folks and for cases of chronic constipation where ordinary laxatives fail. Contains no dope and does not gripe or sicken.

Get a 25c box of "VINCO" from your druggist. Take a tablet tonight! Keep looking and feeling young. Do a kindness by telling others about "VINCO."

The Biological Survey now suggests the establishment of community refuges along roadsides and railroad rights-of-ways, at public parkings, parks and picnic and fair grounds, on school and college campuses, in cemeteries, and around reservoirs. Golf courses are believed to be potential bird refuges, since they are largely protected from trespass, relatively free from the natural enemies of birds and well supplies with water and insect food.

The Survey has made a study of the particular birds which are of economic value and those which are destructive. It points out that among the most praiseworthy birds are the cuckoos. The most widely distributed species, the yellow-billed and black-billed cuckoos usually keep out of sight but are well known by their strange notes, which have earned them the name of "rain crows." These feed largely on caterpillars, and subsist to a larger extent than most of our birds on the hairy and spiny kinds. One stomach examined showed 250 tent caterpillars and another 217 fall web-worms. They are also fond of grasshoppers, sawfly larvae, plant bugs, and other injurious insects.

The woodpecker family which includes 24 species in the United States is for the most part highly beneficial. These birds are the chief defenders of trees against insect attack, most of them being specialized to feed upon wood-boring larvae, which pests are preyed upon by few other birds. From a third to two-thirds of the entire food of several species of the woodpecker consists of wood-boring insects.

Not Entirely Objectionable.

Jays, crows, and ravens have always been viewed as objectionable, and the Biological Survey says that on the whole it must be admitted that criticism of them is justified, although they perhaps do about as much good as harm. The damage done by blackbirds is attributed largely to overpopulation. What will perhaps surprise some is the statement that the sparrow family as a whole shows a good economic record.

It is explained that the much-disliked English sparrow is only one of a large family and that his habits are by no means characteristic of the native species. Sparrows, or finches, are essentially seed eaters, but they also consume a fair proportion of insects and in general should be regarded as beneficial. While certain species at times eat too many buds and others occasionally damage grain, these practices are exceptions which may be met by local control.

There is terrific daily warfare between the birds and the insects and there are instances of what might be termed mass attacks. For instance, what has been termed a classic instance of the concentration of bird attack upon an army of insect invaders occurred during the severe outbreaks of the Rocky Mountain locusts between 1865 and 1877. These pests were so numerous that many places visited by them were denuded of every green things. A thorough investigation was made of the relation of birds to the outbreak, and it was found that practically every species, from the largest birds of prey to the tiny humming birds, from ducks and other aquatic fowl to typical bird denizens of the dry plains, turned to feeding upon locusts. Most of the birds so gorged themselves with this plentiful supply of food that they were the means in numerous cases of saving crops from destruction.

The birds for the most part earn protection and the farmer who affords it is really doing as much for his own welfare as for that of his feathered allies.

Rheumatism can't be rubbed away

Are you one of those unfortunates who suffer with pains in your muscles and joints, making you miserable, less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep?

You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S. S. S? For more than 100 years it has been giving relief in thousands of cases, as testified to in unsolicited letters of gratitude.

"I suffered from rheumatism for a good many years. At times my joints would swell so, I couldn't walk. I tried most everything. Went to Hot Springs and finally I decided to try S. S. S. I took a course. In a short time the rheumatic pains entirely left me. I also had a breaking out on my hands for years that nothing would heal, but now this has disappeared, and I am sure that it was S. S. S. which removed the cause. I am now in perfect health, and want to add that I have tried all kinds of medicines but I think S. S. S. is the best." Carl C. Campbell, 115 West Main street, Johnson City, Tenn.

S. S. S. is purely vegetable. It is extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and herbs and gives to Nature what she needs in building you up so that your system throws off the cause.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

MEN WITH PEP WIN BIG REWARDS

Life's battle isn't always to the strong, but the 100 per cent man has the better of it in every way. Weakness counts against anybody.

Men who have lost their pep, men who fail to get full enjoyment out of life, men whose nerves make themselves known—all these know they are handicapped. Many of them have found renewed vigor and strength through the use of World's Tonic—the wonderful medicine that has made so many friends in East Liverpool.

Builds Up at Once

Its upbuilding effect is noticeable almost from the first dose. It invigorates, cleanses the system, enriches the blood, steadies the nerves, aids the digestion—just the course required to bring back full strength and add that zest that makes life worth living.

Take it yourself. You will know its benefits only from actual experience. World's Tonic is sold at $1.00 a bottle by Carnahans, also Brannon, Wellsville, and the other good druggists.

"I was fearfully run down last summer, but because of my age (50) thought it only natural until I began taking World's Tonic. I recovered my pep and strength so quickly that I have recommended it to middle aged friends, who have learned its benefits for themselves.

TEETH IN RELATION TO HEALTH

TOOTHACHE

(Editor's note—The following is the seventh of a series of articles on various phases of dentistry prepared by a representative of the East Liverpool-Wellsville Dental society).

Just recently the writer of this article heard a minister, while delivering a funeral discourse, say that "physical suffering is one of great purifying agencies of the human soul, tending to fit it for the higher things of the future life." I wondered if that minister had ever experienced a real toothache. Most certainly a severe toothache is not particularly uplifting in its general effect on the individual.

It has been truthfully said that practically all physical pain is a direct result of disobeying one or more of nature's laws, and most certainly toothache is no exception to the above general statement. If toothache is avoidable,—and it most certainly IS avoidable,—someone may consistenly inquire how this can be done. All sensation contained in any tooth is there because of the nerve inside of that tooth. This nerve enters the tooth at the extreme root-end, extending the entire length of the root and into the central part of the crown portion where it fills the entire pulp, or nerve, chamber. Now, because of lack of cleansing care of any or all of the teeth, food debris, mucilaginous plaques, etc., are allowed to collect and remain on some part of the tooth surface until fermentation occurs, producing the familiar tooth decay, or cavity.

When once started, this destructive process continues,—unless arrested by some mechanical means,—until the bacteria contained in this cavity penetrates the tooth structure ahead of the actual decay, eventually reaching the nerve therein, causing an irritation, because all forms of destructive bacteria are detrimental to all forms of animal life.

Whenever or wherever an irritation to any part of the human body occurs, nature immediately responds by sending an over-supply of blood to the affected area, thereby producing an abnormal pressure on the nerve, or nerves, supplying that particular part, hence the pain.

The nerve of a tooth being encased in the hard unyielding outer layer of tooth structure, being thus irritated by the bacteria contained in the tooth cavity, and nature thus trying to remedy this irritation by sending an unusual supply of blood to this particular area, therefore increasing the pressure on these delicate nerve fibres many times more than normal, is it any wonder that Andy Gump has been almost crazy with a severe toothache for several days?

Toothache has been one of the most prevalent pain producers since time immemorial. The earliest records of history gives many accounts of folks suffering from this dreadful malady, attributing it to evil spirits, to little worms getting into the teeth. Thus all sorts of superstition prevailed, with all sorts of remedies resorted to. I well remember, when a boy on the farm, a neighbor woman had a magic oil which she claimed to be a sure cure for toothache, called "creoset." Of course, at that time most people knew next to nothing about the teeth because the text-books used in the public schools said nothing about the oral cavity or anything contained therein, and what a sad commentary it is when it must be said that very little improvement in that line can yet be noted. Well, this magic "creoset," I presume, was only modern beechwood creosote, which is very destructive to live tissue whenever placed in direct contact therewith. Of course that would kill the nerve or the obstreperous tooth, thereby preventing all pain until an abscess would form at the end of the root, then more pain and toothache until said abscess would become acute enough to burrow a passage-way through the process and gum tissue producing the familiar "gum boil," with all the evils connected therewith, but allowing some of the pus to escape, thereby reducing the internal pressure, but having no curative effect on the toothache.

It is a well-known fact that the higher the form of life the more susceptible to pain, or possibly the less resistance to pain. That fact can readily be explained because of our methods of living, diet, etc., producing a more acid condition of the system than of those who live on a coarser diet. It is generally conceded that if a correct balance between an acid and an alkaline condition of the system be maintained there would be very little need of either dentists or physicians.

A few years ago the usual method of curing toothache — aside from extraction—was the destruction and removal of the nerve (devitalization) and then filling the pulp canal as best we could with various substances. Dentists thought, as well as colleges taught, that they were practicing healthful and serviceable dentistry, but in the light of modern science, such practices are not tolerated in present-day dentistry. The only sensible method of treating toothache is the method of toothache prevention, i. e., do your best to keep all tooth surfaces as clean as possible by mechanical means, eat plenty of fruits and vegetables, and then whenever a cavity appears—however small—have it filled immediately with some suitable material. That is the way God intended we should do when He gave them to us.

Denial of Reports Of Cash Settlement In Count Salm Case

PARIS, March 18.—Countess Salm, the former Millicent Rogers, today flatly denied any knowledge of a reported settlement out of court of her martial differences with her husband, Count Salm.

"I know absolutely nothing about it," she said. "I am not arranging any settlement."

Reports of the settlement placed the amount the count was to receive from his wife's millionaire father, Colonel H. H. Rogers, at from $300,000 to $500,000. In denying that any money settlement had been arranged the countess said:

"I believe the question of the custody of our child has been settled satisfactorily by the attorneys, I wouldn't like to say just now what the arrangement is."

Railway running time between Paris and Athens has just been reduced two and one-half hours.

Don't Risk Pneumonia By Neglecting a Cold

A cough or cold may only make you feel miserable today. But when you begin to feel "achy" and feverish, with a tightness in your chest, congestion is reaching your bronchial tubes—and these tubes lead directly into your lungs!

Hospital-Proved Medicine — not just a "cough syrup"! This medication pentrates through and through the irritated membranes—and is then absorbed into the blood itself. That is how its healing powers are carried to every part of your system.

If you are catching cold; if you have a "head cold"; if your chest is tight; if you have a cough—even if bronchitis has developed—Ayer's Cherry Pectoral at once! It has relieved more coughs and colds than any other medicine in the world.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is used by hospital clinics and leading physicians. Pleasant, safe and effective for children and grown people. At all druggists. Save 20c by getting the dollar bottle, containing twice as much as the 60c trial size.

New Iron—New Method.
The St. Lawrence Shipway.
Two Good Decisions.
Mad Dogs—Mad Wolves.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

[The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.]

SWEDISH and Dutch companies will work iron mines in north Africa, containing marvelously pure iron, and a low percentage of phosphorous.

Plenty of water power goes to waste in Africa, and electric power, according to a recent announcement, can now be carried one thousand miles. If the Swedes and Dutchmen can connect their African iron mines with cheap electric power and manufacture it by the new electric process, they may cause those learned gentlemen, Gary, Farrell, Schwab and Grace, to think hard and ask for a higher tariff.

However, American steel concerns are already buying iron in Brazil and many other places, and "sewing up" electric power. They will probably manage to keep ahead.

The common stock of the big steel company is declared by experts to have a book value of $219 a share and to be earning above 12 per cent net. That's the stock that the hasty Mr. Carnegie called "pure air, not even water, and one that will never be worth anything," when he refused to take a lot of it for nothing. You never can tell about values in the United States.

TO a gathering of New England business men, Secretary Hoover gave a clear, convincing outline of the St. Lawrence shipway project.

A comparatively simple engineering plan, it will have greater importance than the construction of the Panama canal. The only difficulties in the way are political difficulties the necessity of a working arrangement between Canada and the United States, territory of both nations being used in the canal work.

The building of the canal would create five million horsepower, which would be fairly divided among Canada, New York state and New England, and, in the long run, pay for the canal many times.

It would be an interesting comment on our home methods, and senatorial dignity if Canada and the United States should manage to build the St. Lawrence shipway, opening the lakes to the ocean, while the United States still talks about developing its own Colorado river power.

IN CANADA, E. V. Sterry, an Englishman, is sentenced to 60 days in jail for blasphemy.

ADMITS QUARREL

Victim, Philadelphian, Was Burlesque Show Member.

ERIE, Pa., March 18.—Virginia Gibney, Philadelphia chorus girl in a [illegible] which closed in [illegible] here last night, was found strangled to death in her room in a hotel here early today, police reported.

Police arrested K. H. Bechtel, 25, of Buffalo, and lodged him in jail on a murder charge in connection with the case.

Death Follows Party.

Police said Bechtel admitted having quarreled with the actress after their return from a party late last night. Both were guests of the same hotel, where Bechtel was arrested shortly after the actress' body was found, scantily clad, in her room.

Bechtel said he came to Erie from Buffalo on business, according to police, and met the actress through a bell boy at the hotel.

Two Others Held.

Coroner John Hanley ordered D. J. O'Donnell, Pittsburgh steel salesman who was in the party, to be held at 10 a. m.

Kenneth Gamble, bell boy in the hotel where the quarrel took place, was also arrested and is held on an open charge.

Police said there were several persons at the party which started after the show closed last night, and that the alleged quarrel came after the party disbanded, each going to his room in the hotel.

The chorus girl, who joined the company in Philadelphia, was found lying across the bed in her room, and shortly after Bechtel was arrested in his room, adjoining. Theatre attaches gave the victim's age as 40.

Frequent Explosions, Believed Due to Sinking of Crater, Occur, But Observatory Says There is no Danger.

Frequent explosions accompanied the belching of flames.

The officials of the observatory state there is no danger to either tourists or inhabitants of the slopes of Vesuvius, but the peasant folk are apprehensive as they always are when the volcano is in eruption.

U. S. Board Hits Ford's Railroad Merger Proposal

The automobile magnate's plans for a consolidation of his railroad, the Detroit & Ironton, with the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton, through acquisition of stock, were rejected by the commission as being "not compatible with the public interest."

AUTO AND TRUCK REPORTED STOLEN

Two motor vehicles—a pleasure car and a truck—were stolen from their parking places on the streets, police were advised today.

The truck, a Ford, was the property of Vance Andrews, Bradshaw avenue. The machine, which carried license number T-94-493, had been parked in front of the Andrews home at 619 Jefferson street.

An Overland touring car, owned by Ray Henderson, Palissey street, was taken while parked in Jackson street between Fifth and Sixth streets. The license number was 387-287.

Canton Attorneys Appointed to Defend Former Detective

CANTON, O., March 18.—Judge A. W. Agler today appointed Attorneys J. H. Robertson and Frank T. Bow, both of Canton, to represent Floyd Streitenberger, former Canton detective, awaiting arraignment here on a first degree murder charge in connection with the killing of Don R. Mellett, Canton publisher, July 16, last.

Streitenberger will probably be arraigned next Monday, it was stated

Gov. H. L. Whitfield Of Mississippi Dies in Jackson

'SAFE AND SANE' FOURTH PLAN IS APPROVED BY 4 TO 3 VOTE

Measure Prohibits Sale and Discharge of Pyrotechnics.

TEST SENTIMENT

Future Action Dependent Upon Attitude of Public.

By a vote of 4 to 3, city council, last night, placed on first reading an ordinance prohibiting the sale and use of fireworks in East Liverpool. Solons Thomas Farrall, Charles Hayes, W. H. Kelly and L. M. Poole supported the measure, while George Hughes, Clyde Goodballet and Otto Kommel voted against it.

The proposal, which was tabled two weeks ago, was revived by Farrall, who charged that fellow members failed to show him courtesy to have the measure read at the previous session.

"Let's place this measure on first reading to ascertain sentiment," Farrall urged. "In two weeks we can then pass it on second or third readings or reject it. The people should be permitted to express themselves on the question of a 'safe and sane' Fourth."

O. K. Annexation.

Goodballet charged that "previous administrations" had made a "fizzle" out of efforts to stop the sale and use of fireworks and that the matter should only be passed to the next administration. Farrall denied that legislation intended to stop the sale and use of pyrotechnics had ever been considered by council. Hayes also expressed the opinion that the people should be given an opportunity to say whether they wanted this measure enacted.

A motion to suspend the rules in order to pass it on second reading was lost for the lack of the necessary two-thirds vote, the line-up being the same as for consideration.

An ordinance approving the annexation of [illegible] approximately 560 acres of land north of the municipality, approved by the county commissioners and common pleas court was passed on three readings, after suspension of the rules and adoption of the court's decision as a part of the records.

Ordinance Enacted.

Twelve other ordinances and resolutions were enacted. They were:

Ordinance establishing the grade lines on Perry avenue, Belmar street, Idaho and Sanford streets; resolution adjusting special assessments for sewer improvements against certain East End property; ordinance determining to proceed with improvement of Spring Grove avenue; resolution authorizing the service director to seek bids for purchase of motor truck for water works department; ordinance declaring it necessary to grade and pave Thompson avenue through Watson avenue to Vine street; ordinance declaring it necessary to sewer Sutton alley; ordinance authorizing the service director to pay approximately $3,173.47 in debts alleged to have been contracted by a former administration; ordinance to sewer Erie and Dewey streets, East End; resolution declaring it necessary to transfer $200 from the maintenance and repair fund to the street repair fund to meet the city's share in teh Middle alley improvement.

Another resolution declaring the city's intention to start condemnation proceedings against property owned by John Brookes, Dresden avenue florist, needed in the Dresden avenue improvement, was unanimously rejected on third reading after being passed on first and second readings. Councilman Hayes reported that Brookes had priced .88 of an acre at $3,500. This land, he claimed, was on the tax duplicate at $600 per acre.

Another resolution prohibiting the parking of vehicles in Crook alley,

FALL OF SHANGHAI LOOMS AS CANTONESE CAPTURE WUKIANG AND LISHUI AND CLOSE IN UPON NANKING WHEN FOE LEADERS DESERT

LONDON, March 18.—The Cantonese have captured Wukiang and Lishui and are now closing in upon Nanking, according to dispatches received here today.

The Daily Telegraph correspondent declares that the Northerners have already begun the evacuation of Nanking.

Nationalists on Verge of Victory.

SHANGHAI, March 18.—The war fortunes of northern China are at a low ebb today and the southern Nationalists appear on the verge of important victories.

Although General Chang Tsung has messaged that he is sending reinforcements to Nanking, the fall of that important center to the Cantonese is imminent as fighting proceeds on all sides. Already there are frequent reports that it has fallen or that it has been cut off from communication.

The Cantonese meanwhile are advancing on Chang Chow and Suntiang is in danger of being entirely isolated.

The cost of the Cantonese advance in life is not great, as defections in the Northern troops have resulted in minor resistance in many battles.

Today

New Iron—New Method.
The St. Lawrence Shipway.
Two Good Decisions.
Mad Dogs—Mad Wolves.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

[The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.]

SWEDISH and Dutch companies will work iron mines in north Africa, containing marvelously pure iron, and a low percentage of phosphorous.

Plenty of water power goes to waste in Africa, and electric power, according to a recent announcement, can now be carried one thousand miles. If the Swedes and Dutchmen can connect their African iron mines with cheap electric power and manufacture it by the new electric process, they may cause those learned gentlemen, Gary, Farrell, Schwab and Grace, to think hard and ask for a higher tariff.

However, American steel concerns are already buying iron in Brazil and many other places, and "sewing up" electric power. They will probably manage to keep ahead.

The common stock of the big steel company is declared by experts to have a book value of $219 a share and to be earning above 12 per cent net. That's the stock that the hasty Mr. Carnegie called "pure air, not even water, and one that will never be worth anything," when he refused to take a lot of it for nothing. You never can tell about values in the United States.

TO a gathering of New England business men, Secretary Hoover gave a clear, convincing outline of the St. Lawrence shipway project.

A comparatively simple engineering plan, it will have greater importance than the construction of the Panama canal. The only difficulties in the way are political difficulties the necessity of a working arrangement between Canada and the United States, territory of both nations being used in the canal work.

The building of the canal would create five million horsepower, which would be fairly divided among Canada, New York state and New England, and, in the long run, pay for the canal many times.

It would be an interesting comment on our home methods, and senatorial dignity if Canada and the United States should manage to build the St. Lawrence shipway, opening the lakes to the ocean, while the United States still talks about developing its own Colorado river power.

IN CANADA, E. V. Sterry, an Englishman, is sentenced to 60 days in jail for blasphemy.

ACTRESS' BODY, SCANTILY CLAD, FOUND IN ERIE HOTEL

ADMITS QUARREL

Victim, Philadelphian, Was Burlesque Show Member.

ERIE, Pa., March 18.—Virginia Gibney, Philadelphia chorus girl in a [illegible] which closed in [illegible] here last night, was found strangled to death in her room in a hotel here early today, police reported.

Police arrested K. H. Bechtel, 25, of Buffalo, and lodged him in jail on a murder charge in connection with the case.

Death Follows Party.

Police said Bechtel admitted having quarreled with the actress after their return from a party late last night. Both were guests of the same hotel, where Bechtel was arrested shortly after the actress' body was found, scantily clad, in her room.

Bechtel said he came to Erie from Buffalo on business, according to police, and met the actress through a bell boy at the hotel.

Two Others Held.

Coroner John Hanley ordered D. J. O'Donnell, Pittsburgh steel salesman who was in the party, to be held at 10 a. m.

Kenneth Gamble, bell boy in the hotel where the quarrel took place, was also arrested and is held on an open charge.

Police said there were several persons at the party which started after the show closed last night, and that the alleged quarrel came after the party disbanded, each going to his room in the hotel.

The chorus girl, who joined the company in Philadelphia, was found lying across the bed in her room, and shortly after Bechtel was arrested in his room, adjoining. Theatre attaches gave the victim's age as 40.

J. A. Hendrickson, 72, Potter, Dies In Salem Hospital

He is survived by two sons and three daughters: S. E. Hendrickson, Beaver, Pa.; John Hendrickson, Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. C. M. Humason, Beaver, Pa.; Mrs. A. E. Stahl and Mrs. T. J. Pugh, Chester, and the following brothers and sisters: Edward Hendrickson, Columbus; William Hendrickson, East Liverpool; Mrs. Melvin Click, Detroit; Mrs. Robert McElravey, Coraopolis, Pa., and Mrs. Arthur Graham, Chester.

Funeral services will be held at 3:30 tomorrow afternoon in the Miller funeral home, West Sixth street, in charge of Rev. A. E. Sims, pastor of the Chester Christian church. Burial will be made in Spring Grove cemetery.

Friends may view the body tonight from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Mount Vesuvius, in Eruption, Shoots Fountains of Liquid Fire

Frequent Explosions, Believed Due to Sinking of Crater, Occur, But Observatory Says There is no Danger.

Frequent explosions accompanied the belching of flames.

The officials of the observatory state there is no danger to either tourists or inhabitants of the slopes of Vesuvius, but the peasant folk are apprehensive as they always are when the volcano is in eruption.

U. S. Board Hits Ford's Railroad Merger Proposal

The automobile magnate's plans for a consolidation of his railroad, the Detroit & Ironton, with the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton, through acquisition of stock, were rejected by the commission as being "not compatible with the public interest."

AUTO AND TRUCK REPORTED STOLEN

Two motor vehicles—a pleasure car and a truck—were stolen from their parking places on the streets, police were advised today.

The truck, a Ford, was the property of Vance Andrews, Bradshaw avenue. The machine, which carried license number T-94-493, had been parked in front of the Andrews home at 610 Jefferson street.

An Overland touring car, owned by Ray Henderson, Palissey street, was taken while parked in Jackson street between Fifth and Sixth streets. The license number was 287-287.

'SAFE AND SANE' FOURTH PLAN IS APPROVED BY 4 TO 3 VOTE

Measure Prohibits Sale and Discharge of Pyrotechnics.

TEST SENTIMENT

Future Action Dependent Upon Attitude of Public.

By a vote of 4 to 3, city council, last night, placed on first reading an ordinance prohibiting the sale and use of fireworks in East Liverpool. Solons Thomas Farrall, Charles Hayes, W. H. Kelly and L. M. Poole supported the measure, while George Hughes, Clyde Goodballet and Otto Kommel voted against it.

The proposal, which was tabled two weeks ago, was revived by Farrall, who charged that fellow members failed to show him courtesy to have the measure read at the previous session.

"Let's place this measure on first reading to ascertain sentiment," Farrall urged. "In two weeks we can then pass it on second or third readings or reject it. The people should be permitted to express themselves on the question of a 'safe and sane' Fourth."

O. K. Annexation.

Goodballet charged that "previous administrations" had made a "fizzle" out of efforts to stop the sale and use of fireworks and that the matter should only be passed to the next administration. Farrall denied that legislation intended to stop the sale and use of pyrotechnics had ever been considered by council. Hayes also expressed the opinion that the people should be given an opportunity to say whether they wanted this measure enacted.

A motion to suspend the rules in order to pass it on second reading was lost for the lack of the necessary two-thirds vote, the line-up being the same as for consideration.

An ordinance approving the annexation of [illegible] approximately 560 acres of land not [illegible] the municipality, approved by the city commissioners and common [illegible] was passed on three readings under suspension of the rules [illegible] of the court's decision [illegible] a part of the records.

Ordinance Enacted.

Twelve other ordinances nad resolutions were enacted. They were:

Ordinance establishing the grade lines on Perry avenue, Belmar street, Idaho and Sanford streets; resolution adjusting special assessments for sewer improvements against certain East End property; ordinance determining to proceed with improvement of Spring Grove avenue; resolution authorizing the service director to seek bids for purchase of motor truck for water works department; ordinance declaring it necessary to grade and pave Thompson avenue through Watson avenue to Vine street; ordinance declaring it necessary to sewer Sutton alley; ordinance authorizing the service director to pay approximately $3,173.47 in debts alleged to have been contracted by a former administration; ordinance to sewer Erie and Dewey streets, East End; resolution declaring it necessary to transfer $200 from the maintenance and repair fund to the street repair fund to meet the city's share in teh Middle alley improvement.

Another resolution declaring the city's intention to start condemnation proceedings against property owned by John Brookes, Dresden avenue florist, needed in the Dresden avenue improvement, was unanimously rejected on third reading after being passed on first and second readings. Councilman Hayes reported that Brookes had priced .88 of an acre at $3,500. This land, he claimed, was on the tax duplicate at $600 per acre.

Another resolution prohibiting the parking of vehicles in Crook alley,

FALL OF SHANGHAI LOOMS AS CANTONESE CAPTURE WUKIANG AND LISHUI AND CLOSE IN UPON NANKING WHEN FOE LEADERS DESERT

LONDON, March 18.—The Cantonese have captured Wukiang and Lishui and are now closing in upon Nanking, according to dispatches received here today.

The Daily Telegraph correspondent declares that the Northerners have already begun the evacuation of Nanking.

Nationalists on Verge of Victory.

SHANGHAI, March 18.—The war fortunes of northern China are at a low ebb today and the southern Nationalists appear on the verge of important victories.

Although General Chang Tsung has messaged that he is sending reinforcements to Nanking, the fall of that important center to the Cantonese is imminent as fighting proceeds on all sides. Already there are frequent reports that it has fallen or that it has been cut off from communication.

The Cantonese meanwhile are advancing on Chang-Chow and Sunkiang is in danger of being entirely isolated.

The cost of the Cantonese advance in life is not great, as defections in the Northern troops have resulted in minor resistance in many battles.

With the fall of Nanking anticipated, it is admitted here now that only a sudden reversal of fortune can save Shanghai, a [illegible]

EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO, FRIDAY, MARCH 18, 1927. EDITION 112.

Spring is Almost Here, and the Whole Store is Astir With Spring Activity

"Yes, Most of Our State

—along the railroad, does look uninviting. But you ought to see the rest of it!"

True enough, if you happen to be familiar with the really prosperous state our friend hails from. But wouldn't it be worth while to put some of the smiling evidence of progress where the casual traveler could see it?

A bleak aspect on the highways of a commonwealth or of everyday human intercourse often creates a wrong impression.

The New Under-Girdle Corselette.

Most women prefer the corselette — the one-piece corset garment which affords comfort and confers the straight line so necessary to present day modes.

The slender figure is the silhouette of the day and even in summer you may wear a corselette without feeling it.

That comfort and fashion may travel together is evident in these new corselettes that give one the feeling of wearing no corset at all, yet restrains he figure sufficiently to be in accord with the straight silhouette.

Among the new and perfect fitting foundations designed for women are corselettes with the special under-girdle features, to give smoother, smarter lines to those whose figures need added restraint.

Developed of fancy brocades, satins or silk brassiere with brocade body. In flesh only. Sizes 32 to 50.

Priced from $3.00 to $10.00.

FASHIONGRAMS

Latest news of the world of Fashion condensed for quick reading.

Jacquette dresses, though they be silken, simulate a three-piece tailleur most convincingly.

Now that tailleurs are in a position of prominence, fur scarfs become a smart necessity. Foxes "light complexioned"—silver or pointed — take a fashionable lead.

Nothing is so chic as a small black felt hat—brimless or with a bit of brim.

Georgettes and chiffons have developed a new-found fondness for taffeta ruchings.

Favoring bright colors and two piece effects, the Sports frock takes an all important place in Spring calculations.

Woolens as light as sheer silk—first introduced by Rodier—are sailing high in the sky of French fashions just now.

Much is being said of tailleurs, and rightly, for they are so characteristic of the season with their youthful chic and debonair.

Now that everything is so "sporty," sports coats are naturally the smartest for general wear.

Not a sign of a collar is allowed if you are going to be extremely smart this season.

Three is not necessarily a crowd when it comes to the newest compose.

"Pour le sport," whether you take an active part or not, you may be sure you are smart if your blouse is of wool, crepella, or jersey, and your skirt is of crepe de chine.

Again we hear the old story of Satin and its importance among Spring frocks, and as trimming on coats and sports costumes.

CHAPTER SIXTY-SEVEN.

"Quick," I said, and we sped through the door and down the stairs into the hall of the house. There I paused.

"I don't remember exactly where the room is from here," I said. "I only saw it once and that was at night, but I think it must be over here."

Claypole had quite recovered and was now all action.

We separated, the gendarme following me. I passed through the room of my first interview with the Center and through the room with the black velvet curtains. It was empty and beyond it was a small door.

I tore it open and, rushing through found myself in a small passage. At the end was a staircase, narrow and winding, connecting the servants' quarters with their bedrooms.

To the right of it, at the end of the passage, was a door which I recognized. It was of oak and heavily studded with nails. I remembered how, as they dragged me out of the room on my way to be drugged, I had mechanically noticed the pattern. I shouted to Claypole and started towards the door with the gendarme.

It was locked and bolted and heavy enough to resist the onslaughts of a dozen men. We beat upon it and the gendarms fired into the lock without avail. So thick and massive was it that the heavy bullets form the Mauser pistol could not penetrate.

Soon we were joined by Claypole, the Commissioner and several gendarmes.

"It would take half a dozen crowbars or a battering ram to get that door down," said the Commissioner.

"Window," said Claypole.

We returned along the corridor, followed by the others, and came again to the room with the black velvet curtains. Two long windows gave on to the gravel drive outside the house. We opened them and ran out, turning to the left.

"That must be the window," cried Claypole, pointing.

I looked in the direction indicated and saw, about ten feet up the wall, which was discolored and ivy-grown—showing that that part of the house in which the Center had his sanctum was far older than the rest—a small window crossed with iron bars.

"That's the place. I remember now. The window is fairly high up."

"Find a ladder," shouted the Commissioner to the two gendarmes who were nearest.

The men turned obediently and went off. The Commissioner, Claypole and myself approached the window.

"No need for ladders," said Claypole. "These will do."

Lying in a heap in an angle of the wall were several large packing cases. We seized them and stood two of them on end. They were quite strong cases six foot by four. We all three jumped on them and clustered around the window.

It was, as I have said, small and barred, and our heads came just above the sill, so that we were able to see right into the room.

The Center was bending over the hearth, apparently quite unconscious of the frantic efforts which were being made to get to him. Presently he straightened himself and moved to the middle of teh room. On the hearth I saw a great mass of papers burning.

"There goes our evidence," cried Claypole. "Curse it!"

The Center glanced in our direction. His eyebrows lifted slightly, but otherwise he gave no sign that he had noticed our presence.

We were helpless to intervene and stood there motionless, watching what he would do next. Was theer another passage from the room, and would he make another effort to escape?

We thought at first that this was his intention, for he turned towards the wall, on which was hanging the old tapestry of Aeneas and Anchises. He pulled back the hanging and disclosed a picture. I could not see at first what it was. Then I heard a soft whistle from Claypole.

"My God!" he whispered.

After he had exposed the painting, the Center stepped backwards and bowed towards it three times, very solemnly, bending his knees. Then he turned once more to the middle of the room and sat down in Japanese fashion on his heels, his knees pressed outwards and his body bent slightly forward. This done, he removed from his girdle a small Japanese dagger, the wakizashi, some nine inches long, and laid it beside him at his left hand. He was in profile to us, the picture opposite to him on the wall. His next action was to unfasten his haori, or overtunic, which he discarded altogether, putting it behind him. Then, slipping his arms from his kimono, he tucked the sleeves carefully under his knees, thus slightly increasing the forward slant of his body. He was now naked to the waist save for his Japanese underclothing.

EAST LIVERPOOL—AMERICA'S POTTERY CENTER

Suicidal Youth

Much has been said lately about the "wave of student suicides." The newspapers have carried accounts of many such tragedies, and it has been generally accepted that there are far more of them than usual. So everyone has been seeking for explanations and remedies.

Now the New York World, after looking into the records, declares that there is really no such "wave." Lamentable cases there are, indeed, of boys and girls in high school and college giving way to despair and choosing death as the only solution for the ills they see in life. But figures submitted by the World make it doubtful that the situation is so bad as represented.

Mortality statistics show that more than 1,200 young people, from 15 to 24, take their own lives in this country every year, according to government reports. This means more than three a day. Naturally, considering our large high school and college population, a good many of these are students.

The current misapprehension is attributed to the fact that, early this year, several rather prominent students happened to make away with themselves, thus attracting widespread attention, and "after that, the newspapers began to count." Abnormal attention had been attracted to a situation that may not have been really abnormal in itself.

The evil is still great enough to merit all that can be done by way of alleviation, especially greater sympathy and understanding for youth. But it is well not to exaggerate the evil and thereby give it still greater power over the minds of boys and girls of morbid tendency.

Air Pirates

When Major Larre-Borgen, the Uruguay aviator, got lost in Morocco on his flying trip home from Europe, there was method in it. Not method on his part, but on the part of the Moroccans. Native bandits there calmly held him for ransom when he made a forced landing. It cost him and his three companions their plane, their ready cash and $4,250 besides, to win their freedom.

It was a good haul for the bandits, but not a wise one. The Moors could make more money in other ways if they had good business sense.

They are playing air pirates, just as the tribesmen of northern Africa have always played sea pirates when they were allowed to get away with it. Air piracy is the safer of the two, because lone aviators cannot defend themselves. But there is not so much profit in it, because aviators, being warned, will stay away.

The Moors should invite fliers to their country, treat them courteously, show them the sights, sell them supplies and souvenirs—and charge them well for everything. The tourist traffic everywhere is a modern form of the bandit traffic, far more efficient than the old. Europe does that sort of thing better than Africa. And possibly America, we blush to say, does it still better.

The Walking Infant

The five-week-old son of a Chicago doctor is reported to have walked unaided across a room in the family home, before an astonished and admiring group of newspaper men and the proud father.

The doctor explains that he has developed this unusual strength in his infant son by the use of artificial sunlight. Every day the baby is given a fifteen-minute bath of ultra-violet rays. Every day, too, the child is put through a series of exercises designed to strengthen his muscles. He sleeps on a bread board with a pad and pillow.

Just what is gained by speeding up the baby's development in this way is not explained in the news story. Whether this unusual strength at five weeks will be of benefit to the later health and happiness of the boy and man remains to be seen. Perhaps it is a very fine thing and quite in line with scientific progress. But somehow it seems like fictitious progress. One can't help feeling sorry for the forced baby.

Mr. Borah's Raise

Senator Borah, it seems, has not accepted the raise in pay of senators voted a couple of years ago. He turned back the additional $2,500 into the treasury on the ground that his constituents elected him at $7,500, and he ought not to take $10,000 until after he has been elected again.

Whatever one may think of Mr. Borah along other lines, this is certainly a decent and honest thing to do, though it will hardly be questioned that the senator has earned the extra pay, and the country pays little enough at best to its public servants.- Congressman Tucker of Virginia has also refused to accept the raise this term. Possibly there are a few others not known to fame.

When Experts Agree

Hoover says the United States is in the infancy of its greatness. Education is in its beginnings. Our economic stability has hardly begun. In every respect the nation marches onward. But with all his forward looking, with all his optimism, he stresses the danger and foolishness of waste.

Prof. B. H. Barrows of the University of Chicago is depressed and pessimistic about our growth of population. He also urges us to look to our waste.

When two people differing so strongly in point of view see so plainly the same evil, the ordinary fellow might well take a look at his day, his health, his back yard and his budget.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, March 18.—Thoughts while strolling: Men's hats with Tyrolean feathers in the back. A new one—an Eskimo band. Fans with concealed powder puffs and lip sticks. Chaise longue operating tables in beauty parlors.

Larger symphony orchestras to keep your mind off the movies. Former dive singers with their names in lights. Ben Roberts, the Palace orchestra leader. A genial foil for a thousand vaudevillians. Those crawling things in the sea food cafe windows. Ugh!

A raccoon in a drug store window cage. Probably the lone survivor. A soccer shop. Isaac Marcosson with an orchid-hued shirt. A new bank opens with orchestral music. Still no word of Michael Arlen. Ben Bernie and his boutonniere.

Those perky saxophone players with mufflers and nickel mustaches. Blue seems a prevailing color. Beauty Institute sign: "Legs scientifically reduced." Whatever became of plumes for hearse horses? Billy DeBeck the cartoonist.

A nickel drink stand features a harpist. Steak-and-kidney pudding has become a popular Brordway dish. Those winkling mashers around dance hall entrances. Slim, eager girls with heavy silent men. A $50,000 a year electric sign ballyhooing peanuts. Paul Whiteman is much thinner.

Those lonely men who sit at cafe windows reading newspapers. Outstretched greasy hats with lead pencils. Stage stars flashing briefly across the void. Dry cleaning shop sign: "We live to dye." Hard boiled virgins with gold-toothed smiles.

The healty, rosy and cheerful look of bus tourists. Glittering night gyms. Acrid odors from subway gratings. An old organ grinder napping on an elevated stairway. A priest passes. And drops a coin in the cup.

Tin Pan Alley is alert to opportunity. Two hours after Valentino passed away a music publisher's press was grinding out "There's a New Star in Heaven Tonight," and next morning it was on sale.

There are many eccentricities among novelities.. Theodore Dreiser talks best rocking away in a rocking chair and rolling his handkerchief into a sort of anguished ball. Arthur Somers Roche sits at his typewriter tugging away at a green eye shade. Albert Payson Terhune writes easier with one of his collies stretched at his feet. Irvin Cobb tilts his cigar at a Joe Cannon angle. Meredith Nicholson uses a dilapidated old double keyboard typewriter. The late David Graham Phillips stood at a desk and wrote by hand. H. C. Witwer works only at night. Edna Ferber takes a long walk before sitting at her typewriter. Chas. G. Norris works only when he feels like it. That is a dandy system.

It was La Rochefoucauld who said substantially that most of us secretly were pleased a little at the adversity of our dearest friends. Sometimes I think many gloat. I have noted that when great adversity strikes some prominent figure in the town there is that same night extra activity in the cafes—a sort of celebration. The attitude is: "They caught him—we escape."

A man caught in the backwash of a great scandal said to a reporter: "What hurt me most was the secret sort of satisfaction I felt existed among those closest to me."

Harlem is to have a tony hotel for colored people. It will have 150 rooms and single rooms will be $8 a day and suites $14. The cafe menus are to be in French. Which is reminded of the colored soldier who when asked a direction in Paris during the war replied: "Two rues and a champ down the street."

THE LANGUAGE OF THE CRADLE

Booth Tarkington has immortalized the young lady who talked baby-talk. His characterization of her is one of the enduring creations of our native fiction. In real life, though, there sometimes bobs up an instance of this failing on the part of a fond parent.

Here is a case in point: According to Montague Glass, a tired business man of the New York variety returned from lunch looking more tired than usual. To an associate in his office he said wearily:

"Ferguson's getting worse and worse."

"How do you mean—getting worse and worse?" inquired the partner. "Is he telling stories to prove that new baby of his is the most wonderful child ever was born in the world?"

"No, he's reached the secondary stage now," said the first speaker. "I judge from something that happened just now over at the restaurant that the infant must have arrived at the conversational age."

"What happened?"

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Bird Allies.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 18.—The realization that certain species of birds have a decided economic value to the farmer has become so general that increased protection has been provided in all sections of the country. The usual method of increasing the bird population is by the establishment of bird reservations. Since 1903, 70 of these have been designated by the Federal Government, the first being Pelican Island, Florida, and the latest in the Mississippi and Columbia rivers.

The Bureau of Biological Survey is authority for the statement that birds save the American farmer at least $400,000,000 a year in damage to crops. Farmers' natural enemies are birds' natural food, and it has been found that most birds eat such a variety of bugs and worms, often in such enormous quantities, that in localities where bird life is varied, protection is assured against practically every sort of insect. A count was taken on one farm of 200 acres in a southern state which showed that birds were destroying a million green bugs a day. In some cases birds have even been known to rid an entire grove of trees, a garden plot, or a field from insect pests.

Researches of the Biological Survey show that the alfalfa weevil has 45 different bird enemies, the army worm 43, bill bugs 67, cotton boll weevils 66, potato beetles 25, horseflies 49, 17-year locusts 38, and the leaf-hoppers as high as 120. These are only a few of the insect pests which are known to have many enemies among the various birds.

The latest bird census of the United States shows that there are about two birds on the average to every acre. In the northeastern part of the country they are most numerous and here robins are found most abundantly, while English sparrows, song sparrows, chipping sparrows, meadow larks, and catbirds come next in number. As one goes west the bird population becomes more sparse until there are wide stretches where the average is only one bird or less to an acre. Efforts to encourage the propagation of birds, however, has met with such success that in some instances as many as 59 pairs have been attracted to a single refuge.

Bird Refuges.

In addition to the Federal bird reservations 30 have been set apart, principally along the Atlantic seaboard, by the National Association of Audubon Societies. In Florida alone there are now 20 bird reservations, 10 in Maine, nine in Alaska, eight in Louisiana, and seven in Washington. Five years ago bird refuges were created by executive order on the lands within the National Bison Range, Montana, Sully Hill Game Preserve, North Dakota, and the Elk Refuge, Wyoming. Two hundred acres of the Tompkins Memorial Tract has been set aside by the Yale Corporation as a native plant and wild life region.

In some states the cooperative bird preserve has been found particularly satisfactory. Under this plan the farmer agrees to the use of his land and promises to act as warden, while the state game commission, bird clubs, schools or Audubon societies undertake to post "no shooting" signs, to place houses and feeding stations and sometimes even to stock the refuge. In the State of Oregon all public parks and school grounds have been declared bird and game sanctuaries.

WITNESS LODGED IN BROOKE JAIL

Joseph Aduccichio was returned Thursday morning by Sheriff Robert M. Lowe of Brooke county from Jersey City, N. J., where he had been residing since the alleged blackhand gang of Follansbee was rounded up. Aduccichio was questioned on Thursday morning by Prosecuting Attorney James R. Wilkin and ordered held in the Brooke county jail as a material witness in the cases.

Aduccichio formerly resided in Follansbee but made his get-a-way before the cleanup was made of the gang in that city. He has since been in hiding in Jersey City, but was picked up on Friday of last week by police of that city who wired Sheriff Lowe who made the trip east returning with him Thursday morning.

POISON VICTIM CRITICALLY ILL

BRITISH TRADE OUTLOOK SAID TO BE BRIGHT

Leadership and Good Will Needed, Says Government.

BUSINESS GROWS

Capital is Increasing, Committee Reports in Review.

LONDON.—"It cannot be doubted that in British industry there lies latent a great power of energetic cooperation and response to changing conditions.

"But it needs the exercise of the highest qualities of imaginative leadership and of loyal goodwill to evoke and mobilize this reserve power and direct it to the common benefit.

These are the salient passages in the interim report the British government committee on trade and industry, presided over by Sir Arthur Balfour.

But throughout, the report refers to many cheering points in regard to British trade. It points out the marked growth in the size of businesses, the increase in the number of "joint stock" companies, and the widening distribution of working capital.

Analysis of Business.

There is an analysis of the holdings of capital in the five great banks and in 18 large manufacturing, trading, shipping and insurance concerns

The total capital of these concerns —$1,060,000,000—is distributed over 3,895,000 holdings, the average being only $1,360. Nearly 86 per cent of the capital in the 18 large undertakings are of $2,500 or less. In the four great railroad companies 56 per cent of the holdings do not exceed $2,500.

Recent industrial depression, according to the Committee, account for a reduction in national savings. In 1925 these were, in the year, $750,000,000 less than in 1913.

On the other side of the account, there is the great increase in all kinds of taxation. But while direct taxation and municipal assessments have risen about $1,655,000,000, about $1,500,000,000 in interest on internal debt is returned to members of approximately the same classes which pay income tax.

Savings Decrease.

The general conclusion is that it is the middle class which are saving less. There is no sign that wage-earners' investments have decreased. Post Office, and trustee savings bank deposits have steadily increased since the war.

Figures are given to rebut the talk about the growth of working class extravagance and self-indulgence. The total expenditure on amusements is not much over $250,000,000 a year; and, as against that, the consumption of alcoholic liquors in 1924 was 40 per cent less than in 1913. Membership of cooperative trading societies has more than doubled between 1914 and 1924.

In spite of long-continued trade depression the committee strikes an optimistic note in regard to the future "But," says the report, "there is pressing need to cultivate initiative and flexibility of temperament, lack of which will mean 'increasing rigidity and ossification.'"

France Claims Record Plane.

What is claimed to be the biggest hydroairplane in the world is being constructed in secret by the French government. It is a monoplane built on the thick-wing principle and adapted for all-metal aircraft and is powered with five air-cooled motors.

WELLSVILLE MURDER CASE GOES TO APPELLTAE COURT

NICK SCACCUTO FIGHTS KENNEY DEATH VERDICT

Jury's Findings Will be Argued on April 4.

ERROR CHARGED

Defendant Was Given Life Sentence by Lower Tribunal.

Appeal of Nick Scaccuto, of Wellsville, from the finding of a jury in common pleas court, convicting him of second degree murder in the slaying of Patrolman James Kenney last May will be heard by the district appellate court on Monday, April 4, in court room No. 1, at Lisbon.

Arguments will be conducted before Judges John Pollock, J. W. Roberts and L. T. Farr.

Scaccuto is now a prisoner in the state penitentiary, serving a life sentence.

His case was taken to the appeals court by his counsel, George T. Farrell and William B. Moore, of Lisbon, and James E. O'Grady, of Wellsville.

Prosecuting Attorney Robert M. Brookes and his assistant, John E. Bauknecht, will represent the state in the appeal proceedings.

The Scaccuto case will be one of 11 which will be argued before the judicial triumvirate.

Cook Funeral Tomorrow.

Funeral services for Samuel Cook, 76, who died yesterday morning at the home of a nephew, James E. Cook, Clark avenue, will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, in charge of Rev. L. E. Lee, pastor of the First Christian church. Burial will be made in New Alexandria.

PICK DELEGATES TO D. A. R. MEET

Will Attend 36th Annual Session in National Capital.

Delegates who will represent Bethia Southwick chapter, Daughters of America, at the thirty-sixth national congress of the organization, to be held from April 18 to 24 in Washington, D. C., were selected at a meeting of members last evening in the home of Mrs. Frank Magill, Riverside avenue.

The following were named: Chapter Regent Mrs. W. F. Lones, Miss Carrie Southwick, Mrs. William Ward, Mrs. E. F. Swift, of Wellsville; Mrs. G. W. Moore, Mrs. Mary Hanley, Mrs. Bruce Kirby and Mrs. William Wilson, of East Liverpool, and Miss Alice Brown, of Cleveland.

Devotionals were conducted by Mrs. William Wilson, followed by the salute to the flag and the song, "America."

During the business session, the wheel and distaff department, a fancy work organization, was formed with Mrs. J. E. Simpson as chairman.

Mrs. F. F. Davis, of East Liverpool, was named local chairman of the committee for the preservation of historic spots and Revolutionary soldiers' graves. Her position qualifies her for membership on the state committee. The chapter, in this connection, discussed plans for marking historical spots and soldiers' graves in Columbiana county.

Four new members were elected during the session, including Mrs. Virginia Welch and Mrs. F. A. Dean, of East Liverpool; Mrs. Ila F. Mohler, of Youngstown, and Miss Bessie Johnston, of Congo.

The following program was given at the close of the business meeting:

Reading, "Selling Eggs"—Miss Esther Frances Swift.
Paper, "Alexander and McGuffy"—Mrs. William Wilson. Mrs. Wilson read "Chatham, on the American War," and a poem, "Landing of the Pilgrim Fathers."
Reading, "The Scoffer," and "St. Patrick's Birthday," by Edgar Guest—Miss Marion Wolgamott.

Mrs. W. F. Lones read a list of recent gifts of Revolutionary relics to the national museum at Washington.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. William Wilson, the third week in April.

Mrs. Helen Cooper entertained members of the W. C. T. U. Tuesday evening at her home in Broadway.

Psalm—Mrs. Eva Briggle.
Paper, "New Book on Prohibition"—Mrs. Wilkinson.
Duet—Misses Ina and Esther Zachman.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Clyde McElroy and daughter, Janet, and Mrs. Mary S. McElroy, of Commerce street were Steubenville visitors yesterday.

Otto Kiddy, of near Hillcrest, is recovering from an operation which he underwent Wednesday in the East Liverpool city hospital.

Mrs. John A. Kelly, of Chester avenue, and daughters, Mary Loretta and Jackie, spent Thursday with Mrs. Paul Gessford in Midland, Pa.

SALINEVILLE

The Mary and Martha circle of the U. P. church, held their regular meeting in the dining room of the church, Wednesday evening. A chicken dinner was served to the following members, Mrs. Arthur Tolson, Mrs. Ida Schubert, Mrs. Myrtle Wilson, Miss Louise Smith, Miss Margaret Russel, Mary Russel. Miss Phyllis Carter, Miss Grace Hart, Mrs. Minnie Smith, Mrs. Ed Gould, Mrs. Laura Young, Mrs. Robert Barcus, Mrs. Alex Russel, Mrs. H. B. Haverfield, Mrs. Delia Bolton, and Mrs. Laura Summers, with the following guests: Mrs. S. A. Hart, and Miss Grace Gallagher. The program included a mock wedding, a style show, and a short minstrel.

During the business session, plans were made to hold a bake and food sale on Saturday, March 26, at Miss Louise Smith's store. During the social hour, dialect speeches were made by Mrs. Alex. Russel, Miss Margaret Russel, Miss Phyllis Carter, Miss Louise Smith and Miss Mary Russel.

The following persons from Salineville attended the pipe organ concert in the First Presbyterian church, Lisbon, Wednesday, given by Charles Eddy: Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Larkins, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Maple and daughter, Evelyn, and son Homer Lawrence, Mrs. Effie Potts, and daughter, Miss Dorothy, Mrs. Mary Loch, and son Clarence, Mrs. John Overbaugh, and Mrs. Latta Smith. Mr. and Mrs. William Eason, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Daley.

On Wednesday morning, the second talk of the series on "Good Citizenship" was delivered to the High school, at the Central building, by the Rev. A. M. Jenkins, pastor of the Church of Christ. His theme was "Interdependence of Citizens." Next Wednesday morning, Rev. W. S. Martin will be the speaker.

The East End building Parent-Teachers' association will meet on Monday night at 7:30 o'clock in the school building, Wells avenue.

An address by S. E. Daw, superintendent of schools, special music and a playlet by school children will be features of the program.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, March 18.—The vigorous forward movement in the industrial and specialty stocks was promptly resumed in early trading today. The weekly reserve bank reports showed a further broadening of the credit base of the country. Gold holdings of the system were reported at $3,023,741,000, the highest since 1924, and reserve ratios showed little or no effect of the big money market operations of the last few weeks.

Freeport Texas was the sensation of the low-priced specialties. Directors of the company increased the dividend from $2 to $4 a year after the close of yesterday's market, and made strong refutation of the reports of exhaustion of the sulphur deposits of the company. The stock jumped seven points to 54 in a heavy turnover, while Texas Guly Sulphur, a companion sulphur producer, sold at the year's high price of 60 1-2.

General Motors touched 180 in its steady forward march. The stock is up 96 points since the famous "Cochran statement" of last year, which forecasted a price of 100 points above that prevailing at the time. Baldwin and DuPont were strong. As a rule, however, stocks were freely offered at today's prices and the market was unable to continue its advance. Week-end profit taking held the move in railroad and specialty stocks. Call money 4 per cent.

North Carolina Peach Crop Suffering From Recent Heavy Snows

RALEIGH, N. C.—The Sandhill late peach crop will be slashed considerably on account of recent heavy snows in North Carolina, according to agricultural experts here.

The Elbertas, a late variety, are reported a total loss in the Sandhill section following North Carolina's record-smashing snow, which reached a depth of 30 inches.

This variety was reported an 80 per cent loss in some places. The early varieties are believed to have escaped serious injury.

Suicides, Murder Cases Hit Record Mark in London

LONDON.—Six-hundred Londoners ended their lives by suicide during 1926, an increase of 85, according to statistics issued by London coroners.

The same statistics show that 6,934 inquests were held in the capital during the year, an increase of 176. In 22 cases verdicts of wilful murder were returned, an increase of 7.

Sea grass gathered and prepared in Canada as a stuffing for mattresses in the last year was valued at nearly $30,000.

Pictures Chicagoan as Exploiter of Farmers.

FIERY SPEECH

Court Rules Missourian's Opening Address Was in Order.

FEDERAL BUILDING, DETROIT, March 18.—An amazing story of frenzied finance, by which Aaron Sapiro so-called "wheat king" exploited American farmers for his own profit, was told the jury today in the million-dollar Ford-Sapiro libel suit by Senator James A. Reed (D) of Missouri, while outlining Henry Ford's defense.

Defending the attacks on Sapiro, published by Ford's Dearborn Independent, Reed declared the wheat king had gone far and wide through the country organizing farmers and charging them tremendous fees for his services.

A fortune rolled into Sapiro's hands, Reed showed, by listing fees in nine states alone that totalled more than $300,000.

FEDERAL BUILDING, DETROIT, March 18.—Hurdling a series of legal obstacles, Senator James A. Reed (D) of Missouri, today pictured Aaron Sapiro, so-called "wheat king" to the Ford-Sapiro libel jury as an exploiter of American farmers and wrecker of farm associations.

This scathing attack on Sapiro came only after Federal Judge Fred S. Raymond ruled that Reed's opening speech to the jury was in order. Counsel for Sapiro vigorously protested and noted an exception to the ruling to be used as the basis for an appeal to higher courts if the verdict untimately goes to Ford.

After this technical victory, Reed declared that one after another of Sapiro's cooperatives failed, causing great losses to the farmer members. In each instance, Reed insisted, Sapiro first got his tremendous fees for having organized the association. The court's decision came when W. H. Gallagher, chief of Sapiro's attorneys, objected to Reed's attack on the handling of the Burley leaf tobacco association in Kentucky. Reed charged Sapiro got $48,500 out of this association and it's subsidiaries.

Sapiro's Attorney Objects.

"This association was under the influence of Mr. Sapiro," said Reed. "It will be shown that Mr. Sapiro was paid a fee of $100,000 for just organizing the association, and a further fee of $12,5000 for organizing the subsidiary warehouse association. It will further appear from the evidence that Judge Bingham and Ralph Barker (warehouse owner) tried to get him a $160,000 fee but they found there was some objection so they agreed on $36,000 and they put it over at the meeting of directors."

Gallagher objected to the words "put it over." He argued that Reed was stating an argument to the jury and not outlining what Ford expected to prove. The court upheld him. A moment later Reed attempted to read a statement attributed to a George C. Jewett of Spokane and Gallagher again objected. Again the court upheld him, Reed saying he would waive it.

Gallagher Reads Opinion.

Gallagher read to the court a lengthy opinion by the Michigan supreme court setting forth the limits of an opening statement. The opinion declared the reading of letters or speeches was out of order.

"The court has frequently called the attention of counsel that they must not state arguments to the jury," Judg Raymond said.

"The opening statement should state only the substance of what will be proved. I hoped to get counsel to agree to eliminate all other matters. Counsel for the plaintiff, however, opened the door in his statement for the defendant's counsel to violate the rule. In a spirit of fairness I think I'll let counsel proceed with the understanding that the rule will be borne in mind."

"I note an exception," said Gallagher.

In rapid order, Reed pictured Sapiro's activities among the tobacco growers in Kentucky, potato growers in Minnesota and Idaho, wool growers in the northwest, tomato, prune and citrus growers in California.

In Minnesota, said Reed, the cooperative failed "in less than a year," but Sapiro got a fee of $7,500. He had asked for $17,000, Reed added.

In Idaho, when the association failed, Reed said, Sapiro assigned his claim for fees to his law partner, who "sued the farmers and collected in the courts." In California, the tomato association "lived less than one year."

Reed also declared Sapiro forced the payment of huge salaries to the employes in the associations. In the California Prune Growers' association, Reed said, a $65 a month employe was paid $6,000 a year as soon as Sapiro took charge.

All these statements were interspersed with objections from Gallagher. The court frequently admonished the jury to disregard words or sentences in Reed's speech.

Judge Raymond finally told the jury that counsel was "trespassing on the usual functions of an opening statement." He warned the jury that Reed's statement should only be regarded as an announcement of what he would prove by witnesses.

Reed declared that when farmers were slow in joining the Sapiro associations, a "high pressure force" was sent to drive them into line. Again and again Gallagher objected.

DEATH ROLL

Joseph Zettle.

Joseph Zettle, 73 years old, of East End, died last night in the City hospital, after an illness of heart disease. He was employed by the Mining and Milling company. He is survived by one daughter in Germany.

Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning in the Sturgis funeral home, West Fifth street, in charge of Rev. F. G. Fowler, D. D., pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church. Burial will be in Riverview cemetery.

29 ABSENTEES AS OHIO HOUSE OPENS SESSION

During Call Demand is Made That Fines be Assessed.

MANY EXCUSED

Six Bills Passed Before Recess is Voted.

COLUMBUS, March 18.—Efforts to fine absent members enlivened today's session of the Ohio house of representatives. The senate recessed over the week-end late Thursday.

When the house reconvened shortly after 9 o'clock this morning, Rep. Frank H. Ward, Monroe county, Democratic floor leader, demanded a call of the house. Roll call disclosed that 29 of the 136 members of the house were absent, 111 being recorded present.

When Representative Martin Dodd, Toledo, Republican floor leader, moved that further proceedings under the call be dispensed with, Minority Floor Leader Ward demanded a roll call, which resulted in the defeat of the motion, by a vote of 44 to 67.

During the roll call, quite a numebr of the house members indicated their desire that the house proceed immediately to fine each absent member $10, as provided for by the Ohio constitution.

"Proper Reprimand" Urged.

After a number of absentees had been excused by the house because of "illness" and "important business," Representative Perry L. Green, Portage county, moved that the house excuse all absentees but that the speaker administer "proper reprimand." Green's motion was not acted pon.

Taking the house members to task for alleged failure to "get down to business," Ward urged the house to proceed to fine absentees.

The house, however, disposed of the situation by adopting a motion by Representative Dodd postponing further consideration of the matter urtil next Tuesday.

After passing six house bills, all of which will be messaged over to the senate, the house recessed over the week-end.

The house and senate will reconvene at 7:30 p. m., Monday.

Bills Passed by House.

Bills passed today by the house include:

By Representative C. E. Black, Adams county, requiring that, before a woman shall be eligible for a mother's pension, she must have legal residence in the county four years, if she moves from another state, or one year, if she moves from another county in Ohio.

By Representative T. R. Stevens, Dayton, providing for sale to the city of Dayton of the abandoned Mad river feeder canal.

By Representative C. J. Fitton, Butler county, decreeing that, when the owner of property seriously delays proceedings involving foreclosure of a mortgage, a receiver may be apopinted.

By Representative D. S. Ingalls, Cleveland, providing for construction and repair of bridges by county commissioners.

By Representative Harry Ball, Scioto county, providing for certification of probate court judgments to the common pleas and be placed on the term docket before becoming a lien on property.

By Representative F. A. Brown, Ross county, authorizing the governor to convey to the city of Chillicothe certain real property owend by the state in that city.

Narrows Resolution.

Representative J. H. Anderson, Belmont county, offered a resolution memorializing congress to provide for federal financial aid in the construction of a section of the Ohio river road in Belmont and Jefferson counties, the resolution was similar to one offered in the senate this week by Senator Harry Carpenter, Steubenville.

HORACE S. KERR HONOR GUEST AT LIONS' MEET

Ohio Organization Chief Speaks at Dinner.

District Convention Will be Held in Toledo.

Horace S. Kerr, Columbus attorney and president of the Ohio Lions, was the honor guest at a ladies' night dinner of the East Liverpool club in the banquet hall of the Y. M. C. A. last evening.

Kerr, who is making a swing through the eastern part of the state, came here from Warren. He was introduced by Attorney Harry Brokaw, president of the club, who, with his brother G. L. Brokaw, were his classmates at the University of Cincinnati law school.

He likened the model service club member to the player on the defeated football team, who never loses heart but is willing to go into the game again full of confidence that his team will win.

He also discussed the Clovernook farm, an institution for blind children near Cincinnati, founded by a sister of Helen Keller. The Braille mazazine which has been adopted by the Lions organization, is published by the inmates of this institution.

Kerr called attention to the district convention which will be held at Toledo, May 26 and 27, at which William A. Westfall, Mason City, Iowa, international president, will be the principal speaker. He also urged members of the club to observe Lent.

Two dance numbers were rendered by Miss Mae Joseph. A violin solo was given by Kenneth Martin, with Miss Gladys Larkins as accompanist. Music was rendered by a panatrope furnished by the Smith-Phillips Music company. Thirty-five members of the club and their wives attended the meeting.

Kerr went to Youngstown where he will be the guest of the Lions' club tonight.

FLOOD SWEEPS MICHIGAN TOWN

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., March 18.—Several streams swollen by melting snow and recent rains have isolated the village of Pickford, 25 miles south of here. Bridges today are five feet under water and are being threatened with destruction by floating ice.

Residents of the north side of Pickford today were unable to reach their business places and high school. Automobiles became stalled in water as they were driven across bridges. Horses working up to their shoulders in water were used in extricating the cars. Others are hopelessly mired in mud.

There is no indication that the flood is subsiding.

Blame Handshaking For Straining of President's Wrist

WASHINGTON, March 18.—An X-ray examination showed that President Coolidge strained a tendon in his right wrist, Dr. James F. Coupal, White House physician, declared today.

The picture also revealed the presence of a fluid and it is necessary to keep the wrist bandaged tightly to force down the swelling.

It is believed the president's wrist was strained as a result of excessive handshaking.

Colonel and Mrs. Herbert Roberts and Ensign Samuel Hepburn, of the Cleveland Salvation Army headquarters, will conduct services at the Salvation Army over Sunday.

HONEYMOON AS QUEEN'S GUEST

The marriage of Mrs. Edward Russell Thomas, above, widow of wealthy New York publisher, to Colonel L. G. Ament, former chief of investigation for the U. S. Veterans' bureau, has been announced. Colonel and Mrs. Ament are now honeymooning in Roumania as the guests of Queen Marie, with whom Colonel Ament became well acquainted while in charge of the Hoover relief work in that country shortly after the World war.

from Fifth to Sixth street, was laid over for two weeks.

Street Improvements Asked.

A petition from property holders in Crook alley from Fifth to Sixth street and Diamond alley from Market to Washington streets, asking for the improvement of the thoroughfares with reinforced concrete, was referred to the ordinance committee. Another petition seeking the improvement of Orchard Grove avenue west of Smithfield street was turned back when Service-Safety Director Moore stated that two petitions must be prepared, one for grading and another for surfacing.

The ordinance committee was instructed to prepare legislation granting permission to the Potters' Supply company to enlarge its ware house in First street. Attorney R. G. Thompson, who filed the request for a long term lease, said that the company employs from 100 to 140 workers and that additional factory space is needed to keep the plant in operation.

Spokesman for the Litten Motor Sales company requested the sewering of Tanyard run along West Eighth street near its filling station. The company offered to pay one-half the cost. Council will view the place before the next meeting when action will be taken on this request.

Dr. Joseph T. Williamson appeared in behalf of a movement for the widening and resurfacing of Vine street. He was advised to bring in a petition.

West Sixth Street Paving.

Farrall reported that the request for hospital treatment for city employes had been rejected by the hospital trustees. Council's committee, made up of Farrall, Kelly and Hughes, will meet with hospital officials to hear an explanation of the finances of the institution.

Another committee consisting of Hayes, Hughes and Goodballet will meet with Henry Goodwin to discuss the improvement of West Sixth street between Monroe street and the street car viaduct.

The ordinance committee was ordered to prepare an ordinance accepting an East End plat of ground for street purposes offered without cost by the Supplee Land company.

Councilman Kelly called council's attention to the need of a dog catcher to round up stray canines, which, he claimed, were ruining lawns, flower beds and gardens. The clerk was instructed to communicate with a Steubenville man experienced in this line of work.

A letter was read from J. T. Croxall, chairman of the board of health, explaining the board's stand in the food handlers' examinations for restaurant, bakery and candy shop workers. On motion of Kelly, the clerk was instructed to request representatives of the health board to attend the next meeting of council to discuss the ordinance.

Request of Howard Scott, city hall janitor, for an increase in salary was tabled without a dissenting vote. Scott's present salary is $120 per month.

"Scurrilous and opprobrious, indecent and libelous criticism of God, the Scriptures and the Christian religion," was the charge against him. If he was guilty, the punishment is deserved. You have no more right to hurt the religious feelings of others than you have to hurt their bodies.

The United States postoffice definitely forbids sending the "Decameron," by Boccaccio, through the mails. That is another wise decision which should not have been postponed so long. Mailing or selling that book should carry with it a sentence to prison.

WESTFIELD, N. J., will handle a mad dog scare by shooting all unmuzzled animals anywhere they may be found. That will hurt the feelings of those that love "man's best friend," the dog; but in Westfield three animals have died of rabies in a week, seven children have been bitten, and that, presumably, hurts the feelings of parents.

In Russia rabies spread by dogs among packs of wolves is spreading so rapidly that the Pasteur institute cannot treat one-half the patients. Within a year, it is said, 342,000 persons have developed hydrophobia.

Great Britain solves the problem by first wiping out hydrophobia at home; then allowing no dog to come in without thorough quarantine.

THIS world will be better off, a safer place for human beings and the animals will be happier when all life except human life shall have vanished, from the elephant in the jungle to the typhoid germs in drinking water.

If there were no crocodiles there would be no sleeping sickness. If there were no mosquitoes, there would be no yellow fever, no malaria. If there were no cats or dogs, many diseases would disappear. Children get them from the fur of "pets." If there were no rats or ground squirrels to feed fleas, no fleas to bite humans, there would be no bubonic-plague, and if there were no vermin spread by lack of human cleanliness, there would be no deadly typhus.

DR. A. A. BRILL, studying strange suicides and other queer actions of young people, says the trouble is "the mystery of adolescence." Dr. Brill, who is a disciple of Freud, says parents should help their children through the storms and stress of youth "with understanding and advice."

The trouble is that many parents have children that they don't in the least understand, and many children of the modern day have parents in whose understanding they have small confidence.

The trouble with American children is lack of discipline and a good example in early youth: not discipline with a beating one day and foolish indulgence the next, but the steady discipline of a regular life, regular duties and a consistent example.

Two More Names Listed as So-called Student Suicides

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 18.—The student suicide wave struck New Orleans today, when Harold P. Bergeret, 27, a student at Tulane university, arose from his bed and shot himself to death.

The student's body was found in a bathroom, a pistol gripped in his right hand and a bullet hole through his head.

E. J. Bergeret, brother of the student, said he believed the suicide was caused from a nervous breakdown, the result of overstudy.

GALESBURG, Ill., March 18.—The name of Earl Main, 17, Williamsfield High school junior, today was added by authorities to the list of student suicides.

Main, who was said to have been moody at times, was found shot to death, a .22 calibre rifle beside his body.

DR. COOK MAY FACE FEDERAL COURT IN OHIO

Cleveland District Attorney Will Press Old Indictment.

OIL DEAL COUNT

E. Liverpool Residents Alleged to Have Been Victimized.

CLEVELAND, Mar. 18—U. S. District Attorney A. E. Bernsteen today sent a telegram to the warden of the Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, federal prison, requesting that Dr. Frederick A. Cook be held for federal authorities here, on an indictment returned in 1923, charging Cook with using the mails to defraud.

Cook and twenty-three associates are charged with alleged mail frauds perpetrated in the sale of stocks in Cook's Petroleum Producers' association, to residents of East Liverpool.

At Fort Worth he was sentenced to serve 14 years and nine months in the federal penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth. He is now eligible for parole and official announcement of this was made yesterday at Fort Worth, though he was not immediately released.

Bernsteen plans to have Cook brought back here upon his release from the Kansas prison.

Oberlin's Cagers Defeat Toronto in Class B Tourney

COLISEUM, COLUMBUS, O., March 18.—Oberlin's rangy team romped in with the first victory in the Class B Ohio basketball tournament semi-finals here this afternoon when they allowed the Toronto team but two field goals and marked up a score of 25 while the eastern boys scored 12.

The Toronto team seemed overawed from the start, and did not score a field goal until the third quarter. Gaines, the giant Negro of the Lorain county team, scored six field goals and three fouls for a total of 15 points.

Rev. Bona Fleming Concludes Campaign Here Sunday Night

Rev. Bona Fleming, Ashland, Ky., evangelist will conclude a two weeks' evangelistic campaign at the Church of the Nazarene, Sunday evening. He will tell the story of his conversion Saturday night.

George Ward rendered a 15-minute piano program preceding last night's meeting. He and E. B. Marsh rendered a vocal duet, 'You Must Walk With Him Here If You Walk With Him There."

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our many friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy manifested during the recent bereavement of our dear husband and brother, J. Barney Bricelin. Especially do we thank Rev. Father Walsh and singers, the B. P. O. E. and those who so kindly donated their cars, floral and spiritual offerings.

HIGH SCHOOL TO BE CROWDED HERE IN FALL

TO EQUIP SEVEN

Additional Accommodation for Elementary Pupils Required.

Enrollment in the high school will pass the 1,000 mark when the schools reopen next September, Superintendent C. S. McVay told members of the board of education last evening.

The high school enrollment now is 784. Of this number approximately 140 will be lost by graduation. The incoming freshman class numbers 366, making a total of 1,010 which does not include those entering from the parochial schools or tuition pupils from outside the school district.

In order to make room for the increased enrollment, four more rooms must be equipped in the Central building. Three rooms are now being used in this building for high school purposes but next year seven rooms will be occupied.

Additional rooms for the elementary schools will be opened at the Sixth street, Washington and West End buildings. Two more rooms for seventh and eighth grade pupils must be furnished to relieve the congestion in the East End schools, McVay said.

The board selected Rev. B R. Johnson as the baccalaureate speaker. The service will be held in the high school auditorium on the afternoon of Sunday, May 29. The commencement speaker has not been chosen.

EAST END MAN IS FINED $25

James Davis, who resides in Railroad street near Ralston's Crossing, was fined $25 and costs by Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley today when he pleaded guilty to a charge of being drunk and disorderly.

He was arrested by Patrolman James Haley, while, it is alleged, he was demolishing furniture and dishes in his home.

Shanghai's Fall Looms

the Cantonese may take weeks.

The defection of three Sun Chuan-Fang generals from the cause of the northerns caused the severest reverse the An Kuo-Chun forces have suffered in some time. By virtue o fthese defections the nationalists were able, virtually without the loss of a man, to push on to within gun range of Chang-Chow, where they are threatening to cut the communications of the northern armies.

The Shantungites, sensing the treachery of the Sun generals on Thursday, evacuated the rail point, retreating toward Nanking.

The Nationalists this morning were within cannon range of Chang-Chow, an important strategic base where approximately 1,500 rebellious soldiers have been quartered since the retreat from Yishing.

Labor Terrorists Kill Two.

General Chang Tsung-Chang, commander of al the northern forces, today wired from Tsinan to Pi Shou-Chen, his field commander, that adequate reinforcements are being rushed to Nanking.

Nevertheless, the officials at Shanghai and Nanking are facing the greatest crisis of recent months, on account of the imminent collapse of the resistance to the Cantonese.

Labor terrorists in Shanghai today killed their twenty-ninth and thirtieth victims, both employes of the Tobacco Production corporation, an American company.

LONDON, March 18. — The victorious Cantonese armies have captured Ihsing, on the west side of lake Taihu, and are now pressing on toward Chang-Chow, according to a Central News dispatch today from Shanghai. The northern army under Chang-Tsung-Chang is reported to be in full retreat toward Chang-Chow and Wusih.

All telegraphic communication west of Nanking has been suspended.

BOSTON.—If there is any tendency to wildness upon the part of the modern youth it is nothing more than something that has been handed down from generation to generation, says Dr. Abraham Myerson, lecturer on neurology at Harvard university.

Dr. Myerson has made a close study of the ills of youth and is emphatic in his denial that the youth of today is to blame for any shortcomings. He places the major portion of the blame for such conditions upon the parent.

The research conducted by Dr. Myerson into the life of youth of today has been far-reaching. The adolescent of today will refuse to be bound, he finds. They will choose their own way in life and the only things that the patient should do is guide them into the proper channels not by bossing but by self explanatory methods. The youth of today who refuses to be bound is no different from the youth of our forefathers.

Dr. Myerson believes that parents are unwise to cling to the primitive, for by the time the adolescent stage has come their power over their children has gone. Children should not be compelled to read none but books such as "Pilgrim's Progress" while the parent sits by with a magazine containing stories of real interest to youth.

In commenting on the situation Dr. Myerson says: "In the long run the apple doesn't differ from the tree that bore it.

"Adults are strictly responsible for the doings of the youth of today, and not the adolescents themselves between prejudices and morals.

"The parent of today should not try to find out how nearly his child will resemble him but how the child's mind runs. With that knowledge the course in which to guide the youth into maturity will be comparatively free from the evils of the world, regardless of the age."

Baby on World Bicycle Trip.

With their two-year-old baby, Herr and Frau Adolf Herr of Germany are making a trp around the world. They are traveling by bicycle as far as possible, but recently in Austria they were compelled to haul baby, baggage and bicycle over the snow in a sled. They left Germany last July.

Many students are being sent from South Africa to this country for special study and preparation for undertaking government work.

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia to Overcome Trouble Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by that full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and bloat right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best ferm of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

To Those Who Have Indigestion

Druggist Makes This Offer.

Your Money Cheerfully Refunded if One Bottle of Dare's Mentha Pepsin Doesn't Do You More Good Than Anything You Ever Used.

During the past year thousands of sufferers from stomach distress have blessed the day they first heard of this grand medicine for poor disordered stomachs.

Not only will Dare's Mentha Pepsin, a pleasant tasting elixir, relieve these attacks but taken regularly will help to overcome the most obstinate cases when due to excesses or faulty elimination.

If your disordered digestion keeps you feeling miserable, start to improve it today—one bottle of Dare's Mentha Pepsin is guaranteed by all druggists to help you more than anything you ever tried or money back.

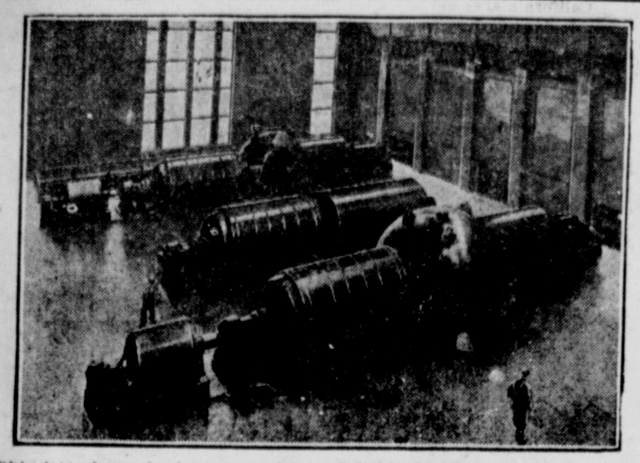
OHIO TO HAVE LARGEST ELECTRIC GENERATOR IN WORLD AT PHILO



Ohio is to have the largest electric generator in the world. When completed, it will be more than twice as powerful as any other electrical machine now in operation. This huge unit it to be located at the Philo plant of the Ohio Power company, and will have a capacity of 165,000 kilowatts, the equivalent of nearly a quarter of a million horsepower. The largest electric generator now in operation is of 80,000 kiowatts. The erection of this generator at Philo means the bringing to Ohio of a $17,000,000 industrial improvement and will result in the employment of hundreds of men for two years or more, besides the permanent employment of the additional operating staff required.

The new generator at Philo will use as much water in an hour as is used by the combined population of Bucyrus, East Liverpool, Tiffin, Fostoria, Newark, and Steubenville in a day.

Philo gets its coal supply within a radius of 25 miles, but distributes electric power over a system embracing more than 6,000 miles of transmission lines. Using the coal near the mines will save the transportation of over 125,000 cars of coal annually to distant points.

Suitable foundations must be found to carry the tremendously heavy machinery involved. The new 165,000 kilowatt generator with its condensers will weigh over 3,000,000 pounds, concentrated in an area of about fifty feet square.

This turbo-generator, which, with its housing and auxiliaries, costs $17,000,000, is half again as costly as the great Woolworth building. Its cost is approximately the same as the total cost of the great Whit Star liner, the Majestic, the largest ship in the world.

Some idea of its capacity may be gained from the fact that this one electrical generator, located in the centre of Ohio, will have a capacity greater than the present firm power available at Muscle Shoals. This one generator will develop more power than the total installed capacity of the great Keokuk Dam across the Mississippi river.

It will supply power to transmission lines reaching the states of Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia, Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee over the American Gas and Electric company's own lines, and through interconnections will be able to supply power to Milwaukee, Boston, Birmingham or Florida.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

All roads lead to Mecca—and the New York Giants. Since time began it has been the desire of the average ball player to wear the uniform of McGraw's men. It is but a natural result therefore, that the aggregation that has trekked in along the byways and highway should present an interesting array.

Of course Rogers Hornsby, because of his greatness as a batter, his feat in leading the Cardinals to their first pennant and then the manner of his coming to the Giants, is the star attraction.

But there is a measure of romance in the careers of most every other member of the team.

For instance there is Burleigh Grimes, great as a spitball pitcher and the hardest working pitcher in the game, a man who spent years of his baseball life in the service of the Dodgers. He finds himself in the baseball sanctum at the sunset of his career.

Roaming the outfield behind im at times is "Bevo" Le Bourveau, newcomer to the big time, whose very name has a romantic tingle to it—or at least the rythm of a college yell. He was the hardest hitter in the American association last season—and to date is the leading home run hitter of these Giants.

At short is Travis Jackson, young in years but claimant of a world's series record hundreds of veterans would envy. His meteoric rise to fame is readily recalled. Sent in to fill the yawning gap for the Giants in the heat of a pennant race when Davey Bancroft was injured, Jackson startled the world with his playing.

Alongside of him today is Freddy Lindstrom, at third, who jumped from Toledo to the Giants as a mere schoolboy of 17 and proceeded to emulate Jackson.

There is Al Tyson, pride of Louisville, who won a fairly regular berth in center field his first year up. And now the Gods of fate may leave him in possession of that berth.

There is George Harper, who wasn't considered good enough to carry an outfield post all season for the lowly Phile and who has been shunted about the big time before that.

And Jack Bentley, he of the sharp shooting lefthand and the deadly pinch hitting eye, who came up from the famous Baltimore Orioles as a pitcher, became the team's star pinch hitter, drifted away as a discard, and now comes back to be a southpaw pitcher once more with an uncertain mound staff.

HE COULD remember when the whole office had called him "the coming man." . . . What a difference now! He was barely getting along! His pep, his energy, all his old-time fight were gone. His prospects shattered! What had happened?

Constipation is the cause of much unhappiness and ill-health. It wrecks strength. It saps vitality. It sickens the mind and body! Yet, it can be relieved—yes, prevented! Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to bring safe relief—prompt prevention!

Why doctors recommend ALL-BRAN

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN absorbs moisture and carries it throughout the intestines—at the same time it gently distends them, purifying, removing wastes and poisons. In a part-bran product the quantity of bulk is usually too small to be effective. That is why doctors recommend ALL-BRAN—because it is 100% bran.

No need to risk habit-forming drugs!

How different is ALL-BRAN from drugs and pills—whose dose must be constantly increased to remain effective! ALL-BRAN is delicious with milk or cream—and add fruits or honey. Let it soak a few moments to bring out its full crisp flavor. Mix it with other cereals. In soups. Try the recipes on every package.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is sold with this definite guarantee: Eat it according to directions. If it does not relieve constipation safely, we will refund the purchase price.

Don't risk part-bran substitutes. Insist on genuine Kellogg's — the original ALL-BRAN. Sold by all grocers. Served at hotels, cafeterias. On diners. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

St. Partick's Day Musicale is Given As Church Benefit

A large crowd attended the St. Patrick's Day entertainment given last evening at the high school auditorium by the Catholic Daughters of America for the benefit of the St. Aloysius church.

The program opened with two numbers, "The Emerald Banner" and "Awake Ye Echoes of Spring," by the St. Aloysius girls' chorus, Florence McKenna being the accompanist. Voca solos were rendered by Mrs. Catherine Hickey Monasky, Miss Anna Whitney, Miss Martha Green, Joseph Birbeck, Mrs. Irene Kennedy Disch, Miss Phyllis Fitzgerald, John Coleman and Mrs. Anna Hamill Cronin. Accompanists were Mrs. Margaret Williams Miskall and Miss Joan Harrison.

Kress Cronin, Jr., gave a reading, "Tommy's First Smoke." A violin and piano duet was presented by Dolores and Regis Sullivan while another reading, "Putting Up the Stove," was given by George H. White. Miss Helen Russell offered a dance number, with Miss Harrison as her accompanist.

A violin selection, "Mother Machree," was rendered by John Bernard. The High School Girls' brass quartet, Misses Jean Langfitt, Alda Case, Marcella Miller and Hilda Manypenny, offered a group of popular airs. Their accompanist was Miss Helen Woessner.

The program was concluded with a group of songs by members of Troop No. 7, Boy Scouts or America. The troop was in charge of Scoutmaster John Coleman.

PIMPLES AND BLACK-HEADS ALL OVER FACE

Munden, Va., Aug. 5:—"Awhile ago I began to be troubled with enlarged pores and blackheads. Then pimples developed, and even boils. My skin was very sore and in a terrible condition. It was so disfigured and unsightly I was ashamed of it. I tried about everything to be had for pimples, but with no good results. I had heard Resinol Ointment and Soap so highly recommended for troubles like mine, I decided to try them. After one treatment there was a decided improvement, and the pimples began to fade away. I advise everybody with skin trouble to try Resinol." (Signed) Miss Hazel Beasley.

HAITI IS LAND OF PEACEFUL, HAPPY AND PROSPEROUS PEASANTS, SAYS AMERICAN HIGH COMMISSIONER IN HIS REPORT TO KELLOGG

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Haiti—the land of peaceful, happy and prosperous peasants.

The report contains nothing to indicate that the natives are downtrodden, as has been alleged by Senator King (D) Utah, and others. Moreover, references to charges that officials of the American occupation exercise undue influence over the Haitian government are studiously avoided.

An abundant coffee crop, the land's principal product and exceptionally high prices have brought prosperity to the people, the report asserts, adding that "the favorable year just closed has materially benefited the Haitian people, who are better fed, better clothed, and better housed than ever before."

Prospects for the present year, however, are not so bright, and this, the report declares, "is due to the poor coffee crop expected and the extremely low price for cotton." Moreover, the economic position has not only been improved sufficiently "to permit a high scale of wages for common labor, or, in fact, to utilize all the available labor."

President Borno, who recently barred Senator King from the island because of his criticisms, is commended by Russell who said Borno "has made the marked improvement of the last year possible."

"The reelection of President Borno," according to the commissioner, "was unquestionably a wise step on the part of the national assembly as his record for the past four years has been such as to merit the strongest commendation from all who had the interests of Haiti at heart. To abruptly change, or temporarily stop, the policy which he was pursuing, by the introduction of a new president unfamiliar with the many proolems of the Haitian state, would have materially slowed down, if not obstructed, that development and progress, so essential to the welfare of the Haitian people, which is now being successfully pursued."

Receipts for the year reached the unprecedented total of $9,072,929.62, including the customs revenues which increased 122.86 per cent. Of this sum, $1,384,836.90 was applied to reduction of the national debt; $2,156,349.78 to public works, and $536,516.55 was expended by the service technique, which supervises agricultural and industrial education. How the remaining $4,995,226.39 was disposed of is not revealed, although that is probably shown in the supplementary report of the financial adviser-general receiver, which has not been made public.

Only brief mention is made of the fact that the national government was forced to suspend local elections in certain places and appoint local governing bodies of its own, and of changes in stations of the marines for purposes not disclosed.

Russell's only major criticism is directed against the judiciary, virtually the only governmental institution not yet taken over by officials of the American occupation. The judiciary, he says, is notoriously inefficient and incompetent.

Given Judgment.

In the case of Mary Rump against J. H. Hinchliffe and Nora J. Hinchliffe, an action to recover $2,000 on a promissory note that has been pending since Dec. 27th last, the defendants were declared to be in default by the court for answer or demurrer. A jury trial was waived, and there was a trial to the court, which resulted in a judgment being handed down in favor of the plaintiff for $2,355 and costs.

Marriage Licenses.

A marriage license has been issued to Charles Osborn, and Gladys Carpenter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Carpenter, both of East Liverpool. They are to be married by the Rev. J. L. McQueen at East Liverpool.

SNOW FENCES BEING REMOVED

State Highway Superintendent Kiltner and a force of men are now engaged in the removal of all snow fences erected along main highways by that highway division last year. These portable fences are being returned to Lisbon and placed in storage, and will be erected again next November.

The fences proved of advantage, according to Kiltner, and many drifts were avoided during the last season at open spots on highways that in former years were clogging the roads.

Property Transfers.

Case Dismissed.

For failure to file a petition and for want of prosecution, the appeal case of W. G. Densmore against Morse Fredland, filed in common pleas Oct. 3rd, 1925 has been dismissed by Judge Lones.

Motion Overruled.

The motion to the answer to the cross petition has been overruled by Judge W. F. Lones in the case of H. C. Aldridge against O. H. Cusick and W. H. Cusick, a petition that has been pending since Dec. 12th last. The defendant has excepted, and no receiver will be appointed.

Colds can be ended in a day. They can be prevented by taking the right help at the start. Millions of people have proved that.

The way is HILL'S—a prescription which combines four modern discoveries. It is quick, efficient and complete. It stops the cold, checks the fever, opens the bowels and tones the entire system. It is such an ideal method that we paid $1,000,000 for it.

Colds rarely develop if HILL'S is on hand to check them at the start. They stop quickly when HILL'S is taken later. Find this out and you will never use a lesser help for colds.

To Domestic Science Teachers—

Who Want their Lessons to Result Successfully In Pupils' Homes

NO ONE knows better than the domestic science teacher that in preparing tempting food, the quality of the ingredients is of first importance. In making bread, rolls, pies and pastries of all kinds, success or failure depends largely upon the flour used.

From the 171 different varieties of wheat, only that grade is selected for Made-Rite Flour that will produce certain definite results in baking. This wheat, scientifically selected for milling, actually produces a flour that experts say is necessary to make the best angel cake, sponge cake, cookies, hot breads and pies.

It is an ideal flour for Domestic Science Teachers because it works equally well with scientific equipment or under the average home baking conditions. And having your lessons work at home is the real measure of your success!

Next time you order flour, try Made-Rite. Your grocer has it.

Accept This Practical Gift

Here is the Perfect Pastry Blender—given Free with each 48-lb. sack of Made-Rite Flour. Simply mail the postcard contained in each sack and the blender will be sent to you postpaid. The criss-crossed wires cut the shortening into the flour until it is perfectly blended—entirely free from solid masses or lumps. This handy utensil saves the tedious work of blending with knives or the hands—and produces flaky, tender pastry. A real time and trouble saver. Remember—this Blender is free with a sack of Made-Rite Flour. Get yours today!

VILLAGE MAYOR GETS $200 JOB

Bootleggers' Nemesis is Put on Salary Basis.

HAMILTON, Ohio, March 18.—Merris Y. Shuler, mayor of Seven Mile, near here, and known for his activities in prosecuting liquor and traffic law violators today began conducting his office on a salary of $200 a month.

The town council voted the mayor this salary after the U. S. supreme court decided it was unconstitutional for an inferior court to accept fees.

Under this arrangement the mayor will pay all collected fines into the village treasury instead of splitting them with his raiders, and so conform to the supreme court decision.

High Passers To Face County League Leaders Tomorrow

Elks to Use First String Cagers In Exhibition Battle

Captain Jim Hamilton and his schoolboy basketeers will take a fling at county league basketball tomorrow night on the high school court when they take on Coach Bill Powell's Elks club five, champions of the second half of the county loop season. The game has been arranged to aid the high school teams in the purchase of sweaters.

And the affair probably won't be such a walkaway as it might seem on first glance, despite the fact that the lodgemen will likely have their strongest lineup out for the occasion, with the exception of Nate Lippe, forward.

Lippe was injured in a recent contest and probably won't be able to play basketball for a week or so.

However, the Antlers will have Dave Shupe at a forward post, along with Tom Pusey, former schoolboy performer, Ray Wilde at center and McConville and Anderson at guards.

The guard selections will present a brother-against-brother combination, with "Franner" McConville, high school defense star, on one side and Charles "Chuck" McConville performing for the Antlers.

Guard Dick Larkins, one of the most efficient defense men turned out in high school ranks in recent years, should give the Elks, scorers something to worry about. "Elmo" English will jump center and Bill McKeever probably will handle the other forward job, along with Hamilton.

There are plenty of expert shots in these two aggregations and a battle of field goals should be the result.

A couple of Sunday school league teams will be assigned to work in the preliminary.

Robins Win One.

PAIR JUNIOR TOURNEY TEAMS

First three games of the Y. M. C. A. junior boys' basketball tournament will be staged on next Monday night, beginning at 8 o'clock, in the "Y" gym, it was announced today following the drawings for the first round of play.

Sixteen teams will compete for the junior championship of the district, including representatives from this city, Wellsville and Newell.

Silents vs. Roamers; Newell Juniors vs. Wellsville Hoot Mons; "Y" Juniors vs. All Stars; Dinosaurs vs. Roselawns; Bulgers vs. Celtics; West End Rinkeydinks vs. Buckeyes; Five Horsemen vs. Buccaneers; Hilltops vs. McKinley Rinkeydinks.

JUNIORS DEFEAT M. E. SCOUT FIVE

The "Y" Juniors defeated the M. E. Scouts last night on the M. E. floor by a score of 33 to 30.

The game was uninteresting until the last period of play when the Scouts almost overcome a 14 point lead.

The Juniors led, 4-3, at the quarter, and 12 to 3 at the half. They out scored the Scouts again in the third period which ended with the tally 21 to 11.

With three minutes to go and the count 27 to 13, the Scouts sent Wright to center and Altman to forward and proceeded to score nine points on tip-off plays. Wright with 15 points and Altman with 13 were high scorers for the Scouts, while Beatty, Morgan and Evans starred for the winners.

NEW YORK ICERS LOSE TITLE HOPE

NEW YORK, March 18.—The New York Americans have lost their chance to participate in the National Hockey league playoff as a result of their 2 to 1 defeat by the Montreal Maroons in Montreal last night.

With Bill Cook shooting both goals, the New York Rangers whitewashed Detroit, 2 to 0, at Windsor and increased their lead over Boston, runner-up in the American section of the league. The Bruins lost to Ottawa, 1 to 0.

INTERCLASS CAGERS PLAY

In the opening games of the interclass basketball tournament the Seniors floored the Juniors, 18 to 12, the Sophomores easily knocked off the Freshmen, 24-11, while the Sophomore girls emerged with a victory over the Freshmen lassies by the score of 14 to 10.

The contest between the Juniors and the Seniors was nip and tuck for the first three quarters. The teams were deadlocked at 5-all when the first period was over. They were still en even terms at the end of the first half, the score being 9 to 9. During the third period the teams continued to fight an even battle the score board showing a 12 to 12 score when the third period was finished. In the finale period the Seniors went out and won the battle, Irwin, Maley and McVey registering field goals.

The Sophomores were entirely too fast for the Freshies, the Sophs leading all the way. The Sophomores used two teams in downing the Freshies. They used Feit, Small, Dyke, Anderson and Menge for the first and third periods, and Small, Witherow, Blazer, Skidmore, and Greenwood in the second and last quarters.

All the Sophomores performed in a clever manner, while McConville, Cook, and Graff were the best performers for the Freshies.

The girls' fray was a hard fought battle, the Freshies leading their opponents by a score of 9 to 3 for the first three quarters. In the last period the Sophomores won the game, Huss, Allison and Cockrane tossing in field goals.

Antlers Negotiating For Midland Games

Manager Ray Adam of the Elks club basketball team, winners in the second half of the Columbiana county league season, today announced he will open negotiations immediately with the Midland Collegians for a series of games for the Tri-State championship as a result of the failure of negotiations with the Damascus county league team for the season's play-off.

The Elks, it was pointed out, have their team ready to play the title series, and would play the series with Damascus, but as a result of the refusal of the Quakers to go through with the series because of their eligibility protests, will claim the championship for the season.

The Quakers, it is understood are protesting Shupe and Lippe, and refuse to play if the Elks use both players at once. The Elks club acceded to their requests in the middle of the last half and played only one of the men in each game, but reserved the right to play both in the title series.

Manager Adam believes that his club did all that was possible in the interest of sportsmanship by playing one man in regular games, when both were eligible, but asserts he does not feel that any other club has the right to say what men the Elks will play and what men they won't play in the wind-up series.

A conference with the Midland management probably will be held sometime during the day.

Midland Trimmed By All-Star Quint

Midland Collegians, without the services of Benedict at center, lost to the Homestead All-Stars, a selection of the best players of the Homestead Carnegie Library league, last night at Midland, 24 to 12.

Benedict was injured in a recent game, but will be back in action within the next few days.

SALEM AT HIGH SCHOOL FINALS

COLISEUM, COLUMBUS, March 18.—With seventeen Ohio high school basketball teams primed for the two championship finals and the weatherman turning the sod of the Ohio State fairgrounds soggy with torrents, the first clash of the semi-finals was to begin here today at 12:30 p. m., Eastern Standard time, with Oberlin favorite over Toronto, and choice to come through victors in the class B finals.

Experts willing to talk believe that the class A finals will settle down to a battle between Salem and Stivers, Dayton, with Dover rated as a dangerous dark horse.

BRUINS NOSE OUT BALTIMORE, 29-24

CHICAGO, March 18.—The Chicago Bruins were forced to the limit last night to defeat the Baltimore Orioles in a professional basketball game here. The score was 29 to 24. Johnny Beckman led the Oriole attack with 11 points but his mates failed to support him in the pinches.

Cobb and Collins Must Produce or Warm Bench, Says Mack

Ty's Hitting Is Off; Eddie Fails To Show Old Speed At Second

By Davis J. Walsh.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 18.—Neither Ty Cobb nor Eddie Collins will start the season in regular positions with the Philadelphia Athletics unless they can prove they are better men than men now sitting on the bench, more or less by courtesy, Connie Mack intimated to the writer today. He made the inference by candidly admitting that to date "some of last year's team have looked better" than several of the human luxuries he acquired during the winter at hothouse prices.

Connie named no names but I was able to learn that one of the pick-me-ups who hasn't looked so good is Eddie Collins and that one of the hangovers who has startled the natives in Max Bishop. It is an excellent 3 to 1 bet that Bishop and not Collins will be the regular second baseman of the club before the campaign goes too far.

Hasn't Picked Lineup.

Collins, they say, can't cover a fraction of an inch around second base. Cobb hasn't been hitting. Neither has Dudley Branom, scion of wealth from Enid, Okla., via Kansas City, nor Joe Boley, the expensive young man from Baltimore. They still are on the line up but no one is guaranteeing how long, least of all Connie Mack.

"I haven't picked my club at all," he said today. "It is early to pass judgment and, therefore, I will content myself with saying that I had a good ball club last year and some of its members have looked better so far than several of the additions I made to the club during the winter.

"I paid a lot of money to build up the team this year but if my 1926 men prove to be better players, they will get the call, regardless of box office values. Fundamentally I am in the game to make money but in reality what I am trying to do is win the pennant. And, if I succeed the box office will take care of itself. All I want to say now is that I have reached no definite conclusions about the respective abilities of the men under me and that my lineup has not been picked in advance.'

Collins says that the leg injury which has threatened to send him into retirement has bothered him not at all this spring, yet Eddie simply can't seem to get around. Cobb has been troubled by a lame back, but, even so, his failure to hit is one of the abiding mysteries of the trip. He hit two yesterday, however, just before Wilson made him hit the air.

Top Heavy With Talent.

Both Cobb and Collins vow that they will be ready to start the season at top speed and then increase the pace.

The ball club is top heavy with talent and when you have too many good players around, you generally have too many problems. It is a club with two men for every position.

The second base duel seems to be all Bishop as against Collins. Mox, of Baltimore has been hitting and fielding like the greatest second baseman in the league.

At short stop, Chick Galloway, the Clinton, S. C., specimen, is said to have brought himself back to the speed he knew five years ago when some though him the best in baseball. Boley has done everything asked of him except to knock some ones cap off with an occasional base hit.

Sam Hale, Wheeler, Tex., and Jimmy Dykes, Upper Darby, Pa., both played last year at third base, so 1926 cannot go wrong here. Neither can Hale, they say. He is the regular third baseman at this writing although baseball men around the circuit think Dykes is the better bet.

Great Pitching Staff.

Al Simmons, of Milwaukee, will play centrefield all alone. In rightfield, Cobb's rival is Walter French, former West Point athlete and Walt, like Bishop and Galloway, is said to be going too well to be an acquiescent bench hand.

Happily, the catchers and pitchers are hangovers of standing. Gordon Cochrane, of Bridgewater, Mass., looks as good as he did in 1925, which was very superior, indeed. Ralph Perkins is another good one. They say Jimmy Fox is a third but James hasn't been able to prove it.

The pitchers are fool-proof. The regular staff will be Howard Ehmke, Sam Gray, Bob Grove, Joe Pate, Jack Quinn, Eddie Rommel, George Walberg and Charley Willis and I can't think of a better one. It is possible that either Ike Powers, Martinsburg, W. Va., or M. A. Hunter, up from Dallas, will be kept but no one regards this a dire necessity except Powers and Hunter.

Bill Shores, of Lawn, Texas, and Carroll Yorks, Philadelphia semi-pro, also are about but the matter will be attended to in due time.

Charley Bates, up from Martinsburg, is the fourth catcher in camp but the Athletics will carry only three. Frank Sigafoos, Reading, Pa., infielder also is one of the temporary guests, the other including Dave Barbee, Greensboro, N. C., Alex Metzler, Fresno, Calif., Max West, Dallas, Tex., and Frank Wilson, Sumter, Wash., outfielders all.

A large guest hotel is to be erected at Marysville, a mountain resort at Melbourne, Australia, will have its own hydro-electric plant.

BAPTISTS WIN FINAL CLASH

The Baptists defeated the Methodists, 74 to 37, last night in the final game of the Sunday school basketball league, and went into a tie with the losers for second place, each with four victories and two losses.

The Lutherans, winning seven straight for a perfect mark of 1.000, are undisputed league leaders, and will play the Methodist Protestant quint for the season's championship.

FIGHT FOR SHOT AT SAM'S CROWN

NEW YORK, March 18.—Sid Terris, East Side lightweight, meets Billy Wallace, of Cleveland, in a 10 round bout here tonight which may bring the winner a bout with the champion, Sammy Mandell.

Although Terris is favored to win because of his superior speed and boxing ability, Wallace is the hardest hitter in the lightweight division and has knocked out several good men including Kid Kaplan, the former featherweight champion.

Marquard Wants Job.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 18.—Rube Marquard, the famous southpaw who once burned up the National league while a member of the Giants, is dickering with Miller Huggins for a job on the Yankees. He is also negotiating with John McGraw of the Giants.

Sox in Exhibition.

SHREVEPORT, La., March 18.—The White Sox squad was pointing today for the exhibition game against Jake Atz's Texas leaguers at Fort Worth tomorrow. As a tuning up process the regulars and rookies played a practice tilt here yesterday and at the end of the five inning limit were deadlocked one and one.

VOL. XLVII. NO. 112. EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO, FRIDAY, MARCH 18, 1927. PAGE SEVENTEEN

BY CHARLES R STEWART

HAITIAN PRESIDENT'S SNUB OF KING SURPRISES CAPITAL

By Charles P. Stewart.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Senator William H. King of Utah, who was barred, as an undesirable alien, out of the brunet republic of Haiti, by President Louis Borno, a few days ago, doesn't class as a very radical member of the upper house of congress.

WM. H. KING

There are Democrats on whom the "old guard" Republicans count for help when they need it. King isn't that kind. He's in the "opposition," but only as a mild liberal. He isn't even faintly "pink," much less a "red."

IF Borno had barred some really turbulent senator, like Jim Reed or Borah or Shipstead, Washington might have seen some sense in it.

Yet Shipstead, about as unmanageable a solon as makes speeches on Capitol Hill, is on a West Indian tour, too. Haiti's said to be on his itinerary, and , from all the state department is able to find out, no objection's raised to him.

To strain at King and swallow Shipstead looks a good deal to Secretary Kellogg like gagging over a gnat and gulping a camel down whole.

The Utah senator has been extremely critical of the Washington government's policies in all parts of the world where the United States has dependencies or "spheres of influence."

He has accused the state department of setting up dummy native rulership in small countries where Americans have large intercsts—puppet administrations which wiggle as Washington pulls the strings.

In short, he says, we're traveling the path of imperialism, which he considers a mighty bad route to take.

Other senators have said the same thing, but where King probably penetrate l Borno's epidermis was in holding the latter's regime up to public inspection as about the worst of the state department's creations.

IT isn't in human nature for a president to like being referred to as a "puppet," and to be referred to as a blamed poor speciment even of a dummy, and a usurper and tryant to boot. was enough to get any dusky chief executive's goat.

King hasn't scrupled to describe Borno in substantially this way.

It didn't particularly hurt the feelings of the state department, which is used to being bawled out by opposition senators, but evidently it left Louis Borno dead sore.

IT'S safe to say that the Haitian government head's order against Senator King took Secretary Kellogg, as well as the senator, considerably aback.

Borno visited Washington about a year ago.

He didn't give the impression then of having so much spunk.

As a guest of manifestly African descent, he was received in the semi-southern capital, politely indeed, but somewhat at arms'-length.

He speaks little English, which made him appear awkward. Obviously he was ill at ease, clearly knew who his bosses were, and generally was sized up as rather meek.

Now he doesn't hestitate to warn a United States senator off his front steps as unceremoniously as Ellis Island turns a European count or countess back from the port of New York.

ONLY, are they Borno's front steps?

Washington may have something to say about that.

King's an "opposition" senator, to be sure, but Ethiopian presidential snubs to United States senators, regardless of politics, don't "take" very well on Pennsylvania Avenue.

Baby Rides Caught in Auto.

While playing in New street of Abbeyfeale, Ireland, little Michael Lane, son of a shoemaker, was picked up by a passing automobile. When the startled driver stopped the speeding car after it had gone some distance he found the boy dangling to a spring where his cothers had been caught. The child's only injury was a slight bruise on one leg.

Mrs. Kathleen Glover, of England recently caught a shark weighing 500 pounds of the coast of French Guinea.

Automobile accessories sent from this to other countries in the past year had a total value of more than $52,000,000.

COLORADO MAN IS ADVISER OF CHINESE CHIEF

Dudley E. Swinehart Becomes Soldier of Fortune.

MANCHURIAN AIDE

Sudden Departure for America Frustrates Death Plot.

STEAMBOAT SPRINGS, Colo.—Steamboat Springs boasts one citizen who has thrown off the yoke of commercialism, chosen romance as his guiding star, and risen to fame as a soldier of fortune—General Dudley E. Swinehart, who at the age of 34 is chief military adviser of Marshall Chang Tso-Lin, the great baron of Manchuria.

General Swinehart has been in this country conferring with officials in Washington on secret matters pertaining to the Chinese situation.

Friends here received word that a plot to behead the youthful general was frustrated by his sudden departure for America.

General Swinehart came to Colorado with his parents when only 5, and lived on a ranch in Steamboat Springs. When Dudley was 14, his father, then superintendent of a state fish hatchery, and prominent in state affairs, started out on a hunting trip and was never heard of again. It is thought he was lost in a severe snow storm that swept the region.

A chance soon came to go to Panama to work on the canal, then building, and Dudley took it. His brother, Charles Swinehart, was boss of a large construction gang in the Zone and was killed in an accident soon after young Dudley arrived.

After working on the Canal, the call of Central America took Dudley to Nicaragua, where, at almost any time, a promising young American can find fighting and romance. Swinehart found the former in abundance, taking part in an uprising.

After the revolution, Swinehart finished his technical education, graduating in civil engineering from Clemson college, in South Carolina.

Returning to Latin America, he had charge of a railroad construction job in Peru, where he worked for two years, when the World war broke out. At Camp Sherman, Swinehart was commissioned a lieutenant, and later served in China.

It was there that acquaintance with a college classmate brought him into contact with the great war lord of north China, Chang Tso-Lin. Favorably impressed with the young engineering officer; Chang made him chief engineer of a Manchurian railroad.

Swinehart has lived with the famed baron ever since and during the recent disturbances, has been advanced to the rank of general, serving as chief military adviser to the great leader.

Boy's Leg Mangled By Train.

CINCINNATI, March 18.—Physicians today were forced to amputate the right foot of Edward Gerhardt, 5, in an effort to save his life. The boy's leg was badly mangled by a train which struck him while he was playing on the railroad tracks.

With the establishment of many more American firms in Germany, Americans and American goods are becoming much better known there.

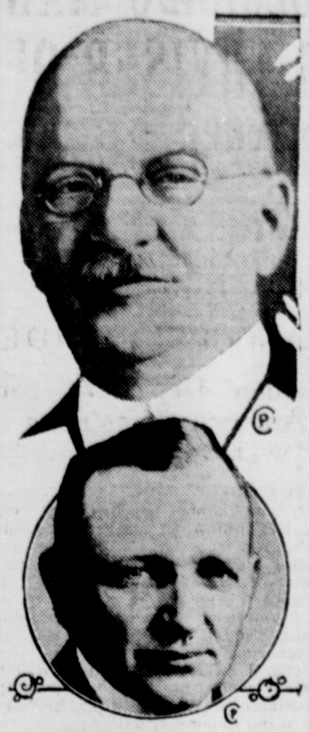
Sponsor Wet Bill



Howard Ferguson, top, photo, premier of the province of Ontario, and Attorney General Col. William H. Price, below, are the sponsors of the bill which will give Ontario government control of the liquor industry early in May. They expect that thirsty United States tourists will spend $30,000,000 annually in the province for liquor, and that the bill will sound the death knell to the bootlegger and poison alcohol. Under the terms of the new law all liquor must be purchased at a government store and cannot be consumed in public

Spanish onions eaten in England each week would fill 50,000 cases.

Rigo's Gypsy Ensemble Comes To Ceramic For Two Days

Rigo's Gypsy Ensemble, famous Victor Record makers, will be the stage feature at the Ceramic theatre today and tomorrow in conjunction with the F. B. O. hit, "Rose of the Tenements," starring Shirley Mason and John Harron.

Rigo's Gypsies are instrumentalists who have appeared in every theatre of importance in this country and Europe.

The influence of a woman on the life of the man she loves is the theme of "Rose of the Tenements."

Shirley as Rose plays the part of a girl who is in love with an impetuous, restless but thoroughly lovable boy who is eternally championing various causes. She weathers him through the storms with courage and loyalty and when the war breaks out and the chap turns Bolshevist, Rose is put to the supreme test of love and devotion.

However, with the boy's honor at stake she spares nothing in order to inspire him to the right way of thinking and guide him to enlist for his country. After some tense moments and a smashing climax everything is worked out satisfactorily and both find that their roads lead to the same goal of happiness.

The boy's part is played by Johnny Harron who inbues the role with sympathy and poignant realism. Others in the cast are excellent. Each part is an outstanding interpretation and the picture, made under the peerless direction of Phil Rosen, will be remembered as a gem of a character delineation.

Answers to Questions

By FREDERIC J HASKIN

Did you ever write a letter to Frederick J. Haskin? You can ask any question of fact and get the answer in a personal letter. Here is a great educational idea introduced into the lives of the most intelligent people in the world—American newspaper readers. It is a part of that best purpose of a newspaper—service. There is no charge except two cents in stamps for return postage. Address Frederic J. Haskin, Director, the East Liverpol Review-Tribune Information Bureau, Washington, D. C.

Q. What kind of front door has the White House? P. H. B.

A. The steps leading to the main entrance are stone. The main door is 5 ft. wide, 9 ft. 10 in. high and 2¼ in. thick, and is solid mahogany.

Q. Is the California violet the largest of the violet family? T. B. T.

Q. How large will the battleships Rodney and Nelson be? A. P. S.

A. British ships Rodney and Nelson when completed will be the largest battleships in the world. They will have a displacement of 35,000 tons, a speed of 23 knots, main battery of 9-16 inch guns with a maximum range of 30,000 yards. They are expected to be completed this year.

Q. Which of the Central American states is the largest? A. C.

A. Nicaragua has the largest area, 49,200 square miles. Gutamala has the largest population, 2,119,165.

Q. Do the two satellites of Mars move around that planet in the same direction, or does one move one way, and on the other? W. A. E.

A. The Naval Observatory says that both satellites of Mars move around that planet in the same direction; but the inner satellite completes one revolution in less time than Mars makes one rotation and therefore, seen from Mars, it appears to move in the opposite direction to the outer satellite.

Q. How many Morris Plan banks are there? G. C.

A. There are now 112.

Q. What was Louisa Muhlbach's real name? E. J. H.

A. Louisa Muhlbach was the pseudonym of Frau Klara Muller Mundt, who died in 1873.

Q. Are there floating islands? L. T. G.

A. There are many floating islands. These are sometimes formed by the detachment of portions of the bank, in which roots form a strong enough network to hold the earth together. Others are formed by accumulation of driftwood in tropical rivers and bays. Many lakes in Prussia, France, and England are noted for their floating islands.

Q. What is the pole vault record? R. W. N.

A. A new record was recently made by Sabin Carr of Yale. He cleared the bar in an indoor meet at 13 feet 9¼ inches. This is an inch better than the record of Charlie Hoff of Norway.

Q. What are supers paid at the Metropolitan Opera House? W. E. S.

A. The girl super is paid $1 a performance. Men receive $1.50 for regular performances, $1.50 for regular rehearsals, and $1 for special rehearsals held immediately before performances. Children supers with small dancing parts receive $1.50. Negro supers receive the highest compensation of all, being paid $2 for ordinary performances and $2.50 for such operas as "L'Africaine."

Q. Has Uncle Tom's Cabin been filmed? C. C. S.

A. Ten years or more ago "Uncle Tom's Cabin" was produced in the movies with Marguerite Clark playing the parts of both Eve and Topsy. We are informed that a new production of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" is being filmed at the present time in Hollywood, Calif.

The only complete suit of chain mail known to exist, was recently completed by a Nottingham, England, man, and it has 47,520 links.

How Many Live?

Father John's Medicine Gave This Boy Strength to Live in Spite of "Little Faith"

Mrs. I. R. Gisner, of Brightmoor, Mich, recently declared in a signed statement:

"I believe FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINE saved my boy's life. He is eight now and since he was two had persistent bronchial coughs. A friend advised me to try Father John's Medicine. I had little faith in any medicine then but now I tell everyone who has a bronchial cough to please try it. My boy has gained weight and the cough has left him completely."

FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINE, the great tonic food, puts strength into the system to resist the COUGHS, COLDS, and other ailments of childhood which so often end disastrously. Get it; give your child the same chance. No drugs or alcohol. Proven by over 70 years of health victories.

CHANGES SOUGHT IN GAME LAWS

Members of the Hancock County Fish and Game association which was recently organized here are interested in several bills now pending in the legislature making changes in the present game law.

Measure sponsored by Delegate O. O. Allison, of Hancock county, proposes among changes that a county game protector be employed for three months of each year. Provision is also made for the method of issuing licenses to hunters and fishermen.

SEEK LABEL ON CONVICT GOODS

Selling, shipping, or offering for sale or shipment, of any article manufactured, fabricated or processed in whole or in part, in the West Virginia penitentiary, or in any other prison or reformatory in the state, in which convict labor is employed, would be prohibited in a bill pending in the legislature unless labeled "convict made" and which will be considered at the present session of the legislature.

Provision calls for a penalty of a fine not less than $100 or more than $1,000, or to imprisonment for not more than one year or both if the measure is enacted.

To Improve Ball Field.

Work will shortly begin on improvements to the Homer Laughlin club ball diamond. It is planned to level up the outfield and have the entire playing field in perfect condition before the opening of the Industrial league season early in May.

STUDENTS WILL VISIT POTTERY

Collinwood School Group to Inspect Newell Plant.

Between 40 and 60 members of the Collinwood high school, Cleveland, will come to the East Liverpool district within the next two weeks or 10 days to inspect the No. 6 plant of the Homer Laughlin China company at Newell, as the result of arrangements which have been made by H. B. Barth, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

The trip was arranged at the request of Arnold Moore, tours manager, who will accompany the party.

The visitors will be entertained at luncheon, according to tentative plans. Arrangements for the affair are in charge of the chamber's entertainment committee made up of Harry Hoffman, W. O. Bloor, William Louthan, L. W. Smith, M. J. Newman and J. O. Anderson.

Nature Doesn't Punish Her Any Longer

Menstruation is Nature — but menstrual pain is NOT natural, and not necessary. Science has conquered the painful part. In a harmless—yes, healthful—little tablet called midol.

Midol is a more remarkable means of relieving such pain than even a habit forming drug. It acts directly on the organs affected by menstruation, and relief comes in five to seven minutes.

Don't have another day of forced quiet, of pain, low spirits or even discomfort! Midol is effective twelve hours or more. Yet it does not depress the heart, is not narcotic, and is utterly harmless. All druggists, 50 cents, in thin aluminum box that fits the smallest purse.

GOOD USED CARS

Only a few cereals come to you with all their original nourishment — often some of the valuable parts are milled away.

But the careful millers of Quick Mother's Oats realize the value of the natural whole grain. They remove none of the indispensable parts—and for the growth years, especially, this is of great importance.

The tender bran covering of the oat, vitamins, minerals, and a liberal contribution of tissue-building protein—these make a bowl of Quick Mother's Oats with milk one of the most nourishing and healthful breakfasts.

Give it to your growing children often. They will love its rich whole-grain flavor.

Two kinds—the kind you have always known or Quick (cooks in 2½ to 5 minutes). Both with coupons interchangeable with the Aunt Jemima coupons for which you receive so many lovely premiums: silverware, electrical conveniences, etc.

TURK ANSWERS DAMAGE SUIT

Carl Turk of Erie street, defendant in a $20,000 damage suit filed in common pleas court at Lisbon following an automobile accident in which Frank Spence was killed in the Lincoln highway, June 28, last, has filed an answer in which he denies all responsibility.

Turk, who is represented by Attorney George T. Farrell, Lisbon, claims that a steep grade and a sharp curve exist in the highway near the Spence place, where the accident occurred. Turk, driver of a Cadallac car, says that he saw Spence in the road and that when he applied the brakes on his car, the machine skidded off the road into the yard in front of the Spence house.

Temporary increases in wages and a shortening of working hours has averted a threatened strike in the famous Limburg coal region of the Netherlands.

Night Coughs

Stopped in 15 Minutes.

Almost always coughing is caused by an irritated and inflamed throat or bronchial tubes, which cough syrups and patent medicines do not touch. But a famous physician's prescription recently discovered called Thoxine goes direct to the cause, relieves the inflamed membranes and stops the cough almost instantly, one swallow does the work and the remarkable thing about it is that it contains no dope, chloroform or harmful drugs. Once used you will never be without it. Pleasant taste. Safe for children. 35c., 60c. and $1.00. At all druggists.

"HELL VALLEY" SCREEN WINNER

Francis McDonald, New Star, in Picture at American.

A dashing new mounted star is with us. Francis McDonald, in his first starring vehicle for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, "The Valley of Hell," easily earns the title. This romantic western drama, now the attraction at the American theatre, indeed offers something new and decidedly different in stories of the great out-of-doors.

The story, an original by Isidore Bernstein, who is also credited with the supervision of the production, treats of the adventures of a most likable young man who is called from college to check the depredations of a gang of outlaws near ranch property he has inherited.

Friendly Indians take the boy in hand and teach him all there is to know about "fanning" and other features of the gun-man's art. This all serves him in very good stead when a beautiful and innocent eastern miss arrives and is inveigled into the 'ni quitous den managed by Buck Peters, the invisible brains of the wildest element of the most lawless community.

The resultant conflicts between the lad and the bully, culminating in one of the most spirited chases and fights witnessed on the screen for some time, keep the spectator in a perfect fever of thrilled anticipation.

Edna Murphy, beautiful blonde miss, already famous for her work in serials, ably plays Eileen Faire, the eastern girl. William Steele, as Buck Peters, the heavy, as an ideal villain, and Joe Bennett as her worthless brother, enacted well a difficult role. Anita Garvin played the role of the jealous dance hall favorite of the boss.

Uncle Sam Reports $500,000,000 Surplus For Fiscal Year

WASHINGTON, March 18. — The government will close its books for the fiscal year on June 30 with a treasury surplus of more than $500,000,000, it was announced today by Secretary Andrew W. Mellon.

The enormous surplus is accounted for in part by heavy payment of income taxes on March 15, which are now estimated roughly at $580,000,000, or about $80,000,000 more than for the same period a year ago.

While the general expectation prevails that the new congress meeting in December will write a new tax reduction bill, Secretary Mellon declined today to predict that the surplus will be used to lower taxes, intimating it could just as well be applied to reducing the public debt.

More Australians visited this country in the past year than in any previous twelvemonth.

New Process Defies Moths.

A German has invented a process which is said to insure furs against damage by moths. To demonstrate he displays treated fur that had withstood the moths for a year, while an untreated fur that was kept next to it was almost eaten away. The process is secret, and is said to also be effective in protecting carpets and woolen clothing.

Scientific Stimulation Will Banish That Tired, Nervous Appearance.

Nothing detracts so much from the appearance of strength and success in a man as lack of plenty of firm, hard flesh on his bones. Thin, underweight men have no endurance, tire easily and have hard work to keep going—they are the ones who lose out in the race for success.

If you want the appearance and vitality of strong, successful, vigorous men, you should try a healthful and proven digestive stimulant. After the first few days you will note renewed energy, your food will taste better and you will experience an added snap and vigor. As you continue, you will find your weight increasing—in the place of worry lines and flabby muscles, there will be smooth, firm, solid flesh.

As you continue to get full nutriment out of your food as brought about by this scientific stimulant, the nerves become steadier and more controlled, the eyes brighter and there will be a determination and vigor in your actions that will surprise you as well as your friends. These facts may seem amazing to you, but results like these are happening every day to men all around you.

A remarkable stimulant-tonic has been devised for just such conditions. It is delightfully palatable and is prepared by an old Virginia concern in business for nearly a century. Druggists and physicians have come to know this stimulant as "Old Monticello Tonic." Get a bottle today from your druggist, take a small wineglass full before your next meal—see how much better you eat—feel the glow of stimulated functions throughout the body. A few days' treatment will bring a quick change in run-down conditions and overcome lack of energy.

The Biological Survey now suggests the establishment of community refuges along roadsides and railroad rights-of-ways, at public parkings, parks and picnic and fair grounds, on school and college campuses, in cemeteries, and around reservoirs. Golf courses are believed to be potential bird refuges, since they are largely protected from trespass, relatively free from the natural enemies of birds and well supplies with water and insect food.

The Survey has made a study of the particular birds which are of economic value and those which are destructive. It points out that among the most praiseworthy birds are the cuckoos. The most widely distributed species, the yellow-billed and black-billed cuckoos usually keep out of sight but are well known by their strange notes, which have earned them the name of "rain crows." These feed largely on caterpillars, and subsist to a larger extent than most of our birds on the hairy and spiny kinds. One stomach examined showed 250 tent caterpillars and another 217 fall web-worms. They are also fond of grasshoppers, sawfly larvae, plant bugs, and other injurious insects.

The woodpecker family which includes 24 species in the United States is for the most part highly beneficial. These birds are the chief defenders of trees against insect attack, most of them being specialized to feed upon wood-boring larvae, which pests are preyed upon by few other birds. From a third to two-thirds of the entire food of several species of the woodpecker consists of wood-boring insects.

Not Entirely Objectionable.

Jays, crows, and ravens have always been viewed as objectionable, and the Biological Survey says that on the whole it must be admitted that criticism of them is justified, although they perhaps do about as much good as harm. The damage done by blackbirds is attributed largely to overpopulation. What will perhaps surprise some is the statement that the sparrow family as a whole shows a good economic record.

It is explained that the much-disliked English sparrow is only one of a large family and that his habits are by no means characteristic of the native species. Sparrows, or finches, are essentially seed eaters, but they also consume a fair proportion of insects and in general should be regarded as beneficial. While certain species at times eat too many buds and others occasionally damage grain, these practices are exceptions which may be met by local control.

There is terrific daily warfare between the birds and the insects and there are instances of what might be termed mass attacks. For instance, what has been termed a classic instance of the concentration of bird attack upon an army of insect invaders occurred during the severe outbreaks of the Rocky Mountain locusts between 1865 and 1877. These pests were so numerous that many places visited by them were denuded of every green things. A thorough investigation was made of the relation of birds to the outbreak, and it was found that practically every species, from the largest birds of prey to the tiny humming birds, from ducks and other aquatic fowl to typical bird denizens of the dry plains, turned to feeding upon locusts. Most of the birds so gorged themselves with this plentiful supply of food that they were the means in numerous cases of saving crops from destruction.

The birds for the most part earn protection and the farmer who affords it is really doing as much for his own welfare as for that of his feathered allies.

Rheumatism can't be rubbed away

Are you one of those unfortunates who suffer with pains in your muscles and joints, making you miserable, less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep?

You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S. S. S? For more than 100 years it has been giving relief in thousands of cases, as testified to in unsolicited letters of gratitude.

"I suffered from rheumatism for a good many years. At times my joints would swell so, I couldn't walk. I tried most everything. Went to Hot Springs and finally I decided to try S. S. S. I took a course. In a short time the rheumatic pains entirely left me. I also had a breaking out on my hands for years that nothing would heal, but now this has disappeared, and I am sure that it was S. S. S. which removed the cause. I am now in perfect health, and want to add that I have tried all kinds of medicines but I think S. S. S. is the best." Carl C. Campbell, 115 West Main street, Johnson City, Tenn.

S. S. S. is purely vegetable. It is extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and herbs and gives to Nature what she needs in building you up so that your system throws off the cause.

MEN WITH PEP WIN BIG REWARDS

Life's battle isn't always to the strong, but the 100 per cent man has the better of it in every way. Weakness counts against anybody.

Men who have lost their pep, men who fail to get full enjoyment out of life, men whose nerves make themselves known—all these know they are handicapped. Many of them have found renewed vigor and strength through the use of World's Tonic—the wonderful medicine that has made so many friends in East Liverpool.

Builds Up at Once

Its upbuilding effect is noticeable almost from the first dose. It invigorates, cleanses the system, enriches the blood, steadies the nerves, aids the digestion—just the course required to bring back full strength and add that zest that makes life worth living.

Take it yourself. You will know its benefits only from actual experience. World's Tonic is sold at $1.00 a bottle by Carnahans, also Brannon, Wellsville, and the other good druggists.

"I was fearfully run down last summer, but because of my age (50) thought it only natural until I began taking World's Tonic. I recovered my pep and strength so quickly that I have recommended it to middle aged friends, who have learned its benefits for themselves.

TEETH IN RELATION TO HEALTH

TOOTHACHE

(Editor's note—The following is the seventh of a series of articles on various phases of dentistry prepared by a representative of the East Liverpool-Wellsville Dental society).

Just recently the writer of this article heard a minister, while delivering a funeral discourse, say that "physical suffering is one of great purifying agencies of the human soul, tending to fit it for the higher things of the future life." I wondered if that minister had ever experienced a real toothache. Most certainly a severe toothache is not particularly uplifting in its general effect on the individual.

It has been truthfully said that practically all physical pain is a direct result of disobeying one or more of nature's laws, and most certainly toothache is no exception to the above general statement. If toothache is avoidable,—and it most certainly IS avoidable,—someone may consistenly inquire how this can be done. All sensation contained in any tooth is there because of the nerve inside of that tooth. This nerve enters the tooth at the extreme root-end, extending the entire length of the root and into the central part of the crown portion where it fills the entire pulp, or nerve, chamber. Now, because of lack of cleansing care of any or all of the teeth, food debris, mucilaginous plaques, etc., are allowed to collect and remain on some part of the tooth surface until fermentation occurs, producing the familiar tooth decay, or cavity.

When once started, this destructive process continues,—unless arrested by some mechanical means,—until the bacteria contained in this cavity penetrates the tooth structure ahead of the actual decay, eventually reaching the nerve therein, causing an irritation, because all forms of destructive bacteria are detrimental to all forms of animal life.

Whenever or wherever an irritation to any part of the human body occurs, nature immediately responds by sending an over-supply of blood to the affected area, thereby producing an abnormal pressure on the nerve, or nerves, supplying that particular part, hence the pain.

The nerve of a tooth being encased in the hard unyielding outer layer of tooth structure, being thus irritated by the bacteria contained in the tooth cavity, and nature thus trying to remedy this irritation by sending an unusual supply of blood to this particular area, therefore increasing the pressure on these delicate nerve fibres many times more than normal, is it any wonder that Andy Gump has been almost crazy with a severe toothache for several days?

Toothache has been one of the most prevalent pain producers since time immemorial. The earliest records of history gives many accounts of folks suffering from this dreadful malady, attributing it to evil spirits, to little worms getting into the teeth. Thus all sorts of superstition prevailed, with all sorts of remedies resorted to. I well remember, when a boy on the farm, a neighbor woman had a magic oil which she claimed to be a sure cure for toothache, called "creoset." Of course, at that time most people knew next to nothing about the teeth because the text-books used in the public schools said nothing about the oral cavity or anything contained therein, and what a sad commentary it is when it must be said that very little improvement in that line can yet be noted. Well, this magic "creoset," I presume, was only modern beechwood creosote, which is very destructive to live tissue whenever placed in direct contact therewith. Of course that would kill the nerve or the obstreperous tooth, thereby preventing all pain until an abscess would form at the end of the root, then more pain and toothache until said abscess would become acute enough to burrow a passage-way through the process and gum tissue producing the familiar "gum boil," with all the evils connected therewith, but allowing some of the pus to escape, thereby reducing the internal pressure, but having no curative effect on the toothache.

It is a well-known fact that the higher the form of life the more susceptible to pain, or possibly the less resistance to pain. That fact can readily be explained because of our methods of living, diet, etc., producing a more acid condition of the system than of those who live on a coarser diet. It is generally conceded that if a correct balance between an acid and an alkaline condition of the system be maintained there would be very little need of either dentists or physicians.

A few years ago the usual method of curing toothache — aside from extraction—was the destruction and removal of the nerve (devitalization) and then filling the pulp canal as best we could with various substances. Dentists thought, as well as colleges taught, that they were practicing healthful and serviceable dentistry, but in the light of modern science, such practices are not tolerated in present-day dentistry. The only sensible method of treating toothache is the method of toothache prevention, i. e., do your best to keep all tooth surfaces as clean as possible by mechanical means, eat plenty of fruits and vegetables, and then whenever a cavity appears—however small—have it filled immediately with some suitable material. That is the way God intended we should do when He gave them to us.

Paris Deserts Negro Dances.

Parisians are turning from negro to creole dances. They declare they are tired of the Charleston, Black Bottom and similar steps. A new dance that is proving popular is called the "Biguine," and it is said to be of creole origin. Dance professors are featuring it.

AFTER 6 YEARS PIPE FITTER'S WORK IS STEADY

Redwood's Tepee Tonic Improved His Health and Made "Lay-Offs" Unnecessary. Many Other Tradesmen Praise It.

"After six years of suffering I am now a well man and am pleased to state that Redwood's Tepee Tonic restored my health,' says Carl Goodence, pipe fitter, 140 W. Eighteenth St., Erie, Penna.

Redwood.

"My trouble was nervous indigestion and I felt like something was growing in the pit of my stomach. I had attacks of dizziness and headaches and was so weak that I couldn't work at my trade.

"I sought relief through many medicines without success. At last, I tried Redwood's Tepee Tonic and found it a splendid health builder. My stomach doesn't trouble me any more and I have a good appetite. My nerves are sound and I am now able to work at my trade again."

Tepee Herb Tonic is sold and recommended by Carnahan's Drug Store, and by well stocked drug stores everywhere.

Denial of Reports Of Cash Settlement In Count Salm Case

PARIS, March 18.—Countess Salm, the former Millicent Rogers, today flatly denied any knowledge of a reported settlement out of court of her martial differences with her husband, Count Salm.

"I know absolutely nothing about it," she said. "I am not arranging any settlement."

Reports of the settlement placed the amount the count was to receive from his wife's millionaire father, Colonel H. H. Rogers, at from $300,000 to $500,000. In denying that any money settlement had been arranged the countess said:

"I believe the question of the custody today of our child has been settled satisfactorily by the attorneys, I wouldn't like to say just now what the arrangement is."

Railway running time between Paris and Athens has just been reduced two and one-half hours.

Don't Risk Pneumonia By Neglecting a Cold

A cough or cold may only make you feel miserable today. But when you begin to feel "achy" and feverish, with a tightness in your chest, congestion is reaching your bronchial tubes—and these tubes lead directly into your lungs!

Hospital-Proved Medicine — not just a "cough syrup"! This medication pentrates through and through the irritated membranes—and is then absorbed into the blood itself. That is how its healing powers are carried to every part of your system.

If you are catching cold; if you have a "head cold"; if your chest is tight; if you have a cough—even if bronchitis has developed—Ayer's Cherry Pectoral at once! It has relieved more coughs and colds than any other medicine in the world.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is used by hospital clinics and leading physicians. Pleasant, safe and effective for children and grown people. At all druggists. Save 20c by getting the dollar bottle, containing twice as much as the 60c trial size.
